The legal title of the Corporation is

"The Massachusetts General Hospital"

All gifts and bequests, if without restriction, will be used as the Trustees deem most for the interest of the Corporation and its Beneficiaries.

The Hospital is greatly in need of additional funds. It will gratefully receive subscriptions for any amount.

Owing to the very general increase in the cost of running the Hospital, the subscribers to the Free Bed Fund are most urgently requested to increase their subscriptions to the Fund whenever possible.

ONE HUNDRED AND ELEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES

FOR THE YEAR 1924

THE Trustees present their report for the year ending December 31, 1924.

The conspicuous event in the history of the Hospital during the past year has been the bequest of Mrs. Mary Rich Richardson (Mrs. Thomas O. Richardson) of $1,000,000 to "The Massachusetts General Hospital for the establishment and needs of a branch of the Hospital for persons of limited means, yet able to make some payment, where they will receive adequate medical and surgical treatment. The bequest is to be reserved and held as a memorial of my father and mother." This is the largest single gift ever received by the Hospital in the more than a century of its existence.

The Trustees will accept this gift with the greatest gratitude, and deep appreciation of the generosity and public spirit of the benefactor. It will enable us to carry out a long cherished plan the fulfilment of which will, in the opinion of the Trustees, be the greatest possible boon to those of moderate means in the community in their search for better health, and better care in time of sickness.

For many years we have emphasized in our report, and in the reports of the Director, the great benefit that the community would receive from a hospital where persons of moderate means, willing and able to pay moderate amounts for professional service and maintenance during illness, could be received without feeling that they were the recipients of charity.

It is difficult for the Trustees adequately to describe the benefit that this wonderful gift will be to the public.

The outstanding building achievement of the year has been the fireproofing of the east wing of the Bulfinch Building, and the construction of a large ell in the rear of this wing for new ward service rooms and for the laboratories for medical and scientific research. The close of 1924 finds this building not quite completed, but it will be ready for patients early in 1925.

This important addition to the Hospital was initiated and made possible by the receipt by the Trustees of an offer from the General Education Board of the Rockefeller Foundation, through Harvard University, to contribute a sum not to exceed $100,000, if the Trustees would agree to raise an additional $200,000 for these purposes. Upon receipt of this generous offer, which coincided so perfectly with the desires of the Trustees, they called together a number of the prominent citizens of Metropolitan Boston, both ladies and business men, and with their assistance made an organized appeal for the $200,000 necessary to secure the fulfilment of the project. The result of this request was a prompt subscription by the public of $226,650.

The Trustees feel that this prompt and liberal answer to their request shows the place which the Massachusetts General Hospital holds in the affections and regard of the public. It helps to consecrate anew to its high purposes all connected with the Institution.

The Hospital did not decrease the number of its patients, nor materially lessen its service to the community because of the temporary lack, during reconstruction, of the east wing of the Bulfinch Building, which normally cares for eighty-two patients. It was possible to accomplish this by placing beds in tents, and in certain high basements of the Hospital. Although these conditions were far from ideal, we believe that no patient suffered because of them. It was infinitely better that the Hospital should make this temporary provision rather than close nearly all of its medical beds, which would have been the alternative.

The laundry of the Hospital has been rearranged. Modern machinery has been installed, with the result of largely increased efficiency and economy.

An important event of the year has been the passing of the necessary legislation for a station of the Boston Elevated Railway at the corner of Charles and Cambridge Streets. This act has been accepted by the Trustees of the Boston Elevated, and we expect that the station will be erected in 1925. Last year's report gave figures which showed the surprisingly large number of people who passed through our gates daily, and the erection of this station on the Cambridge subway will make the Hospital much more accessible to the public.

The widening of Cambridge Street to one hundred feet will bring within two blocks of the front door of the Hospital one of the great avenues of entrance to the City of Boston. In the process of widening, it has been necessary to alter a landmark of Boston's West End, owned by the Hospital, known as the "Parkman Market House." This building at the corner of Cambridge and North Grove Streets, with its unique bell tower, has stood for more than a century. Originally it was a market house with a hall on the second floor where young people of a century ago received dancing lessons. For a number of years, from about 1850 to 1860, it was used as a Catholic church, one of the earliest in this section of the city. A part of the second floor was cut away and the rest used as a balcony, while it served as a church. Of late years it has belonged to the Hospital, and now houses shops and storerooms. Forty feet of this building have been cut away and a new front erected.

The Ether Day address on the seventy-eighth anniversary of the first use of ether at the Massachusetts General Hospital was given by Dr. Hans Zinsser, Professor of Bacteriology and Immunology at the Harvard Medical School, and the Trustees are much indebted to Dr. Zinsser for his useful and interesting paper.

The Trustees have reluctantly accepted the resignation of Dr. Franklin G. Balch, Chief of the East Surgical Service, and Chairman of the General Executive Committee. Dr. Balch has served the Hospital as house pupil in 1890, and on its staff since 1896. He has been made a member of the Board of Consultation in appreciation of his great service to the Hospital.

The Trustees are heartily appreciative of the assistance rendered by the Directors of the North End Diet Kitchen.

The money contributed by them has established a Diet Clinic in our Out-Patient Department, which serves a most useful end. Instruction is given to many patients in the classes of Diabetes, Nephritis, and Obesity. It is felt that this combination of one of the smaller charities with a larger one will be fruitful, and of greater benefit to the community than when each functioned alone.

The year at the McLean Hospital has been a quiet one, but one of satisfactory accomplishment.

The new Nurses' Home was completed early in the year and was opened on May 16th, and is filling most satisfactorily a long felt need. The Trustees feel that the Training School for Nurses at the McLean is now in a much more satisfactory condition than it has been for some years, and the better housing conditions for the nurses have made it possible to secure students of a high calibre, and their parents may now feel that the conditions under which the nurses live are in every way suitable and adequate. A Ladies' Committee on the Training School at McLean has been formed, which the Trustees feel will be of great value to the Training School and its work.

The new quarters for the nurses made possible the taking over of the upper floor of Codman House, where nurses were formerly housed, and reconstructing that floor for the use of patients, which will be a material addition to the accommodations of the Hospital.

The Trustees always feel obliged to point out to the generous benefactors of the Hospital major needs of the Institution, as it is only through their gifts and legacies that the Hospital can continue its service of usefulness. They therefore would again emphasize the major needs of the General Hospital:

First. — A considerable increase in endowment.

Second. — A new ward building for certain medical and surgical departments, which the Hospital either does not now have, or which are inadequately provided with beds.

Third. — An increased endowment for the Hospital for people of moderate means.

Fourth. — A connecting building between the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and the Out-Patient Department of the Hospital.

Fifth. — Quarters for the orderlies and other male attendants.

Sixth. — A country branch.

Seventh. — A fund, the income of which may be used for research in the science of medicine.

WILLIAM ENDICOTT,
THOMAS B. GANNETT,
Committee.

EXAMINATION OF ACCOUNTS

1 Federal Street, Boston,
February 11, 1925.

To the Committee on Accounts, Massachusetts General Hospital,
Boston, Massachusetts.

Sirs: — In accordance with your instructions, we have made an examination of the books and records of the Massachusetts General Hospital, comprising the records of the General Hospital, the McLean Hospital, and the Treasurer, for the year ending December 31, 1924, for the purpose of verifying the cash transactions for that period and of reporting upon the financial condition of the hospital at December 31, 1924.

WE HEREBY CERTIFY:

1. That all funds shown to have been received have been accounted for, and that we have found vouchers or other satisfactory evidence of payment for all disbursements.
2. That the balance of cash on December 31, 1924, as shown by the books of the Hospitals and the Treasurer, amounting to $56,140.49, was on hand at that date.
3. That securities (par value $1,044,370) carried at a book value of $992,674.62, and annuities receivable, consisting of three policies amounting to $160,000, as shown by the books of the Treasurer, were certified by the New England Trust Company as being in its possession as at December 31, 1924.
4. That a mortgage note receivable, amounting to $500,000, was certified by the New England Trust Company as being in its possession at December 31, 1924.

Respectfully submitted,

Patterson, Teele & Dennis,
Accountants and Auditors.

REPORT OF THE LADIES' VISITING COMMITTEE

The Ladies' Visiting Committee believe they have enlarged the scope of their work in several ways during the past year.

This committee has cooperated more closely with the Social Service Department and the Occupational Therapy Committee, and with other activities of the Hospital. Miss Reed, librarian of the Warren Library, has been helpful in reporting needy cases which have come to her notice when distributing books throughout the wards. The committee has supplied this year in larger numbers games, playing cards, victrolas, gramophones, and records; also woolen and knitted articles, and during the summer months, boxes of flowers. They have also added books to the Warren Library, especially Italian books, and books in other foreign languages. The Christmas celebration was on a larger scale then heretofore. Twenty trees were provided, with gifts for each patient and for employees of the Hospital. They have also cooperated with the Training School Committee in their teas for nurses.

This committee has again contributed $500 toward the salary of a worker in the Social Service Department, and a member has continued to pay the salary of another worker. Last spring about $60,000 was raised by the committee toward the amount needed for renovating the Bulfinch Building, and for necessary changes in the Hospital.

Charlotte S. Sprague,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL

THE ladies of the Advisory Committee on the General Hospital Training School have carried on their work this year, as usual, with constant visits to the wards, lunching with the nurses, and meeting every month with the Superintendent of Nurses, Miss Johnson, in order to co-operate with her and assist with her various duties.

They have also met three times during the year with the larger Advisory Committee of trustees and physicians. At these meetings reports of the Training School have been given, and helpful discussions have followed.

One of the interesting contacts which the ladies of the committee have with the nurses is the teas which are held each Thursday, from October to May inclusive. The attendance at these teas often numbers as high as seventy.

During the year the affiliations have been somewhat modified. All nurses now receive their obstetrical training at the Boston Lying-in Hospital.

A development of the year has been the sending of students to the Psychopathic Hospital for clinics. It is hoped that we may do still more in the field of mental nursing. Other hospitals are including mental nursing in their curricula, and it is important that we should not fall behind in the training we offer.

It is extremely interesting to note that the Alumnæ Association of the Training School has transferred to the trustees the sum of $21,588.91, as an Endowment Fund for the Training School. This is the result of constant, devoted work through a number of years, and eloquently testifies their devotion to, and affection for, this school.

Each year brings new visions of work and new needs. This year we ardently wish for a physical-social director. Rather a large name, perhaps, for a very valuable, helpful, human person to look after the nurses, to advise them, to help, comfort, and to direct them in their off duty hours. We have under the hospital roof a large body of very young women, women who entered training much younger than those of former years, young women who have need of help, suggestions, and kindly oversight in adjusting themselves to the necessary rules and regulations of hospital life. Perhaps some good friend of the nurses will help us to carry out this vision!

ELLEN T. VAUGHAN,
Secretary of the Ladies' Committee on the Training School.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE GENERAL HOSPITAL

To the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital:

Gentlemen: — I herewith submit my Seventeenth Annual Report.

The principal event at the Hospital has been the reconstruction of the East Wing of the Bulfinch Building and the new ell in the rear. Work was begun March 1st, 1924, and the end of the year finds it not quite completed. Another two months should see the patients back and some of the new laboratories opened. Appended to this report are floor plans of these alterations and the new construction.

This work will mean much to the General Hospital. It makes the wards and rooms in this wing of fireproof construction. It gives us modern service rooms for the medical wards in place of the old congested and most inadequate rooms which we had before. It gives us examining and isolation rooms in connection with the wards on each of the second and third floors. It gives us examining room, house officers' and students' laboratories on each ward floor. It gives us an elevator whereby the patients' beds may be carried down and rolled out on a terrace in the attractive hospital yard. This elevator also can carry beds to the fourth floor where they may be rolled into the dome amphitheatre and make it possible to again use for teaching purposes, this historic room where ether was first given for full surgical anesthesia. It seems to us that no student should be permitted to graduate from the Harvard Medical School without association with this room and a knowledge of its history.

The first floor has a research ward of ten beds, the necessary service rooms for this ward, office and examining room for the physician in charge, and two large laboratories. There are offices for the Chief of Medical Services and the Medical Staff, and examination and waiting rooms for their private patients.

The basement has been made light and useful by means of outside areas and excavations. In it are laboratories for a number of purposes, the office of the Chief of the Cardiac Clinic, metabolism examining rooms and a rest room for women employees.

The fourth floor is entirely for laboratories. Here are to be the chemist, the research surgical service, the bacteriologist and men working on various pieces of research.

In pent house on the roof are located an animal house and the refrigerating plant.

Effort has been made to retain the historical appearance of the Bulfinch Building and it is felt that we have been successful.

A rearrangement of the laundry and new machinery has made a very different place of it. When the work is completed, as it soon will be, it will be an excellent institutional laundry.

The widening of Cambridge Street, now in progress, has made it necessary for the Hospital to cut off forty feet of the old Parkman Market House at the corner of North Grove and Cambridge Streets. The shops and storage rooms in this building are thus considerably smaller.

A wonderful gift of a million dollars for a hospital for people of moderate means has been made by the late Mary Rich Richardson. This is the largest single gift ever made to the Hospital and it should enable us to start on this project in the near future.

The resignation of Dr. Franklin G. Balch, Chairman of the General Executive Committee and Chief of the East Surgical Service, has been accepted by your Board to take effect January 1st, 1925. He has been appointed by you a member of the Board of Consultation. The loss of Dr. Balch will be seriously felt. He has been on the staff of the Hospital for twenty-eight years. As Chairman of the General Executive Committee his advice, backed by his wide experience, has been most valuable.

The Hospital now reverts to two surgical services, one of which, under Dr. Edward P. Richardson, is to be more distinctly a research and teaching service. Dr. Richardson is on a nearly full time basis as Chief of the West Surgical Service at the Hospital and Associate Professor of Surgery at the Harvard Medical School. Dr. Charles A. Porter has been made Surgeon in Chief and Dr. Daniel F. Jones, Chief of the East Surgical Service.

Dr. James M. Gallison died suddenly on June 14, 1924. Dr. Gallison was a most promising young surgeon. He was Surgical House Officer during the year 1909–10, and on the Out Patient Staff since June, 1916.

The death of Dr. P. Challis Bartlett, a physician to a Special Department, occurred during the year. His services to the Hospital were valuable and faithful.

The North End Diet Kitchen has made it possible for the Hospital to establish a much needed Diet Clinic. Their contribution to the increased efficiency of the Hospital is very much appreciated.

The legislation which has been passed and accepted by the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway for a station on the Cambridge Subway line at the corner of Charles and Cambridge Streets, is most acceptable to this Hospital. It gives us greatly improved facilities of transportation and communication with the rest of the world. It will be appreciated by all connected with the institution, especially the patients and their friends.

The Ether Day oration, delivered by Dr. Hans Zinsser, was on the subject of "Medicine and the Community."

The following are the major needs of the Hospital:

1. A considerable increase in endowment.
2. A new ward building for certain medical and surgical departments, which the Hospital either does not now have, or which are inadequately provided with beds.
3. An increased endowment for the Hospital for people of moderate means.
4. A connecting building between the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and the Out-Patient Department of the Hospital.
5. Quarters for the orderlies and other male attendants.
6. A country branch.
7. A fund, the income of which may be used for research in the science of medicine.

Attention is invited to the appended tables.

Officers, nurses, social service workers, and other employees, have given to the Hospital most valuable service, unstinted in most instances by thought of the monetary equivalent received.

I would thank your Board for its continued courtesy to, and support of, the Director.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN, M.D.,
Director.

† These figures are obtained by taking the amount of money received for board of patients in public wards, and dividing that figure by the full rate of board prevalent at that time. This gives the number of days of paying patients, reckoned as though they were paying full rates. By subtracting this figure from the total of ward patients' days, we get the number of free days. Of the 114,639 patients' days at the General Hospital 52,201 are free.

* In this Table, each visit to the Out-Patient Department is counted once, regardless of the number of Clinics to which such patient may have been referred; consequently, the figures do not give the actual number of visits to each Special Clinic. For example: there were 1,738 actual visits (counting referred cases) to the Cardiac Clinic instead of 416, and to the Pulmonary Clinic 342 instead of 81.

Every year the superintendent of nurses endeavors to improve the care of the patients and the instruction of the student nurses. She sees that student nurses are well housed, well fed, and well cared for when ill. Most superintendents of nurses need to give greater attention to what is now called "positive health" of student nurses, guarding against extreme fatigue, and caring for the very beginnings of illness. Not only should there be more facilities for recreation, but more time for using these facilities.

The majority of the students who enter the school are only eighteen years of age. Many of their parents object to their entering. In most cases the parents' objections center around the question of health and recreation. The attitude of parents toward our school counts more with the eighteen year old applicant of today than with the older applicant of a decade ago. The amount of care we can give our patients, and the amount of instruction we can give our students, largely depends upon the number of our students. Therefore, from a selfish point of view, if from no other, it would be well to remove parents' objections to training. In matters relative to the maintenance of health and the value of recreation, a hospital training school should be a teacher, and not a pupil.

With the foregoing needs uppermost in our mind, we have this year increased the number of ward helpers from nine to fifteen, we have given an all day Sunday off duty to each intermediate student, eliminated all evening classes except one, and have been authorized to increase the total vacation period by one week. Quarterly weight charts have been established. In addition to other prophylactic measures, a number of students have had the Dick Test, and have made good use of chlorine gas during the first stage of the common "cold."

A full-time secretary has been installed in the training school office. Her major duties are making out the many records which must be sent for state registration of graduates, and for those joining various organizations and taking post-graduate courses. She also makes out the pay-rolls, and answers innumerable personal and telephone calls. Her most valuable contribution is relieving from many office duties the graduate nurse who cares for the health of the student nurses.

The past year has been a fortunate one, in that we have had a stable and full graduate staff. Several older graduates have returned. As instructor of theory we have welcomed Martha Ruth Smith, a graduate of the Peter Bent Brigham School, who received her degree from Teachers College in June.

No post-graduate courses, in the usual interpretation, are given at the Massachusetts General Hospital, but our graduates are always welcome for additional experience. One returned to the operating room, and a young graduate nurse from the Philippines came for experience in the wards, in the x-ray department, and in the operating room.

Incoming affiliations have changed. Holyoke has withdrawn, as they have increased their bed capacity, and their greater need is for a pediatric affiliation. Melrose and Quincy Hospitals have opened affiliations.

The only outgoing affiliation which has changed is the obstetrical. The new Boston Lying-in Hospital, with its new nurses' home, increased clinical material, increased nursing staff, and three months' course, made desirable a transfer of all our obstetrical affiliations to that school.

There has been but one important development in the curriculum, namely, four clinics at the Psychopathic Hospital for the senior students. These have supplemented lectures and classes on the care of mental illness.

One of the outstanding developments of the year has been the addition of another supervisor to our nursing staff. The time of the two supervisors has been given mainly to matters of housekeeping, supplies, repairs, and equipment, and very little to supervision of nursing technique. A third supervisor will enable this group of workers to be instructors rather than inspectors only.

During the greater part of the year, because of alterations in the Bulfinch Building, the medical patients have been cared for in temporary quarters. The nurses have found the facilities in these temporary quarters surprisingly adequate. But, like the patients, they have missed the light, air, and sunshine which abound in the Bulfinch. Already we are anticipating the pleasure of our return to those remodeled wards, and are rejoicing in the new, well equipped service rooms which adjoin them.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLY JOHNSON, R.N.,
Superintendent of Nurses.

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

GENERAL STATEMENT. The circular of information giving a detailed survey of the course of instruction and of requirements for admission may be obtained upon request. Personal applications may be made between ten and twelve o'clock on Wednesday mornings, and at other times by appointment. The length of the course is three years, which includes the preliminary period of four months.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION. Full high-school education or its actual equivalent is required. There is no arbitrary age limit. Acceptance depends upon education, general health, and personal qualifications.

EXPENSE OF COURSE. The tuition fee is $50, and breakage deposit $10. The students will be provided with board, lodging, and laundry throughout the course; also with required textbooks. Students will be required to provide uniforms during the preliminary period, but after acceptance their uniforms will be furnished by the Hospital.

SCHOLARSHIP — LOAN FUND. Six scholarships of $100 each are awarded annually to students doing satisfactory work and needing financial aid. There is a small loan fund.

HOURS OF DUTY — VACATION. During the preliminary course the daily average of ward duty is slightly over two hours. For accepted students the day duty is fifty-two hours a week, and the night duty fifty-six hours a week. The vacation allowance for the entire course of three years is ten weeks, one week of which is sometimes used as a leave of absence to aid in the maintenance of the student's health.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE. All students obtain experience in general medical and surgical nursing, obstetrical nursing, care of sick children, and in operating room technique. The majority obtain experience in the nursing of orthopedic patients, and the care of patients having skin diseases. There are many desirable electives.

Theoretical Instruction. The theoretical instruction is comprehensive and well given.

The Special Five-Year Course. A special five-year course is offered in affiliation with Simmons College, which entitles the pupil to the degree of B.S. from Simmons College, the diploma of the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses, and a certificate of Public Health Nursing. Further information relative to this course may be obtained from the Director, School of Public Health Nursing, Simmons College, 300 The Fenway, Boston, Mass.

Time Allowance to College Graduates. Time allowance will be given graduates of approved colleges, provided the course has included the basic sciences relating to nursing. Among these sciences are biology, chemistry, sociology, psychology, and those of the household group. The maximum allowance will be eight months. This allowance may not be determined until the student has been in the school for eight months.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

In our reports for 1922 and 1923, we called attention to the peculiarly difficult task which a general hospital is called upon to fulfil at this period of rapid advance in medical knowledge. At the risk of repetition it should again be stated that if such an institution as the Massachusetts General Hospital is to be maintained at a high level of efficiency, it must be generously supported by the public which it serves. Evidence is not lacking that this fact is recognized, as shown, for example, by the recent munificent gift of Mrs. Mary R. Richardson for the establishment of a much needed hospital for persons of moderate means in connection with the general hospital, and by other bequests received during the past year. The needs of the many existing departments are continuous and insistent. Much of the expenditure for the maintenance of medical and surgical work at a high standard brings no return in money; instruments and apparatus which tend quickly to become obsolete, or at least to be superseded by appliances of later design, must be purchased if the hospital is to take its part, as it always has done, in the development of the varied branches of medical practice and research. It is a distinct handicap to work with inferior tools; this is as obvious in medicine as in any other department of learning; hence the necessity of continuous expenditure, which, if at times apparently unnecessary, is actually demanded by the conditions under which medicine is now developing. The time may come, and, in certain departments, certainly will come, when a standardization of material may be expected — when, for example, therapeutic x-ray appliances cannot further be improved — but it is not probable, so long as the present wave of scientific discovery and invention lasts, that the demands and needs of medicine will grow materially less. It is desirable that the charitably disposed should understand the problems facing those immediately responsible for the progressive development of this as of other hospitals.

Reports of the various departments and subdepartments of the hospital, as submitted to this Committee, demonstrate the high quality of the work being done, and also, not infrequently, the handicap under which it is accomplished through lack of space or equipment. The remodelling of the Bulfinch Building, now going forward, will do much toward providing the general medical department with modern facilities for the best work, under most favorable conditions. That this need should be met is a matter of great satisfaction, but this should not obscure the fact that other departments, though less conspicuous in their relation to the hospital as a whole, are being handicapped by lack of facilities for the best work. This applies not only to lack of beds, always a need of a growing hospital in a centre of increasing population, but to equipment of various sorts, to which allusion is made in reports of the several special departments.

Several events of significance have occurred during the past year in the affairs of the hospital, apart from its material aspects. Notable among these is the resignation of Dr. Franklin G. Balch, as Chief of the East Surgical Service, by reason of reaching the age limit. As chairman of the Executive Committee, he has presided over the meetings with dignity and efficiency, and in all other capacities has served the hospital loyally and faithfully for a period of twenty-eight years. Dr. Charles A. Porter has also resigned from the position of Chief of the West Surgical Service, and has been appointed Surgeon-in-chief. The functions of the Third Surgical Service, organized particularly for teaching and research, under the leadership of Dr. Edward P. Richardson, have been taken over by the West Surgical Service, with Dr. Richardson as Chief, thereby restoring the arrangement of two surgical services formerly existing. Although, through his connection with the Harvard Medical School, Dr. Richardson is concerned largely with teaching and research, it should not be understood that these activities will be confined solely to his service, since as heretofore both surgical services will have teachers on their staffs and investigation must, as always, depend upon individual initiative as well as upon opportunity. Dr. Daniel Fiske Jones has been appointed to the position of Chief of the East Surgical Service in place of Dr. Balch. A further resignation, which we regret to record, is that of Dr. Harvey P. Towle, one of the heads of the Dermatological Department. He has done much to bring the department to its present state of efficiency.

The problems of internal administration, so far as they concern this committee, have not grown less during the year. Many of these problems are perennial, and may only be met by continual compromise; others are definite and immediate, and these we believe have been adjusted for the best interests of the hospital as a whole and of the community which it serves.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

General Medical Services

During the greater part of 1924, owing to reconstruction of the Bulfinch Building, the Medical Services have been under the disadvantage of using emergency wards in the basements of various buildings. To meet this complication it became necessary to divide the services in such a way that all male patients were on one service, and all female patients on the other. It was possible, however, in spite of this arrangement, to provide the interns with satisfactory services through a method of exchanging wards every three months. Under these conditions, although far from satisfactory, it has been possible to maintain the full number of medical beds without interruption, and give the customary care to patients, as well as teach the usual number of fourth-year students in the wards. The progress on the Bulfinch Building is such that it is hoped the wards may be returned to that building by February 1st, 1925. The reconstructed Bulfinch Building bids fair to open a new era for the Medical Department. The wards will be modernly equipped and unobstructed; they will be provided with adequate utility rooms and diet kitchens. Each service will have a floor to itself, with its separate wards for men and women and room for isolation purposes, an examining room, together with excellent laboratories for both house officers and clinical clerks.

The ground floor will provide a special study ward of five two-bed rooms, two large laboratories for clinical investigation, a medical staff room, and office space for the Chief of the Medical Services and his associates. In the basement will be lodged the cardiographic laboratory, the metabolism laboratory for adults, and laboratories for the children's medical service where both calorimetry and other work may be carried on. About one-third of the basement is to be left undeveloped to leave room for future expansion of laboratory work. The top floor will provide for the entire chemical laboratory and also space for bacteriologic and physiologic work. It is hoped that the surgical and other departments wishing to do research work may be accommodated on this floor. The elevator running from basement to attic will make it possible to send patients in their beds to get fresh air and sunshine on a platform in front of the building, or to the dome so that this historic spot may once more readily be used for clinical teaching.

The laboratories for clinical research have been widely scattered during 1924; even so, good work has been accomplished. Drs. A. V. Bock and H. Field, Jr., have devised a method for measuring the volume of the circulation by which important information of both normal and pathologic physiology is being gathered. Prof. L. J. Henderson has kept up his active interest in this work. The bacteriologic work of Drs. F. T. Lord and F. M. Rackemann has continued unabated albeit in somewhat curious quarters, — the triangular room beneath the Out-Patient amphitheatre. Dr. Lord's work has been on the comparative viability of pneumococci and other organisms in acid media, and on spirochetes in suppurative pulmonary lesions. He has also made a review of the Hospital's experience in pulmonary diseases. Dr. Rackemann's laboratory work forms one phase of the work of the Anaphylaxis Clinic. During 1924, this clinic has been very busy; a large number of new cases of asthma and hay fever have been studied and treated, and researches have been made upon such subjects as the results of treatment of hay fever in successive years, also upon the nature of skin reactions to bacteria in bacterial asthma, and their relation to those after the injection of horse hair or dust extracts in sensitive persons. Dr. Rackemann has been aided by Drs.

D. S. King and A. Colmes. Dr. J. C. Aub, since October 1, 1924, a full time member of the staff, is, with the assistance of Dr. W. A. Bauer, one of the resident physicians, doing experimental work on the cortex of the adrenal glands. Temporarily, this work is being carried out at the Medical School, but will be transferred to the Hospital upon the opening of the Bulfinch Building.

The special clinics have continued to serve a useful purpose. Dr. L. R. Wheeler has done excellent work in the management of a large and smoothly running clinic for diabetics. In this, the North End Diet Kitchen has rendered invaluable aid. Dr. Randall Clifford has taken over the pulmonary clinic and Dr. W. B. Breed has continued with that for obesity and nephritis. These clinics, too, are aided by the dietitian supplied by the North End Diet Kitchen. The Diet Kitchen's funds have been very helpful in providing breast milk and certain other foods to needy patients. The cardiac clinic and cardiographic laboratory, under Dr. P. D. White's direction, have continued active. The clinic holds three sessions a week, two for adults, one for children. The cardiac patients on all house services have received special study. In this work x-ray and cardiographic methods have been closely co-ordinated with clinical methods. In the Out-Patient Department important improvements have been made in the social service control of cardiac patients. Research has been conducted on the effect of various drugs on the circulation and upon the incidence of rheumatic fever, chorea, and rheumatic heart disease. The Thyroid Clinic and the Gastro-Intestinal Clinic, both joint enterprises of Medical, Surgical and Roentgenological Departments, have made progress. The Walcott Fellow, Dr. D. L. Sisco, is assisting in the former, while the medical side of the latter is now being served by Dr. M. Fremont-Smith. Dr. Sisco supervises the metabolism laboratory temporarily lodged in the gallery of the old Zander Room.

Dr. C. M. Jones is spending a year abroad in study; Dr. J. H. Means returned in December after six months spent in Great Britain observing methods in clinical medicine and research, and in the teaching of medical students.

Dermatological Service

The development of this department, particularly in relation to newly devised methods of treatment, renders desirable more facilities. Owing to the highly specialized forms which the treatment of cutaneous disease has developed, various members of the department are becoming, — as expressed by Dr. Charles J. White, — a group of superspecialists. Dr. White states the general situation and needs of the department as follows: —

Dermatology is growing more and more away from the original reliance upon drugs, and leaning more upon physics in its dealing with disease. This fact and the consequent rapid changes demand more apparatus and more space in which to house such apparatus. The quartz lamp is now being used for upwards of a dozen conditions. The equipment is insufficient to meet the demands of this form of treatment. The x-ray is assuming more and more importance in the treatment of certain conditions, and by some is regarded as the most important single agent. It is hoped that apparatus may be installed in the department, thereby rendering possible more systematic treatment and reducing to a minimum the inconvenience of patients. Radium is another therapeutic agent of increasing importance, and here again it is felt by members of the department that dermatological cases should be treated by this means in the department rather than at a distance. It is furthermore felt that dermatological conditions are best treated by dermatologists rather than by radiologists. The possibility of purchasing more radium should be considered, particularly since it might be possible through fixed charges to pay for such radium in a relatively short time. The dermatological laboratory is in need of equipment; two microscopes are needed — one for the use of the staff, the other for student demonstrations. The amount of pathological work which might be done is very great and of an interesting sort. Such work is handicapped by lack of space and proper laboratory facilities in general. A nursery for children is also very much needed.

Neurological Service

The work of this department has become much diversified. In addition to the consultations in the hospital, a somewhat closer relationship has been established with the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary; for example, a clinic is being held once a week in the Out-Patient Department, attended by ophthalmologists for the purpose of studying more closely the relation of the eye to certain nervous disorders. The co-operation between the surgical service, under special assignment to Dr. W. J. Mixter, and the Neurological Department has been most satisfactory, and has led to neurosurgical work of a high order with gratifying clinical results. The Spinal Fluid Laboratory established by Dr. James B. Ayer has had a most active year under the immediate direction of Dr. Frank Fremont-Smith. Much research has been accomplished and it is a source of satisfaction that at a recent meeting held in New York on the subject of the "Spinal Fluid," a large proportion of the original papers came from this laboratory and its associated workers. As suggested in a previous report, both the medical and surgical divisions of the hospital make use of the laboratory, inasmuch as the cerebrospinal fluid has become a definite object of analysis for diagnostic purposes in a large variety of conditions, and the technique has gone beyond that required of house officers. Dr. Hugo Mella has continued his work on the basal ganglia and has made a particular study of patients suffering from disease of that area of the brain. Dr. W. G. Lennox, by special assignment, is investigating the subject of epilepsy primarily from the chemical standpoint in conjunction with the General Medical Services. The necessity for beds grows more acute, and it cannot be expected that the department will develop much beyond its present state until this obvious need is, at least, in some measure supplied.

Children's Medical Service

A partial reorganization of the Children's Clinic has been undertaken during the past year. Dr. J. Herbert Young and Dr. Joseph Garland have been appointed visiting physicians,

Dr. Garland assuming the duties of director of the department. Dr. E. C. Romberg is directing the Children's Medical Out-Patient Department on practically a half-time basis. At the request of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, the department has undertaken the medical care of all children in that institution, necessitating the appointment of a third house officer. The Social Service Department has continued to render most valuable service. There has been satisfactory co-operation between the Children's Clinic and the Medical Service from the social standpoint. The occupational therapy is still carried on by Miss Isabel Whittier, who now has charge of the children's wards and also other wards of the hospital where there are children. Attention is also given to the children in the wards of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. This type of work is probably unique and certainly serves to make the stay of the children in the hospital happier, and presumably, therefore, has shortened convalescence in not a few patients. The work of the medical laboratory has been carried on with great activity in relation, first, to studies of basal metabolism, and, secondly, to studies in body chemistry. The main problems studied during 1924 were cretinism, begun four years ago and carried to its logical end, so far as treatment is concerned. Idiopathic epilepsy has also been studied intensively for four years and thus far the results seem to show that the attacks are related to the alkalinity of the blood and, therefore, that when the acidity of the body is increased, as in fasting, the attacks are favorably influenced. Certain important facts relative to acidosis and the sugar reserve of the body have been investigated as a side issue of this research. Mongolian idiocy has been studied, and this work is still in progress. There appears to be some evidence that the difficulty is due to a glandular deficiency. Studies of basal metabolism in epilepsy, ichthyosis, and eczema have been made, with the result that the use of thyroid appears to be unwarranted in these conditions. Inanition, loss of heat from the body surface, studies on rickets, ultraviolet light, and certain clinical problems are under investigation. It is of interest to note that three students have come from the Rockefeller Institute for special instruction in metabolism — one from Austria, one from Hungary, and one from Serbia.

Syphilis Service

According to the report of the chief of this department there has been a change in incidence of cases of early syphilis, — primary and secondary, genital and extra-genital, — a definite increase over the low level in 1920–1921. This change is apparently widespread and not a local condition in Boston. This increase in early cases means more patients with infectious lesions dangerous to others, — patients who should be hospitalized for a short time until the open lesions are healed or sterilized. If these conditions continue, our present ward facilities will be more inadequate. There is no prospect that the future will demand less study of spinal fluids. On the contrary, more lumbar punctures were done in the past year than ever before. Under present conditions, punctures are done on a morning and night group. This brings an extra amount of work on the house officer, and takes him from the clinic in the morning, when he is most needed. The enlargement of Room 7, used in section teaching, has been greatly appreciated, and has contributed much to the comfort both of the students and of the department. There is still an urgent need of more rooms. The laboratory must still be used as a laboratory, but also as a room for treatment; and it is often used in both capacities at the same time.

SURGICAL DEPARTMENT

General Surgical Services

Allusion has been made to the change from three surgical services back to the original plan of two. It is proposed under the two new chiefs to reorganize the staff, to make new assignments of services and new subjects for research, particularly on the West Service. In general, the two surgical services have made no innovations during the past year, but have continued to function after the general plan outlined in the last report. Weekly visits with demonstrations have been continued. On the whole, the number of cases under special assignments has been less than during the previous year. Clinical studies with report of cases and end-results have been published by Dr. R. B. Greenough on cancer of the breast; by Dr. Channing C. Simmons on cancer of the mouth and lip; by Dr. Beth Vincent on splenectomy in certain of the less well understood blood diseases, with satisfactory results; by Dr. Wyman Whittemore on thoracoplasty for pulmonary tuberculosis; by Dr. D. F. Jones on cancer of the rectum and colon. Dr. C. A. Porter has made a statistical study of aneurism at the hospital for the past fifty years. On the Third Surgical Service, Dr. M. A. McIver and Dr. E. B. Benedict have completed a study of the basic conditions governing absorptions of gas from the gastro-intestinal tract, and work is continuing along the line suggested by this investigation. Careful study has been made of massive collapse of the lung following injury and operation, a matter not understood until recently. Blood transfusion has further established itself as a method of value in chosen cases. Children, for example, suffering from burns have been improved by its use.

The Thyroid Clinic has investigated the use of iodin in exophthalmic goiter, and has reached the conclusion that it is a most valuable agent as a preparation for operation in this disease. In three-fourths of the cases the number of operations on individual patients has been distinctly reduced by its use. Local anesthesia has continued to demonstrate its usefulness, and preparations are being made to study the value of the new anesthesia, ethylene gas. The introduction of new beds in the lower wards has proved of great value in the after-care, especially of peritonitis and other abdominal cases. The surgical and orthopedic services have continued to co-operate in the study of fractures. It is hoped that it may be possible to employ a social service worker, who, by following up the cases of fracture, may be able to shorten the period of disability after discharge from the hospital.

We regret to record the untimely death of Dr. James M. Gallison, surgeon to out-patients. Dr. Gallison had demonstrated sterling ability and was justly regarded as one of the most promising of the younger surgical men.

Laryngological Service

An investigation has been undertaken during the past year to determine enlargement of the thymus preparatory to tonsil operation. It has been found that seven per cent of twenty-seven hundred children examined by x-ray have an enlarged thymus and are, therefore, in the condition known as status lymphaticus. Since this preliminary study has been instituted and the thymus treated when enlarged, there have been no deaths. It is of interest that cases of plastic surgery of the face and neck are coming to the clinic in increasing numbers, through the reputation which Dr. V. H. Kazanjian has acquired in the surgical treatment of these cases. Special studies have been made of deafness associated with pharyngitis, and of osteomyelitis of the skull; and rather more than the usual number of cancer cases have been treated. The installation of apparatus in the x-ray department has proved of much practical value. A so-called prone fluoroscope, however, is needed for removing foreign bodies and for detecting herniæ of the stomach through the esophageal opening of the diaphragm.

It is of interest that two long-term men have been registered in laryngology, — one a Belgian, the third sent from that country by the Belgian Foundation.

Orthopædic Service

The Orthopædic Department has, during the past year, made a special effort to increase the service rendered by the available beds in Ward I. In order to accomplish this, the Social Service Department of the hospital has given most valuable assistance. Due to the small number of hospital beds which may be used for patients who have bone and joint disease, and to the large number of patients seeking assistance in the Out-Patient Department, there has accumulated in the past a considerable waiting list for admission to the hospital. The individuals placed on this waiting list are often in serious need of hospital care. In other instances, the hardship is not so great, but in any event, putting off the needed hospital attention causes an industrial hardship and also does not favor the proper development of the Orthopædic Department. During the past year, an active effort has been made to cut down the number of hospital days of each patient in Ward I to the minimum, and to investigate patients who demand hospital treatment as far as possible before their entrance to the ward. This is done in order to reduce the number of hospital days before surgical treatment is undertaken. It has been learned that many hospital days may be eliminated in this way without hardship to the patient. It was also found that with this rapid surgical turnover, three house officers were unable to do the necessary routine work. The house staff in consequence has been increased by one, making a total of four house officers now on duty on the Orthopædic Service.

An attempt has been made to establish early positive diagnosis in diseases of the bones and joints. To this end considerable additional work has been done in the surgical pathology of these lesions.

Urological Department

The accomplishments and needs of this department are described by its Chief as follows: There has been a total of 22,173 visits to the Out-Patient Department, of which 8,743, or a little more than 65 per cent, have been made by urological cases. Of the new cases, there were 1,478 with urological diseases and only 718 (48 per cent) with venereal disease. While the male clinic had a much larger number of new admissions for venereal disease than the female clinic, the latter, on the other hand, had a relatively larger number of admissions for urological disease (665 as against 813). It would therefore appear, not only that our female clinic is growing rapidly, especially in the urological diseases, but also that the latter in both clinics are rapidly catching up with the number of admissions for venereal disease.

With the rapid growth of our urological clinic, more and more cases are requiring admittance to the hospital, either for further study or for operation. As it has been entirely impossible to handle these cases with only 10 beds, our daily average has necessarily been considerably over this number a large part of the time. The daily average has been 18.3 for the past six months. In other words, there is urgent need of a ward of at least 25 beds, wherein can be installed not only our patients, but also nurses, orderlies, apparatus and equipment especially adapted to our work.

The female out-patient clinic is now well handled by three women physicians, Drs. Coté, Rogers and McNaughton, who divide the year between them. The hospital service has been conducted most efficiently and satisfactorily with two house officers and a resident surgeon. Dr. L. W. Faust, who has served ably and faithfully in the latter capacity during the past year, has left to enter private practice, his place being taken by Dr. John T. Bate, late of St. Luke's Hospital, New York. We have had 417 operations during the year, a considerably larger number than ever before, and one which points, as do the out-patient figures, to the necessity for more beds. While little or no laboratory research has been carried on by our staff, owing to lack of facilities, a great deal of clinical investigation has been and is being done. Some of this has already been published, some is still in progress.

As a department we still need many things, perhaps more than other departments, owing to the nature of the work. The facilities for cystoscopic examination in combination with the x-ray are nil as far as the out-patient department is concerned, and but little better in the hospital. Many of our patients require, either before or after operation, more than do the usual surgical cases, several days of observation or recuperation which could be carried on just as well in some place like the old Convalescent Home as in our ward. While we want these patients to be under our guidance, we do not feel that it is necessary for them to occupy beds which meantime could be used for more urgent cases.

Dental Service

It has been evident for a long time that an increase in the clinic days of this department would be desirable. At present the clinic is held three days a week. In preparation for such an increase recommendations were made for a slight change in the department, and an enlarged personnel. These recommendations having been ratified by the trustees, it is hoped that the services of the department will be richer in both quality and quantity. Changes in title have also been made.

ROENTGENOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT

During the year 1924, Dr. Adelbert S. Merrill, Assistant Roentgenologist, resigned to take up private practice in Manchester, N. H.; Dr. John D. Camp was appointed to carry on his work.

An oil-immersed fluoroscopic unit has been placed in the operating pavilion. This unit is available for the reduction of fractures under fluoroscopic observation. It can also be used in the search for stones in patients being operated upon for urinary calculi, and for the location of foreign bodies. As all the high-tension wiring in this apparatus is enclosed in oil, there is absolutely no danger from high-tension shock, or of igniting inflammable gases. A new deep therapy unit of the same type as that placed in the General Hospital last year has been installed in the Phillips House and is giving very satisfactory service. The plan of consultants for the various groups of patients receiving radiation therapy has been continued and a new group established. This latter clinic is for the treatment of gynecological conditions; the consultant is Dr. Lincoln Davis. A statistical comparison of the work of the department in 1923 and 1924 shows a total increase during the past year. The number of cases examined and treated in 1924 was 22,846 as contrasted with 18,932 for 1923; the number of new cases 11,089 as against 10,289. These figures would seem to suggest a normal increase in the activity of the department.

In order more effectively to carry out the radium therapy, the following committees have been appointed:

Radium Committee:

Dr. George W. Holmes
Dr. Channing C. Simmons
Dr. J. Dellinger Barney
Dr. Frederick S. Burns
Dr. George A. MacIver

Radium Clinic:

Dr. George W. Holmes, Chief
Dr. Robert B. Greenough
Dr. D. Crosby Greene
Dr. George G. Smith
Dr. George R. Minot
Dr. C. Guy Lane

CHEMICAL LABORATORY

One of the important practical results of the year has been the discovery of the cause for the rather frequent, harmful, and often serious reactions from the giving of intravenous glucose, which has resulted in the almost complete abandonment of this mode of treatment. The whole mode of procedure was revised, with the result that there has not been a single reaction since, in spite of ten months free use of this form of therapy. Considerable work has been done on cases of recurrent kidney stones, with a view of preventing their further recurrence. The stones are carefully analyzed, and the patients given diet or other regulatory measures designed to produce the conditions in the urine under which the precipitation of the compounds present in the stone will be most difficult. In the few cases thus far examined, there appears to be some value in the idea, but it will take much more time and experience before any definite statement can be made. Other work, as yet unfinished, includes investigations of blood proteins, and certain problems in the distribution of physiological substances in the body. The routine work for the year comprised the study of 5,366 specimens.

CONSULTATION CLINIC

A statistical comparison of the work of the Consultation Clinic for 1923 and 1924 brings out many facts of interest. The whole number of patients treated was somewhat less last year than during the preceding year; namely, 1,094 as against 1,128. The patients have come very largely from Massachusetts, but a large number have been referred from the various New England States and from still more distant points. The total number of physicians in attendance was fifty-one in 1924, and fifty-two in 1923, with fewer number of visits last year than in the preceding year. The general medical department was consulted very much more often than any other. The actual figures for last year are as follows: Medical 260; Surgical 95; Neurological 95; Orthopedic 89; Urological 98; Laryngological 80; Dermatological 28; Pediatric 6; and South Medical 4. It is noteworthy and rather difficult of explanation that so few children should be brought for consultation, and possibly still more remarkable that so few venereal conditions should be seen. This appears not to be due to any peculiar circumstances in 1924, since, in 1923, there were but three syphilitic cases and only two pediatric. In general, the Consultation Clinic has entirely justified its existence. It is evidently not increasing in numbers, but at the same time it fills a place of distinct usefulness in the community, as shown by the fact that upwards of a thousand patients, through their doctors, consult it yearly.

REPORT OF THE PATHOLOGICAL LABORATORY

THE usual routine bacteriological, chemical, microscopical, and pathological examinations in connection with the study of diseases of the patients in the Hospital have been carried on as in previous years.

During the year 144 autopsies were performed in the laboratory, and the post-mortem appearances recorded. Among these were 10 from the Eye and Ear Infirmary and 9 from the Phillips House. The percentage of autopsies among the deaths occurring in the Hospital is 37 per cent, as compared with 29 per cent in 1923.

Of microscopical preparations from autopsy material, 1,394 have been prepared and filed during the year, as compared with 1,370 in 1923.

Reports rendered for bacteriological examinations for the microörganisms of diphtheria, typhoid fever and other diseases number 2,803. There were 2,465 in 1923. Bacterial culture media has also been supplied to the Medical Laboratory.

For testing various specimens for the presence of tubercle bacilli, 298 guinea pigs were used. In 1923 the number was 271.

Reports of gross and microscopical appearances and the pathological diagnosis of 1,801 specimens from the medical and surgical clinics were rendered. From this material 3,561 microscopical preparations were made and filed. The corresponding figures for 1923 were 1,782 and 2,818.

The number of specimens of blood tested for evidence of infection with syphilis is 16,538, as compared with 15,896 in 1923.

Bacteriological examinations of milk for the Hospital and for the Eye and Ear Infirmary were made on 294 samples.

Photographs taken for the Hospital number 850 plates and 1,600 prints.

The laboratory for the study of cerebrospinal fluid, under the direction of Dr. James B. Ayer, has continued its work during the past year. The purpose of this laboratory is to perform certain routine examinations, such as the colloidal gold test and quantitative estimation of protein, the latter test elaborated in this Department; also to carry out certain special tests on selected cases, such as the mastic test, benzoin test, quantitative sugar, chloride, and non-protein nitrogen. Emphasis is laid, however, on a close co-operation between the clinical departments and the laboratory, which results in a more intelligent interpretation of results in this field of diagnosis.

The following examinations have been made:

Total protein estimation	2,005
Gold chloride tests	97
Gum mastic tests	300
Quantitative sugar determination	430
Spinal Fluids	2,016

Many neurological specimens have been preserved and mounted in jars for study this year; also work has been continued on cats, to test the value of Lipiodol, a French iodized oil, in the arachnoid space for the localization of cord tumors by means of x-ray.

The treatment of patients with bacterial vaccines has been continued by Dr. A. E. Steele, and during the year 122 were so treated, as compared with 130 in 1923.

The facilities and material offered by the Laboratory for the instruction of physicians and students of the Harvard Medical School in bacteriology, pathology, and diagnosis by laboratory methods have continued to be extensively utilized.

The weekly conferences and discussions of clinico-pathological aspects of hospital cases, conducted in the amphitheatre of the laboratory before fourth-year students and others, have been continued during the academic year. These exercises have been conducted by Drs. Oscar Richardson and R. C. Cabot. The attendance has been good, and much interest has been manifested.

The courses in medicine and pathology for practitioners, given by Drs. W. H. Smith and Oscar Richardson, have been well attended and continue to be highly successful.

Instruction in pathology to sections of second-year men, and special courses to students of the Harvard Medical School, have been given by Drs. J. H. Wright and Oscar Richardson.

Dr. H. F. Hartwell has given weekly demonstrations in pathological anatomy to fourth-year students, and has continued the collection and preservation of specimens for teaching purposes.

Of special studies carried on during the year, the following may be mentioned:

Dr. W. H. Smith continued his studies of bacteria in endocarditis.

Dr. J. B. Ayer worked on special subjects in neuropathology.

Dr. A. E. Steele studied photomicrography, and a case of infection with a mold fungus.

Dr. J. H. Wright worked on the subject of "The Mycoses" for the Third Edition of "Osler's Modern Medicine," and for "Nelson's Loose-Leaf Medicine." He also studied special problems in pathological histology.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TREADWELL LIBRARY, 1924

This has been a year of gifts and a year of losses, but fortunately the former outweigh the latter, though the losses have resulted in decided restrictions on the use of the Library. The finest gift we have received in years is the complete set of the English Journal of Physiology, from nine members of the medical staff, at a cost of $300. This is a very valuable addition to the Library, and is of especial interest to the personnel of the medical laboratories. The Children's Medical Service has given Abt's Pediatrics in eight volumes, at a cost of $70. Dr. Talbot has given, in addition, the sum of $25 to be spent for books for this Department, as the need may arise. Dr. E. A. Codman has sent in twenty books from his own library, including a Traité de Médecine in six volumes, and a Traité de Chirurgie in eight volumes, valuable historically. Dr. Barney has given four books: an ancient work on Obstetrics, date of 1721; a copy of Vol. 1 of the Medical Communications of the Massachusetts Medical Society; and two early volumes of the London Medical and Physical Journal, one of which bears on its fly leaf the autograph of James Jackson, and on the inside of its cover the bookplate of the Boylston Medical Society of Harvard University, a very beautiful specimen of this art. Dr. T. J. Eastman has given 24 medical portraits, all mounted. Several members of the Staff are contributing either the money for subscription to valuable journals, or their own copies of the journals. Such gifts as these are of great assistance, as our own funds do not begin to cover the growing needs of the Library which often furnishes a member of the Staff with points of information necessary for the immediate treatment and care of a patient. In addition to the above, books have been received from

Dr. G. L. Walton
Dr. W. E. Paul
Dr. C. L. Scudder
General Francis H. Appleton

Dr. F. A. Washburn
Dr. J. H. Means
Dr. G. W. Holmes
Dr. J. B. Ayer
Dr. J. C. Aub
Dr. O. R. T. L'Esperance
Dr. Hyman Morrison
Dr. J. M. Faulkner

Transactions of Societies, University publications, Federal, State and Municipal reports of various kinds, and many reprints are hereby acknowledged with hearty thanks.

Dr. George H. Jackson, Jr., a former House Officer, and one who never forgets the "old Treadwell", has sent in addition to books a bronze medallion of Dr. Frank Billings, Dean of Rush Medical College, it having been issued in his honor by the Class of 1924. The medal is inclosed in a handsome velvet case. Miss Eastman, of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, gave us an old print of the Province House, which has been framed and hung. Dr. John W. Cummin brought in two albums of "snap shots" taken in the late '90s, very interesting for our historical photograph catalogue.

The loss of books is rather appalling, considering that year after year has gone by with no loss to report. Eighteen volumes disappeared, six of which were recovered. The other twelve make serious vacancies on our shelves, as, thus far, we have been unable to replace them. This condition of things resulted in (for the first time) locking the doors of the Library except during the regular hours. After three months, in response to the receipt of a petition with many signatures, the Library was again opened for Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons, but with an attendant on duty.

Through the Exchange of the Medical Library Association we have distributed to other libraries from among our duplicates 14 bound volumes of periodicals, 555 odd numbers, and 3 volumes of society transactions. Two books were sent to help in restoring the medical library of St. Luke's Hospital, Tokio, after the earthquake; also a sum of money from a member of our staff toward the purchase of more books.

The "unit system" of Records is proving itself more and more valuable; no one will ever wish to return to the old method of binding in volumes. Our main difficulty now is lack of room, as the capacity of the Record Vault with its present shelving has practically been reached. By removing certain stacks and replacing them with vertical files, room may be acquired for several years to come. This need is immediate, and the change has been recommended.

The retirement of the undersigned from her duties as librarian has been accepted. Miss Carrie L. Williams was appointed as her successor and took up her duties last September. The retiring librarian wishes to express to the Board of Trustees, the Director of the Hospital, and to all the many members of the hospital family as they have come and gone during the last twenty-seven years, her sincere and grateful thanks for their ever ready cooperation and support in her efforts towards an ideal attainment in the two departments which it has been her privilege to direct.

ANNUAL REPORT OF WARREN LIBRARY, 1924

THE Warren Library has developed extensively during the past year. It has become an important factor in the stimulation of morale both among patients and among the hospital personnel. Individual bedside library service assists the patients in adjusting themselves to hospital environment as well as giving them pleasure and diversion. The fact that in one day books in eight different languages were distributed on one ward alone indicates the broad extent of our service. The convalescent patients, and especially the hospital personnel, enjoy the advantages and comforts of the library room.

A larger income has enabled us to purchase many new books. Through the efforts of Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer $4,000 has been raised to supplement the original thousand dollar gift of Dr. John C. Warren, for whom the library was named. This new donation is named the Thorpe Fund, in recognition of Mrs. J. E. Thorpe's long service to the Hospital. Further contributions were as follows: $50, a gift from the Ladies' Visiting Committee, and the $200 appropriation of the Trustees.

An attractive new bookplate, adapted from the Gallagher etching of the Bulfinch Front, has been given by General Francis H. Appleton.

The librarian takes this opportunity of thanking many friends of the Hospital for their numerous gifts.

The process of reclassifying and recataloguing the books has been completed. Following are statistics:

Number of volumes of adult fiction	2,267
Number of volumes of adult non-fiction	431
Number of volumes in foreign language	316
Number of volumes of juvenile fiction	112
Number of volumes of juvenile non-fiction	146

REPORT OF CHIEF OF SOCIAL SERVICE

During the year 1924, 5,236 patients were referred to the Social Service Department. We have this year kept a day sheet record of all patients referred, noting the reason they were referred and the service rendered. We have made social records of only such patients as needed continued service from us. The patients were distributed as follows:

OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT

	Brought Forward from 1923	New Patients referred	Total Number of Patients	Number of Patients accepted for Social Treatment
General Medical and Surgical (including Adult Cardiac and Diabetic Clinics for six months)	171	1,292	1,463	339

The General Medical figures include 59 and the Children's Medical 144 cardiac patients. Patients not having social records include tubercular patients transferred directly to other tuberculosis dispensaries and patients, who after interview and advice, seemed to be able to work out their own plans.

Through the generosity and interest of the Committee on the Home Care of Children with Heart Disease, it was possible to appoint, in July, a special worker to the Adult Cardiac Clinic, thus correlating the social work for both Cardiac Clinics under this Department as they are correlated medically under Dr. White.

Through a fund collected by Dr. Morrison we have been able to apportion a part of one worker's time to the Diabetic Clinic.

The Department received an anonymous gift of $1,000 to be used for medical social study, which has made possible the release for part time of Miss Elsie Wulkop, who has prepared material for a case book on hospital social work.

We have had during the year twelve students working under supervision of our staff, these students having their theoretical work in the Schools of Social Work of Simmons College, Smith College or New York.

Each year the Department has requests from hospital social workers in other parts of the country for experience here during the summer months. These requests were this year referred to the Simmons College School of Social Work and under their auspices a Summer Institute for Hospital Social Workers of experience was given during July and August with Miss Cannon in charge. The ten members of the Institute were from hospitals in Dallas, Chicago, Rochester (Minnesota), Detroit, Pittsburgh, Montreal, New York and Boston.

The following six subjects have been studied during the past year: "Temporary Child Placing in Foster Homes for Therapeutic Purposes;" "A Study of the Relation of the Social Service Department at the Massachusetts General Hospital to the Community Agencies in Cambridge;" "A Review of the Group of Children of the 1916 Infantile Paralysis Epidemic;" "Children under Fifteen Seen in the Nerve Room, 1922–23;" "A Study of 200 Consecutive Cases Seen in the Orthopedic Clinic in July, 1923, and Reviewed in April, 1924;" "Patients Operated on, Orthopedic Service, 1920 and 1921."

One of the great pleasures of the year has been a month's visit from Miss Anne Cummins, Lady Almoner of St. Thomas's Hospital, London, who spent three months studying hospital social work in this country.

IDA M. CANNON,
Chief of Social Service.

We are very much gratified that Miss Frances C. Ladd, who is a graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses and who, during the war, served as a nurse in Base Hospital No. 6, — a good portion of the time having charge of the operating room, — has agreed to serve as Chief Nurse for General Hospital No. 6. Miss Ladd is now Superintendent of the Faulkner Hospital. Her nomination has been sent forward through military channels; when her assignment has been made officially, the enrollment of the nurses' personnel will be begun.

JAMES H. MEANS, Lt. Col., M. C.,
Commanding Officer, General Hospital No. 6.

WARREN TRIENNIAL PRIZE

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL

The Warren Triennial Prize was founded by the late Dr. J. Mason Warren in memory of his father, and his will provides that the accumulated interest of the fund shall be awarded every three years to the best dissertation, considered worthy of a premium, on some subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathological Anatomy, the arbitrators being the General Executive Committee of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Theses submitted for competition for the year 1925 shall be on some special subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathology.

Dissertations must be in either the English, French, or German language, and MUST BE TYPEWRITTEN AND SUITABLY BOUND, so as to be easily handled. Work that has been published previously will not be considered in competition. The name of the writer must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, on which must be written a motto corresponding with one on the accompanying dissertation. The names of collaborators should appear with that of the writer in the sealed envelope.

Any clew given by the paper, or any action on the part of the writer which reveals his name before the award of the prize, will disqualify him from receiving it.

The amount of the prize for the year 1925 will be $500.

In case no dissertation is considered sufficiently meritorious, no award will be made. Essays will be received until April 15, 1925.

A high value will be placed on original work.

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN, M.D.,
Director.

DALTON SCHOLARSHIPS

The income of this fund, amounting to $1,000 annually, is devoted to investigation in the science of medicine. The rules of the Trustees applicable to it are as follows:

Article 1. Candidates shall be nominated to the Board of Trustees by the General Executive Committee with their recommendations. They shall be either internes of the General Hospital or male graduates of a regular American Medical College.

Article 2. The nature of the work in medical investigation proposed to be prosecuted by each candidate shall be designated by the candidate.

Article 3. The Scholarship year shall begin September 15. Scholars shall work not less than ten hours per week, from the last Wednesday in September to the last Wednesday in June; and if a scholar performs a part only of this prescribed work, he shall be entitled to a proportionate part only of the income.

Article 4. The results of work of scholars shall appertain to the Hospital, and when made public the name of the scholar shall accompany the publication, but no publication shall be made unless approved by the General Executive Committee.

Article 5. When the income is insufficient, appointments for the year may be omitted.

Article 6. Any income not used shall be cumulative and not added to the principal.

Article 7. Scholars shall be eligible for renomination and reappointment.

RULES FOR ADMISSION, ETC.

The Massachusetts General Hospital is a private institution supported solely by voluntary contributions and the receipts from those patients who pay board.

Only those unable to pay doctor's fees will be admitted.

Emergencies and recent accidents admitted at all hours.

Applications for admission of patients should be made at the Moseley Memorial Building, Fruit Street, at North Grove Street, Boston, on week days between the hours of 9 A.M. and 3 P.M.

Applications from a distance should be made in writing, accompanied by a full description of the case by the attending physician, with his reason for requesting admission; and when a free bed is needed, by a statement of the pecuniary condition of the patient. Always wait for a reply before sending the patient.

Arrangements can be made by telephone for emergency cases or recent accidents, but for these only.

Contagious cases are not admitted to the Hospital, and only such chronic cases as can be partially relieved by temporary treatment.

The regular rate of board to paying patients in all rooms is $40 per week. In the general wards the rate of board to paying patients is $21 per week. There is a surgical dressing fee of $10 to surgical paying patients, and a laboratory fee of $5 to medical paying patients. Payment should be made weekly in advance. The surgical dressing fee and the laboratory fee should be paid on admission. The lowest rate of board for patients living outside the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is $21 per week in the open wards.

Patients may be discharged between 9 A.M. and 4.30 P.M. on week days; on Sundays from 12 noon to 4 P.M.

The Out-Patient Department is for the poor only, and is open from 8.30 to 10 in the morning, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The ambulance will be sent for suitable cases within a radius of twenty miles, if arrangements are made with the Admitting Physician.

PHILLIPS HOUSE. All inquiries concerning the admission of private patients should be made to the Director, Massachusetts General Hospital.

There is a separate entrance for this department at 265 Charles Street. Telephone service is also separate. All inquiries for private patients should be made through "Haymarket 4490," and not through the regular Hospital exchange.

Ambulance service is provided.

The private ward is for the treatment of general medical and surgical diseases and obstetrical cases. Contagious diseases, cases of alcoholism and drug habit are not admitted.

Patients in the Phillips House may be attended only by members of the staff and alumni of the Hospital.

McLEAN HOSPITAL

THE ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTH REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE McLEAN HOSPITAL

To the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital:

The following report of the McLean Hospital for the year 1924 is respectfully submitted:

One hundred and six patients were admitted, 95 were discharged and 224 remained in the Hospital at the end of the calendar year. The total number under treatment was 212, an increase of 2.6 over last year. Of the patients discharged 26.4 per cent were recorded as recovered. If the cases of Senile and Arteriosclerotic Dementia and General Paralysis are excluded the percentage of patients discharged as recovered was 32.5 per cent.

Of the 106 admissions 12 were primarily voluntary patients and 5 others became so by signing applications to remain under treatment at the expiration of the legal period of temporary care and observation. Of these 17 voluntary patients, 1 was committed because of a formal request for discharge which could not properly be granted. There remained on this basis at the end of the year 18 persons, 6 men and 12 women.

During the year 4 patients were admitted for 35 day periods of observation (Section 77, Chapter 123, General Laws) and one patient was committed from temporary care for this 35 day period of observation. Of these 5 patients, 1 made voluntary application to remain at the Hospital, 1 was formally committed, 2 were discharged as recovered and 1 was discharged as not insane.

During the year 35 patients were admitted for temporary care (Section 79, Chapter 123, General Laws). Of these, 4 made voluntary applications to remain at the Hospital, 1 was discharged at the end of ten days as not insane, 1 was committed for 35 days' observation, 2 were discharged as not improved, 1 died, 24 were formally committed and 2 remained in the Hospital at the end of the calendar year under temporary care, as the time limit had not expired.

Of the 106 patients admitted, 22 came from other hospitals in Massachusetts and 4 from hospitals in other states. The statistical tables appearing later in this report are for the year ending September 30, and are in the form suggested by the American Psychiatric Association and adopted by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Diseases. Forms 1 and 2 are not required of private hospitals and are therefore omitted.

During the year the Hospital, as usual, has contributed a large amount to charity in the way of care and treatment of free patients and patients paying less than cost, 11,757 days' care and treatment were given free of charge and in addition 15,853 days' care and treatment for less than cost.

In the care of the patients occupational therapy, diversions and physiotherapy have continued to play an important and successful part. In the women's occupational department there was an average daily attendance of 34, and 88 different patients were employed there. In the men's occupational department there was an average daily attendance of 15, and 45 different patients were employed. In the women's department 1,693 articles were made, comprising pieces of weaving, needlework and pottery, knitted and painted articles, bags, rugs, baskets and many miscellaneous articles. In the men's department 79,050 pieces of printed matter were done, 519 books were rebound, 139 chairs were repaired, 30 pictures were framed and about 300 other miscellaneous articles were made or repaired. In addition to this a considerable amount of work was done on the wards by patients whose condition did not permit them to go to the occupational departments.

The usual diversions have been arranged for the patients, the dances and moving picture exhibitions given on each Tuesday evening during the fall, winter and spring months have been especially enjoyed. Parties have been held from time to time on appropriate occasions, while at all times the patients are encouraged and helped by the nurses to get diversion from the various indoor and parlor games. Out-of-door recreations have included golf, tennis, croquet, walks and rides. Throughout the summer baseball games were played weekly.

The Sunday services, conducted by the Chaplain, Rev. George J. Prescott, have been held as usual during the year.

The library has continued to contribute its share of diversion and pleasure. One hundred and sixty-two books were added to the general library during the year, making a total of 10,037 volumes. The circulation for the year was 9,529 volumes.

Two hundred and seventy-four new books were added to the medical library, making a total of 6,670 volumes.

The Hospital subscribed for 45 weekly and monthly periodicals for the general library and 60 medical periodicals.

A special library pertaining to the profession of nursing in its broadest sense has been started in connection with the nurses' home and is housed in a room located there. It already contains 141 volumes.

In the physiotherapy department 5,794 medical baths were given (this includes only the baths given in the hydrotherapy department) and 4,200 Zander treatments were given in addition to the class work done in physical culture.

In the treatment of mental and nervous cases those things which tend to put the patient in the best possible physical condition continue to be of prime importance. Psychoanalytic and psychotherapeutic measures have their places and are important. The administration of drugs or medicines for specific mental treatment is at the present time disappointing and plays a small part.

Attempts have been continued during the year to pick out such cases as indicated an endocrine disturbance and to give them appropriate treatment with endocrine substances. In many cases the results have been disappointing. In some cases there have been indications of improvement and in one case the results have been remarkable. Our knowledge of the subject is still so limited and obscure and our practice also that I feel it is too soon to make an estimate of its value. While hopeful that further knowledge of the subject may lead to more successful results our present feeling is that in most mental diseases an endocrine disturbance cannot be looked upon as a specific cause but only as one of many causative factors. As such, of course, it should receive consideration.

Owing to the absence of our Psychologist during the last year and the resignation of our Assistant in Physiology and our inability to find a suitable Clinical Assistant and Pathologist, the scientific work has been largely limited to that done in the department of Physiological Chemistry.

In the Chemical Laboratory research work has been carried on without interruption. That on the adrenal cortex, referred to in last year's report, has been barren of any clear cut positive results, that is, we have been unable to obtain from the adrenal cortex any substance or substances which could be held responsible for the ability of this organ to protect against intoxications.

The observation reported from other institutions that patients with Dementia Præcox commonly utilize oxygen at a slower rate than do normal persons has been corroborated in this laboratory.

Some metabolic problems of interest to psychiatry, which have hitherto been difficult to approach, are now open to attack through the technical advances in blood analysis being made in this country and abroad. The rôle of phosphorus compounds in fatigability and the acid-base equilibrium in catatonic and manic states are two such problems. Work of our own on these problems has been delayed by difficulty in getting a technical assistant.

The use of one of the modern blood methods, that of Randles and Knudson, for lipoid phosphorus indicated slight abnormalities among our patients which appeared to have a connection with their mental condition, but critical study of the method revealed sources of considerable error. When these technical difficulties had been overcome and a reliable procedure developed the variations in the blood lipoid phosphorus were found to be less than had been indicated and without apparent relation to their mental state.

A beginning has been made here in the study of the changes of blood phosphate produced by phosphate ingestion. Whether it has any psychiatric significance is as yet unknown, but it is of interest from the physiological viewpoint to note that the drinking of solutions of sodium acid phosphate may bring about the passage of organic phosphorus compounds from the blood stream into the tissues.

The blood calcium is being studied in a small series of epileptics, who are now under treatment at the Hospital.

As a part of the general policy of thorough examination of one's physical condition each patient entering the Hospital now has a blood specimen analyzed for at least two constituents, sugar and non-protein nitrogen, for the sake of the indication thereby obtained concerning bodily health or disease.

Publications by members of the Staff during the year were as follows:

A Comparative Study of "Creative Imagination" in Normal People and in Mentally Diseased — Dr. Lundholm. (American Journal of Psychiatry, April, 1924.)

A Method for the Determination of Lipoid Phosphorus in the Blood and Plasma — Dr. Whitehorn. (The Journal of Biological Chemistry, November, 1924.)

Dr. Clarence J. Campbell, Assistant in Physiology, resigned on August 14, to accept a position as Assistant Professor of Physiology at Syracuse University. Since that time the position has been vacant, as no suitable successor could be found.

The Student Assistants, Mr. Luney V. Ragsdale and Mr. William W. Woodruff, who resigned on June 4 and June 30 respectively, were succeeded by Mr. Donald A. Charnock and Mr. James M. Baty, fourth year students at the Harvard Medical School.

The position of Clinical Assistant and Pathologist has remained vacant throughout the year, as no person suitable to fill it could be obtained.

The leave of absence granted Dr. Helge Lundholm, Assistant in Pathological Psychology, on August 20, 1923, was extended in order that he might finish the work undertaken for the Swedish government at the Royal Swedish Institute of Industrial and Scientific Research in Stockholm, Sweden. It is interesting to note that this work seeks for a method which will permit industrial institutions to better select employees suitable for their occupations. While this may be primarily for the benefit of the industrial organizations its accomplishment will be of inestimable value to the individual employee, for it is undoubtedly true that many individuals would not have broken down mentally had their life work been chosen with a better understanding of their personalities and capacities.

Miss Helen C. Sinclair, Superintendent of Nurses, who resigned on June 10, was succeeded by Miss R. Helen Cleland on June 19. The Hospital was fortunate in securing her services, as she is a graduate of our own school of nursing and was formerly Assistant Superintendent of Nurses. In the interval she has had a large and successful experience in training school and hospital work.

Miss Effie M. Inch, Assistant Superintendent of Nurses, resigned on August 31. She has returned to fill the position of Superintendent of Nurses at the Augusta State Hospital in Maine, the position which she held before coming to this Hospital. The position has been filled temporarily by Miss Martha E. Kehoe, who is a graduate of the Butler Hospital Training School for Nurses.

The nurses' home was opened on May 16, and is filling a long felt need. The total cost of building and furnishing the home together with the grading of the grounds and necessary road building was $273,518.03.

The Hospital entertained the Nurses' Alumni Association at its annual meeting on June 26. There were about three hundred members present.

The Association is a source of strength to the Hospital and the School and has been helpful in many ways. During the year a fund was collected out of which were purchased, as its gift to the nurses' home, a grand piano and a portrait of Miss Lucia E. Woodward, formerly Superintendent of Nurses and connected with the Hospital for forty-eight years.

I am glad to report that the School of Nursing is in a satisfactory condition in so far as the women's department is concerned. The lengthening of the course for men to three years with an affiliated course of one year in a general hospital offers them a course similar to that given the women. Our School of Nursing is one of the very few which gives any course to men, and its standard was raised with the hope of attracting better men from a larger field. While it will take some time to see results a satisfactory beginning has been made and the prospect of placing the men's department on the same plane as the women's is good. A detailed account of the School may be found in the report of the Superintendent of Nurses.

In addition to the ordinary routine minor repairs necessary to the upkeep of the Hospital nearly $30,000.00 was spent for unusual repairs and new equipment, $5,637.82 for placing steel beams under the living room floors of the Codman House, $2,770.69 for partially rebuilding the coal trestle, $1,366.78 for laying a new electric cable to the Upham House, $553.00 for installation of an additional water line from the old pump house, $1,200.00 for two electric presses in the laundry, $7,756.62 for installing an additional boiler in the power house, $9,001.27 for alterations and equipment of the third floor of the Codman House for the use of patients. These quarters, which formerly were used by the nurses, became available for patients upon the opening of the nurses' home and furnish very attractive accommodations for ten patients.

In addition to the above mentioned expenses, for work done by the Hospital in connection with the nurses' home in the way of additional furnishings and equipment, grading the grounds and road building $7,156.96 was expended.

In spite of meeting these somewhat unusual and large expenditures the Hospital was able to turn over to the Treasurer $38,000.00 during the year to apply towards the debt on the nurses' home.

During the coming year repairs to the Appleton House corridor should be made and a new electric cable should be laid to the men's department. These items mentioned in last year's report were not accomplished. The estimated cost is about $3,000.00.

The large copper roofs of the Administration Building and of the Service Building are in poor condition and inspection indicates that at almost any time their renewal may be necessary. The cost of this work has not yet been estimated but undoubtedly will be a matter of considerable expense. It is hoped that with some minor repairs they may be made to last for another year or two.

The old baking oven is fast approaching the end of its usefulness and a new oven will soon be necessary. It would seem advisable when it is installed to move the bake shop from its present poor location on the north side of the building to quarters on the south side adjacent to the general kitchen and the pastry shop, where a new oven also is needed. These two departments can then be combined in ample, light and well ventilated quarters. The cost of making these changes and installing the new ovens is estimated to be about $5,000.00.

The success of the single cottages and the continued demand for more of them causes me to recommend that plans be made for the ultimate building of at least three additional cottages, for which excellent locations are available in the neighborhood of the Arlington House. I recommend that one of them be built during the coming year. Such cottages not only provide people of means with an opportunity for care and treatment under homelike conditions with the advantages of the Hospital's supervision and resources, such as are unobtainable in any small private establishment, but yield a surplus which can be devoted to the care and treatment of other patients who are in less fortunate circumstances.

The market values of commodities with which the farm has supplied the Hospital were : milk, $18,618.20; beef and pork products, $9,120.87; vegetables, $2,677.10; fruit, $1,858.62.

For these and for a considerable amount of general work credited to it in the way of hauling coal, road building, etc., it has a credit balance of $6,945.27. This does not include water furnished by the farm, the estimated value of which is about $7,000.00.

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the following:

The Trustees of the Sarah C. M. Lovering Fund for $659.60, expended as follows:

Books	$18.84
Repairing pianos	165.00
Pianos	400.00
Christmas decorations	75.76

Mr. Frank C. Dow for $500.00 donated to the Nurses' Home Fund.

Dr. George L. Walton for four books given the medical library.

Dr. Walter E. Paul for one book given the medical library.

Miss Elizabeth H. Bond for a collection of valuable music given the library and wards, and also for Christmas candy given for the wards.

Miss Eleanor Bigelow for gifts for Christmas trees.

Mrs. Walter Kirkpatrick for magazines and three books given the library.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the McLean Committee for their helpful advice, and to express my appreciation of the support given me by the Board of Trustees.

FREDERIC H. PACKARD,
Medical Superintendent.

FORTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE McLEAN HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING

To the Medical Superintendent of the McLean Hospital:

The following report of the McLean Hospital School of Nursing is respectfully submitted:

The School of Nursing, with the completion of the forty-three years of its existence, has a roll of graduates including 991 names — 625 women and 366 men. In the following summary it is shown how many remain in the work of nursing and into what positions of life others have gone:

	Men	Women
Number of graduates in thirty-eight years	366	625
Graduates remaining in the service as nurses	18	25
Graduates remaining in the service as officers	4	5
Superintendents of hospitals	6	7
Superintendents of nurses	1	8

This table shows that of the 565 women graduates of the School, who are now living, 260 are still engaged in the profession of nursing and that of the 325 men graduates, 113 are still nurses. Sixty-one of the men graduates have become physicians; of these, 2 are superintendents of hospitals, 55 are in private practice and 4 have died. Five women have become physicians, of whom 1 has married and left the profession and 4 are in private practice.

During the year there have been several changes in the nursing department. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Effie M. Inch on August 31st, as Assistant Superintendent of Nurses, was filled temporarily on September 23rd, by the appointment of Miss Martha E. Kehoe, a graduate of the Butler Hospital Training School for Nurses, Providence, Rhode Island, who has had a broad and varied experience in mental and general nursing.

Miss Edith P. Hodgdon, Instructor in Practical Nursing, resigned on May 16th, and was succeeded by Mrs. Ethel Washburn Hines, a graduate of Butler Hospital Training School for Nurses, who afterwards studied at the Teachers College. We are fortunate in getting one so well prepared to fill this position. On the resignation of Miss Marion G. Parsons, Instructor in Theoretical Nursing, Miss Marion Manning was appointed on September 24th to fill her place. Miss Manning is a graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses and the Teachers College and has filled important executive and teaching positions.

Miss Ruth McLeod, class of 1918, was appointed Assistant Supervisor of the Women's Department on June 20th. Miss Ruby McCulloch, class of 1924, was appointed to succeed Mrs. Annie M. Jepson, class of 1919, as Assistant Night Supervisor of the Women's Department.

Miss Valborg J. Krossberg, class of 1915, Night Supervisor of the Women's Department, resigned December 27th. The vacancy has not yet been filled.

I regret to report the death of Miss Marion L. Smith, class of 1925, who died of diphtheria on August 7th, at the Worcester City Hospital while an affiliated student there.

In addition to the affiliation with the Training Schools of the Massachusetts General Hospital, the New England Hospital for Women and Children and the Worcester City Hospital we have renewed our affiliation with the Springfield Training School.

The table given below indicates the number of graduates and student nurses in the service of the Hospital:

Women graduates	36
Men graduates	18
Women student nurses	87
Men student nurses (3 years' course)	18
Men student nurses (2 years' course)	7
Men attendants	21

Of the eighty-seven student nurses, thirty-seven are at present in the affiliating schools. Of the eighteen men students, five are now at the Bellevue Hospital Training School.

Twenty-nine women students and nine men students were enrolled in the September class.

The change made last year in the course for men is already showing good results in the number and quality of the applicants for admission to the School. The Hospital now offers the men the same three year course given women, with a year in a general hospital.

From the many letters received daily seeking information in regard to psychiatric nursing, it is evident that more general hospital graduates are realizing the importance of this branch of the work. During the year four students from the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses availed themselves of the affiliated course offered in psychiatric nursing and twelve seniors from the Cambridge Hospital Training School for Nurses attended the lectures and clinics of this course.

On May 16th the long anticipated and much needed nurses' home was opened. In it are now comfortably housed one hundred and five women nurses. The living room, with its rich furnishings, made possible by the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Gannett, and the piano given by the Alumni are especially enjoyed. A portrait of Miss Lucia E. Woodward, a gift of the Alumni, hangs over the mantel. Miss Woodward was formerly Superintendent of Nurses and resigned on August 31, 1912, after forty-eight years of service to the Hospital.

Much credit is due Mrs. Emma E. Brigham, class of 1896, for her initiative in starting and her zeal in collecting the fund from which these gifts were made, and to Miss Margaret E. Clark, class of 1900, who acted as treasurer. There is an unexpended balance with which some other gift is to be made. How much this will amount to is not now known, as some of the money pledged is still coming in.

The attractive dining room, located in the building in which the nurses live, assures them of much comfort, while the recreation room with kitchenette, and the laundry give them opportunities to make use of their free time. With the ample class and demonstration rooms and the laboratories the facilities for carrying on the teaching of the nurses are all that could be desired.

Much has been done to promote the social side of hospital life. In February the Hospital gave the nurses a Valentine party and in March Dr. Hoch gave them an instructive and entertaining talk on his trip to Porto Rico. In May the Trapelo Club, a student and graduate organization, gave an entertainment, "The Family Album," which was much enjoyed.

The usual Fourth of July program was carried out with sports and the ball game between the graduate and undergraduate women nurses, the victory and the silver cup again going to the undergraduates.

The Trapelo Club gave a Halloween party to the students of the September class, which was the usual gay and happy occasion.

The first Christmas in the new Home was celebrated by a party in the living room, which was made cheerful by a bright fire burning in the fireplace and a brilliantly lighted tree carrying many gifts. Miss Woodward was a welcome guest on this occasion.

The annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held at the Hospital on June 26th, with over three hundred nurses present, many of whom came from long distances. The day was perfect and the Hospital grounds never looked more beautiful. The morning was spent in visiting the various buildings and renewing old friendships. The Nurses' Home was an added attraction and was greatly admired by all. At one o'clock a buffet luncheon was served in the library and at two-thirty the Alumni gathered in the Chapel for the business meeting, at the opening of which greetings were extended most felicitously by Mr. George Wigglesworth, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. The officers elected were Miss Maud H. Roscoe, president; Miss Effie M. Inch, first vice-president; Miss Grace M. Neal, second vice-president; Mrs. Luna J. Young Holmes, secretary; Miss Maybelle E. Harris, assistant secretary; Mrs. Isabella W. McCabe Joy, treasurer; Miss Effie Ross, Mrs. Carrie Mabee Hancock, Miss Annie E. Brown, executive committee. At the close of the meeting a group picture was taken on the steps of the Administration building, followed by a buffet supper in the library.

At seven o'clock the company adjourned to the Chapel for the evening meeting, at which Dr. Packard, Superintendent of the Hospital, introduced Dr. George T. Tuttle and Dr. E. Stanley Abbot, speakers of the evening. Seats were reserved for the student nurses, who formed outside and marched across the lawn into the Chapel after the company was seated. At the close of the meeting all joined in singing the School song and the day ended with a dance and a social good time in the amusement hall.

On October 29th, the graduating exercises were held in the Chapel. Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, a member of the Board of Trustees, presided and introduced Miss Linda Richards, speaker of the evening. Miss Richards, called the Dean of American Nurses, was the first nurse to graduate in America.

Mr. George Wigglesworth, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, presented diplomas to twenty-one nurses and the formal exercises ended with singing of the School song. A dance and reception in the amusement hall followed.

On December 2nd, a Ladies' Advisory Committee was formed to work with the Hospital authorities in promoting the interests and welfare of the nurses and the School. This Committee is composed of Mrs. William W. Vaughan, Chairman, Mrs. Barrett Wendell, Mrs. Robert Grant and Mrs. John Lowell.

Thanks are due to the officers of the McLean and the affiliated hospitals for their interest in the nurses and for their efforts to instruct and inspire them in the profession they have chosen.

McLEAN HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING WAVERLEY, MASS., 1882–1924

THE Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital Corporation established a school for the instruction of nurses at the McLean Hospital in 1882. It was the first school established in this country for the training of nurses in mental nursing. Special training offered in a psychiatric hospital is becoming more and more insisted upon as a part of the equipment of every well trained nurse.

The School gives to men and women a three years' course of training in general nursing, with special reference to the care of patients suffering from nervous and mental diseases. At the end of the junior year the women student nurses spend fourteen months of the three years' course in affiliating schools, where they receive practical experience in the nursing of obstetrical cases and of medical, surgical, orthopedic and children's diseases and further academic instruction in these subjects. The men student nurses also spend twelve months of the three years' course in affiliating schools, where they receive practical experience in the nursing of medical, surgical and genito-urinary diseases and further academic instruction in these subjects. On the successful completion of the course a diploma is granted.

The School is accredited by the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses. Graduates from this School are eligible for registration in New York state and also are eligible for service in the United States Army and Navy and with the Red Cross.

Nursing the mentally sick is of such a character that it requires the student nurse to have a good preliminary education. It also demands a high grade of self-discipline and devotion to service. No other field offers a broader scope for real nursing skill and accomplishment in the alleviation of human suffering, and none affords better opportunities for material success and advancement.

Applicants for admission to the School may be accepted between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five. They must be of good moral character and good health, and preferably shall have had four years of high school education or the equivalent, but inasmuch as a nurse with one year of high school education is eligible for State registration, applicants with one year of high school may be accepted.

Student nurses, in addition to maintenance and laundry, are granted an allowance of $30.00 a month during the period of training at this Hospital. During the year spent in affiliating schools the allowance will be $15.00 a month and maintenance. Upon graduation a salary of $75.00 a month and maintenance is paid to those who remain in the service. The allowance should be viewed as a scholarship, which makes it possible for the young man or woman of limited means to prepare for a nursing career and should not be considered as compensation for service.

There is for student nurses a preliminary or probation period of four months, during which time they are not on full-time duty, but receive the regular money allowance. This period is included as a part of the three years' course of training. Upon the completion of the preliminary period student nurses are placed on regular eight-hour ward duty. Throughout the year student nurses are allowed two half days off duty each week and are given two weeks' vacation each year. There also is an allowance of two weeks in case of sickness. Students are on night duty not longer than two consecutive months.

Women student nurses, on arrival, must be prepared to purchase three " Dix Make " plain blue chambray dresses at a cost of $4.50 each. Aprons, collars, cuffs, etc., are provided by the Hospital at cost. At the completion of the probationary period the student is allowed to wear the student nurses' uniform, which is provided by the Hospital at cost. In addition to an adequate supply of the usual undergarments, which should be marked with the name in full, the student should come provided with the following : 2 pairs black shoes with low rubber heels, 2 laundry bags, a napkin ring and a watch with second hand. These same requirements apply to the men students, except that they are not required to wear a special uniform, but are expected to wear a plain dark business suit. Students must also provide their own text books, which are furnished by the Hospital at cost.

Regular courses of instruction begin on September 15th and February 1st, but applications are considered at any time. It is a distinct advantage for students to be in the Hospital for some weeks before the formal opening of classes.

Application blanks for admission to the School are furnished upon request to the Superintendent of Nurses, McLean Hospital, Waverley, Massachusetts.

SYLLABUS OF THREE-YEAR COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

Opening Address

History of Nursing. (10 hours.)

Brief outline of the history of the development of nursing for bodily illness and mental disorder.

AFFILIATED COURSE

(For both men and women students)

The School offers a four months' course to third-year students of accredited Training Schools for Nurses. The special training offered in a neuro-psychiatric hospital is becoming more and more insisted upon as a part of the equipment of every nurse. Whether in private work, or in the industrial, public health, or administrative fields, the nurse may at any time have to meet situations calling for particular skill in the care of nervous and mental disturbances. The object of this course is to qualify the general hospital nurse to meet such requirements. Students are given ward experience in the management of a wide range of mental cases and courses of instruction leading to intelligent understanding of their care. The courses in mental and nervous diseases consist of lectures, demonstrations and practical work in the observation and measurement of mental functions. The chief problems and methods of mental hygiene are discussed. Anatomy, physiology and pathology of the nervous system are covered in lectures and demonstrations. Demonstrations and practice are given in the use of occupational therapy, hydrotherapy and massage.

Affiliated students must conform to the rules of the Training School and will wear the uniform of their own school.

At the end of the course a class record is furnished to the superintendent of the affiliating school. A certificate is granted upon the satisfactory completion of the four months' course.

Courses begin in October and February.

Superintendents of Training Schools desiring to arrange for their students to take this course should communicate with the Superintendent of Nurses, McLean Hospital, Waverley, Massachusetts.

SYLLABUS OF INSTRUCTION

Italics followed by figures indicate service and date of graduation from Hospital as a house officer. Initial letters followed by figures, the whole enclosed in parentheses, indicate that such alumnus is now on active service on the Hospital Staff; e.g. (E.M. 1910). Otherwise, the individual is not an M.G.H. alumnus.

Addresses are in Boston unless stated to be elsewhere; and are in Massachusetts when no State is indicated. It will be noticed that the number precedes the name of a street, but follows the name of a building.

Names of places are abbreviated as follows: Aub. = Auburndale; Brkln. = Brookline; Cmb. = Cambridge; Chsn. = Charlestown; Dor. = Dorchester; Jam. Pl. = Jamaica Plain; Medfd. = Medford; N. Y. preceded by street address = New York City; Rox. = Roxbury; Som. = Somerville; Wlthm. = Waltham.

The legal title of the Corporation is

"The Massachusetts General Hospital"

All gifts and bequests, if without restriction, will be used as the Trustees deem most for the interest of the Corporation and its Beneficiaries.

The Hospital is greatly in need of additional funds. It will gratefully receive subscriptions for any amount.

Owing to the very general increase in the cost of running the Hospital, the subscribers to the Free Bed Fund are most urgently requested to increase their subscriptions to the Fund whenever possible.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES

FOR THE YEAR 1925

THE Trustees present their report for the year ending December 31, 1925.

In a review of the happenings of a year one's thoughts turn first to the losses in the Hospital family. Francis Lee Higginson died August 19, 1925. Mr. Higginson was a Trustee from 1900 to 1914 and a member of the Corporation until his death. His interest was great, his counsel valuable; he made liberal financial gifts to the Hospital.

Dr. John Wheelock Elliot died September 17, 1925. He passed through all grades of the surgical staff from House Pupil to Visiting Surgeon. He was a member of the Board of Consultation. He gave liberally to the Hospital, both in service and money. Of great professional skill, he was a worthy product of this great Hospital.

Mr. Galen L. Stone has resigned from the Board of Trustees much to their regret. He is sympathetic to the Hospital's needs and generous in his response. He will continue his interest in the Hospital as a member of the Corporation.

Noted among the changes in the active professional Staff are the following: Dr. Charles J. White promoted to be Chief of the Dermatological Service; Dr. J. Homer Wright from the position of Pathologist to that of Consultant in Pathology; and the retirement of Dr. Oscar Richardson, Assistant Pathologist. Dr. Richardson's service has been long and faithful. Dr. Tracy Mallory has been made Chief of the Pathological Department.

The Ether Day address was by Dr. John H. Gibbon, Professor of Surgery and Clinical Surgery, Jefferson Medical College. His subject was "The Influence of the Boston Profession on American Medicine."

Among the gifts reported by the Treasurer is the sum of $643,115.59 from the estate of Miss Josephine Williams. Miss Williams was the daughter of the late Washington Williams of the firm of Hovey, Williams & Co., predecessors to the firm of C. F. Hovey & Company. Miss Williams felt that as her father made his money in Boston, a substantial part of it should return there. The Trustees are most appreciative of this large gift and the spirit in which it was made.

In February the medical patients were moved back into the East Wing of the Bulfinch Building. During the spring months the rest of the wing was occupied. The plans were published in the last Annual Report. The cost has been: construction, $351,036.53, furnishings, $39,474.32. The facilities provided have proved satisfactory to the Trustees and Staff — the patients have many more comforts, the laboratory facilities for diagnosis and research are adequate and the number of beds has been increased.

So well pleased were the Trustees with the result of this renovation and addition to the Bulfinch Building that they instructed the Director to proceed to fireproof the Centre and West Wing and to make certain additions in the rear. This work has been under way since May. For plans and description of this construction readers are referred to the Directors' report elsewhere in this volume.

Plans are being studied for the Hospital for People of Moderate Means. It is expected that work may be commenced in the spring of 1926.

The Trustees have been more than ever impressed during this year with the fact that as the community which it serves grows and prospers, and the demands of the modern care of patients — diagnosis, medical education and research — become more intricate and expensive, this Hospital must increase and improve its facilities. With the end in view of seeing if the people of the state would support this larger activity, Advisory Committees have been formed of leading men and women. These groups have visited the Hospital, have examined into the projected changes, and have given it as their opinion that the sum of money, necessarily large, can be raised. They have indicated their willingness to help in obtaining this money.

This has encouraged the Trustees to plan for expansion and improvement. Early in 1926 an earnest effort will be made to obtain this money for the Hospital. It should be remembered that the Hospital receives no financial assistance from either state or city, and is entirely dependent on the charity of its friends and well-wishers for its financial needs. The immediate needs are as follows:

Remodelling and fireproofing of rest of the Bulfinch Building. The East Wing was made fireproof and a large addition built in the rear last summer. The cost of this was $351,036.53. The equipment cost $39,474.32. The money necessary to pay for these improvements was raised in 1924. The Centre and West Wing are in process of fireproofing and an addition is being built in the rear. The cost of this work and the equipment is estimated to be about $400,000. When this undertaking is completed the Bulfinch Building will be safe from fire and ninety-six medical patients, one hundred and four surgical and neurological patients, and forty children, a total of two hundred and forty patients, will be adequately housed with all necessary modern facilities. This adds forty-nine beds to the General Hospital. In this building have also been provided chemical and research laboratories and laboratories for house officers and students.

Hospital for People of Moderate Means. — It is proposed to erect a building to house eventually three hundred patients; at the outset, about one hundred and fifty patients and the nurses needed for their care. As the demand increases it is proposed to build a nurses' home for the care of these nurses. This would enable us to replace nurses by patients in this building so that it would accommodate three hundred patients. The money is in hand for the patients' building and a portion of its endowment. Three hundred thousand dollars in addition is required as an endowment for the first stage of this scheme.

Development of Out-Patient Department Building, for extension of our own work and to more effectively work with the Out-Patient Department of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear

Infirmary. The pressure of patients, the necessity of space for the development of modern methods in Out-Patient Departments, and, perhaps, most of all, the very great need of a close physical connection between the Out-Patient Departments of the two hospitals, demand extensive building developments. The cost would be about $500,000.

New Ward Building for General Hospital Patients and for X-ray Departments. — The community grows rapidly; the Hospital has added few beds in many years. The pressure upon it for admission of patients is great. Many of these can find nowhere else the same chance for life or relief from suffering. We cannot take them all. The modern X-ray and Radium Department calls for much space and expensive equipment.

It is proposed to erect a Ward Building to stand in the middle of our plant, where are now certain old buildings which are a fire menace and of small utility. This Ward Building would enable us to increase the number of our General Hospital patients by one hundred and fifty, adequately house and equip our X-ray plant, and complete the unfinished Surgical Building. The cost of this building is estimated at $550,000.

New Heating Plant. — The Boiler House was erected in 1898. Four of its seven boilers are twenty-seven years old, the others near the end of their usefulness. The Trustees have employed Densmore & LeClear, Engineers, to study the situation and advise them. These engineers have made a preliminary report in which they declare the present plant inadequate for heating and furnishing steam to existing buildings, kitchens and laundry. They further report that the present building is not large enough for modern boilers. We know it is poorly located. They advise us that an entirely new plant will be needed, and give a rough preliminary figure of cost of $500,000.

The year at the McLean Hospital has been one of satisfactory accomplishment. There was an increase in the number of patients cared for, due to additional accommodations becoming available for their use on the third floor of the Codman House when the nurses who had occupied the rooms there were transferred to the Nurses' Home.

There were many more applications for admission than could be received, as is usual each year. The percentage of discharged cases recorded as recovered was 31.4. In addition to these, 33⅓ per cent of those discharged left the Hospital in an improved condition.

Dr. Theodore A. Hoch and Dr. Freeman A. Tower, the First and Second Assistant Physicians, resigned during the year and were succeeded by Dr. Kenneth J. Tillotson and Dr. Sidney M. Bunker, and the position of Clinical Assistant and Pathologist was filled by the appointment of Dr. Ray L. Whitney. Except for the fact that it is difficult to get junior assistant physicians, the Hospital has at the present time a very satisfactory and efficient Staff.

The research laboratories have been busy, especially the chemical laboratory, where the increase of work has been such as to necessitate the appointment of an Assistant Chemist. Much preliminary work has been done from which it is hoped that later practical results will be forthcoming.

The condition of the School of Nursing has been very satisfactory, and the prospects of its further success are better than they have been for some time.

No new construction has taken place during the year, but a considerable amount of money has been spent for the usual and some unusual repairs.

The Trustees invite attention to the appended reports of their officers. They face the year 1926 with the confident belief that before its end they will be possessed of the means to warrant them in undertaking these larger activities.

JOHN R. MACOMBER,
Committee.

1 Federal Street, Boston,
February 18, 1926.

To the Committee on Accounts, Massachusetts General Hospital,
Boston, Massachusetts.

Sirs: — In accordance with your instructions, we have made an examination of the books and records of the Massachusetts General Hospital, comprising the records of the General Hospital, the McLean Hospital, and the Treasurer, for the year ending December 31, 1925, for the purpose of verifying the cash transactions for that period and of reporting upon the financial condition of the hospital at December 31, 1925.

WE HEREBY CERTIFY:

1. That all funds shown to have been received have been accounted for, and that we have found vouchers or other satisfactory evidence of payment for all disbursements.
2. That the balance of cash on December 31, 1925, as shown by the books of the Hospitals and the Treasurer, amounting to $122,-987.71, was on hand at that date.
3. That securities (par value $2,059,795.00) carried at a book value of $2,540,884.00, and annuities receivable, consisting of three policies amounting to $160,000.00, as shown by the books of the Treasurer, were certified by the New England Trust Company as being in its possession as at December 31, 1925.
4. That a mortgage note receivable, amounting to $485,000.00, was certified by the New England Trust Company as being in its possession at December 31, 1925.
5. That two mortgage notes receivable, amounting to $25,125.00, were in the possession of the Treasurer as at December 31, 1925.

Respectfully submitted,

Patterson, Teele & Dennis,
Accountants and Auditors.

REPORT OF THE LADIES' VISITING COMMITTEE

The Ladies of the Visiting Committee have continued their visits throughout the wards of the Hospital as in former years. Their friendly visiting has been supplemented in some cases by following up certain patients who on leaving the Hospital were almost without resources and unable to work. In this way they have co-operated more fully with the Social Service Department.

The needs of the Warren Library are constantly increasing, and books have been supplied from time to time, especially books in foreign languages. The Committee have also contributed games, victrolas, records, and knitted articles for general use in the Hospital, and, during the summer months, boxes of flowers. A radio set has been placed in Ward A, the gift of a member of this Committee. Playing cards sent by the Somerset Club have been greatly appreciated.

The Christmas celebration differed somewhat from that of former years. Five trees were placed in the Hospital grounds, one near the Bulfinch front and one on each side of Ward F and of Ward I. These trees were lighted by electricity Christmas Eve and every evening during the following week. A member contributed the trees and supervised the work of buying suitable gifts and of distributing those which were sent in. The total expenses were $169, which includes a check of $85.32 for lighting the trees, but does not include 500 bags of candy, a gift from Mrs. Thorpe of Cambridge.

This year there has been fuller co-operation with the Training School Committee, who arranged the teas for nurses. From November to May a member of this Committee has been present at these weekly teas in addition to sharing the expenses of the entertainment.

The Ladies' Visiting Committee has again contributed $500 toward the salary of a trained worker in the Social Service Department and $200 toward a salary in the Occupational Therapy Department.

A member has continued to pay the salary of a trained assistant in the Social Service Department.

The income from the Sarah P. Joslin Fund has been turned over this year to the Occupational Therapy work, and the income of the Annie Norton Ward Fund has been given to the Warren Library for the purchase of special books.

CHARLOTTE S. SPRAGUE,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL

PERHAPS the general public wonders why reports are annually written, but Hospital workers care to put down recurrently what they are doing, with a sure feeling that some one will be interested to read; hence the Advisory Committee gives its report as usual.

The year has brought no great events to the Training School, but for the Committee there is the steady record of work, of visiting the wards, of co-operation with Miss Johnson, the Superintendent of Nurses, of interest in all the affairs of the nurses. Long visits to all parts of the Hospital are made weekly. Two of the Committee came to Ward E at 7.30 A.M. and sat there a couple of hours, noting with satisfaction the quiet and orderly working of a very busy ward. Lunch and dinner are taken with the nurses and weekly afternoon teas are given to the nurses, in conjunction with the Ladies of the Visiting Committee.

The Training School Committee meets three times in the winter with the larger Advisory Committee and Trustees for general consultation and advice on matters connected with the training of nurses, which is of much value to all members.

It is now rather more than fifty years since this Training School (the third in the United States) was founded. Inevitably in those years there have come changes and large developments in nursing. The Public Health Nurse in all her manifestations, is a great and new development and must be properly trained and educated in her duties. This adds, of course, to the necessary hospital training and brings up many problems of education and administration, but as all education advances, so must the nurse be trained in her growing duties to the community at large.

We need the intelligent help and understanding of all friends of nursing and of this Hospital, to help this Committee to carry on its part of the work of service to this great and much loved Hospital.

ELLEN T. VAUGHAN,
Secretary of the Ladies' Committee on the Training School.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE GENERAL HOSPITAL

To the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital:

Gentlemen: — I herewith submit my Eighteenth Annual Report.

A most important happening was the decision of the Trustees to proceed with the remodelling and fireproofing of the remainder of the Bulfinch Building. Work was begun in May. The end of the year finds the roof on and the building nearly closed in. Patients should be back in the wards during the spring of 1926. Floor plans of the building accompany this report. As in the East Wing, an area has been dug along the front of the West Wing, windows have been cut in the old foundation wall, and the basement put to useful purpose. The rear wall of the West Wing and the towers have been carried up so that a fourth floor is available without injury to the appearance of the front of the building. A new tower has been built over a portion of the laundry. This will contain service rooms for Wards 23 and 29, and ward kitchen and service rooms for the enlarged and improved Children's Wards.

The completion of this work will give us safety from fire in this part of the Hospital, modern facilities and sufficient space for ward administration. There will be 40 children's beds instead of 27, as formerly. There will be added two 12-bed wards on the first floor, to be divided between the Neurological Service and the Surgical Service. There will be modern laboratories upon the fourth floor for house officers and students. An elevator will be provided which will readily take the beds either down to the terrace in the Hospital's fine yard, or up to clinics in the Ether Amphitheatre. A smoking room for patients will be provided upon the fourth floor. Offices will be furnished for Surgical Chiefs and nearly full-time men, commodious quarters for the Warren Library and the House Social Service.

Before any of this work was begun upon the Bulfinch Building, there was provision for 191 patients; upon completion of the work there will be accommodation for 240 patients. In addition to this there will be all the increased facilities shown above and in the Director's report for 1924.

In the Trustees' report of this volume appears the approved list of hospital needs which it is proposed to try to meet now. We cannot shut our eyes to the fact that with these needs met, housing for nurses and men and women domestic help is still unprovided. An endowment will be needed for the Ward Building. The first stage of development of the Hospital for People of Moderate Means is all that we have so far. As our friends become more and more familiar with the great work done by the Hospital, and with its manifold needs, perhaps there will be such an increase in gifts and bequests that all these requirements will be met. The Country Branch and Contagious Department must wait unless special gifts are received for them.

The Trustees' report speaks of our loss by death of Mr. Higginson and Dr. Elliot. They were sympathetic friends of long standing of the Director. They will be greatly missed.

Dr. Frederick B. M. Cady, Assistant Neurologist, died this year; a younger man, he had given faithful service at the General Hospital and McLean Hospital.

The widening of Cambridge Street is nearing completion. It is too early to know just what effect it will have upon this part of the city. It will certainly cause far-reaching changes.

The authorities in charge of the new station authorized at the corner of Charles and Cambridge streets have found that insufficient funds were allotted them, and that they must go back to the Legislature for more money. This is a disappointment.

Mrs. Ruth Boretti, Supervisor of Ward Social Service, has left us to go to the Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester, New York. Mrs. Boretti's cheerful, faithful service has made its impress upon the Hospital.

Pictures of Drs. Oliver Wendell Holmes and Brown-Séquard, past members of our Staff, have been added to the Treadwell Library.

A library for patients has been added to the Phillips House.

Attention is invited to the appended tables.

Please accept my appreciation of the continued support and courtesy of your Board.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN, M.D.,
Director.

† These figures are obtained by taking the amount of money received for board of patients in public wards, and dividing that figure by the full rate of board prevalent at that time. This gives the number of days of paying patients, reckoned as though they were paying full rates. By subtracting this figure from the total of ward patients' days, we get the number of free days. Of the 118,786 patients' days at the General Hospital 58,243 are free.

* In this Table, each visit to the Out-Patient Department is counted once, regardless of the number of Clinics to which such patient may have been referred; consequently, the figures do not give the actual number of visits to each Special Clinic. For example: there were 2,054 actual visits (counting referred cases) to the Cardiac Clinic instead of 437, and to the Pulmonary Clinic 447 instead of 180.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF NURSES TO THE DIRECTOR

Statistical Report — December 31, 1925

Census of the School:
Graduate nurses	31
Massachusetts General Hospital pupils	164
Probationers	62
Affiliated	20
Total	277
Number of pupils at following, December 31, 1925:
Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary	4
Phillips House	10
Boston Lying-In Hospital	12
School of Public Health Nursing	5
McLean Hospital	4
Number of pupils from following, December 31, 1925:
Faulkner Hospital	5
Quincy Hospital	2
During 1925:
Graduated	46
Probationers admitted	123
Probationers dropped or withdrawn	29
Accepted pupils dropped and resigned	4
Pupils from affiliated schools who have taken course	40
Post-graduates who have taken short courses	1

Probably the most outstanding feature of 1925 has been the increased enrollment. One hundred and twenty-three young women have entered the school. This number is greater, by 17, than any previous class. This larger entering class has taxed our housing accommodations to the limit. If this school is to be further enlarged to meet the hospital building program, the housing facilities must be increased.

The second outstanding feature of the year has been the improved health record of the students. Such records as are available would indicate that there has never before been so little illness among the students. This is due, partly, to an increased personal responsibility for keeping well, and largely, to a greater enrollment, which lessens the burden carried by each student nurse.

Because of the increased enrollment it has been necessary to ask several schools to withdraw their affiliating students. Today, McLean, Faulkner, and Quincy are the only schools sending students here. The Quincy Hospital is housing its students outside the Hospital.

Educationally, we have this year concentrated upon ward teaching. Each supervisor has endeavored to hold four bedside clinics each week. A student nurse prepares the subject-matter for these clinics. She emphasizes the factors which contribute to the illness; the reasons why the treatment provided will relieve the symptoms; the contribution which the nursing care will make to the recovery; the instructions which should be given to the patient to relieve his symptoms and prevent further illness.

A checking system on practical procedures has been installed in order to insure opportunity to the student of performing the more difficult nursing procedures.

A graduate head nurse of the Out-Patient Department, who had the four-month course at the School of Public Health Nursing, was sent to visit the nursing work in the New Haven Dispensary. Upon her return she spent several days in our Out-Patient Clinics, and endeavored to draw up some plans which would interpret that field to the student nurse.

The Psychopathic Hospital was unable to continue lectures and bedside clinics for the students in the general hospitals. Therefore it became necessary to send students to the McLean Hospital for a limited number of clinics.

Greater use has been made of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary for clinical teaching. This school is greatly indebted to that school for excellent teaching.

An elective affiliation with the Boston City Hospital for a three-month course in the care of contagious diseases has been authorized.

Perhaps one of the greatest contributions which this school has made to the nursing world this year is Part II of Miss McCrae's "Nursing Procedures," which gives the details of advanced nursing procedures. This book, with Part I, published a little more than a year ago, may be purchased from M. Barrows & Company, Huntington Chambers, Boston.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLY M. JOHNSON, R.N.,
Superintendent of Nurses and Principal of the Training School.

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

General Statement. The circular of information giving a detailed survey of the course of instruction and of requirements for admission may be obtained upon request. Personal applications may be made between ten and twelve o'clock on Tuesday mornings, and at other times by appointment. The length of the course is three years, which includes the preliminary period of four months.

Requirements for Admission. Full high-school education or its actual equivalent is required. There is no arbitrary age limit. Acceptance depends upon education, general health, and personal qualifications.

Expense of Course. The tuition fee is $50, and breakage deposit $10. The students will be provided with board, lodging, and laundry throughout the course; also with required textbooks. Students will be required to provide uniforms during the preliminary period, but after acceptance their uniforms will be furnished by the Hospital.

Scholarship — Loan Fund. Six scholarships of $100 each are awarded annually to students doing satisfactory work and needing financial aid. There is a small loan fund.

Hours of Duty — Vacation. During the preliminary course the daily average of ward duty is slightly over two hours. For accepted students the day duty is fifty-two hours a week, and the night duty fifty-six hours a week. The vacation allowance for the entire course of three years is ten weeks, one week of which is sometimes used as a leave of absence to aid in the maintenance of the student's health.

Practical Experience. All students obtain experience in general medical and surgical nursing, obstetrical nursing, care of sick children, and in operating room technique. The majority obtain experience in the nursing of orthopedic patients, and the care of patients having skin diseases. There are many desirable electives.

Theoretical Instruction. The theoretical instruction is comprehensive and well given.

The Special Five-Year Course. A special five-year course is offered in affiliation with Simmons College, which entitles the pupil to the degree of B.S. from Simmons College, the diploma of the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses, and a certificate of Public Health Nursing. Further information relative to this course may be obtained from the Director, School of Public Health Nursing, Simmons College, 300 The Fenway, Boston, Mass.

Time Allowance to College Graduates. Time allowance will be given graduates of approved colleges, provided the course has included the basic sciences relating to nursing. Among these sciences are biology, chemistry, sociology, psychology, and those of the household group. The maximum allowance will be eight months. This allowance may not be determined until the student has been in the school for eight months.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

A PROGRESSIVE hospital of diversified activities must of necessity be in a somewhat constant state of change and reorganization. This has perhaps been especially noteworthy during the past year, owing to prospective building, alterations on a large scale, and staff changes due to resignations, promotions and the natural readjustments dependent thereon.

In our last report we made special note of the generous gift of Mrs. Mary R. Richardson toward the establishment of a hospital for persons of moderate means, in close affiliation with the General Hospital. The need of this addition to our equipment is obvious and increases year by year; it is hoped that Mrs. Richardson's gift may stimulate others to contribute to the endowment of this most important, but hitherto neglected, part of the Hospital's work, to the end that the plans already formulated may be consummated at an early date. Mention was also made of the remodelling of the Bulfinch Building, which has gone on as well as modern conditions of labor permit. The East Wing with its appended laboratories has been completed for some months and is proving satisfactory. Repairs on the West Wing are still in progress, with the hope that they may be completed before summer. That this old building could have been so far renovated as to meet the exacting needs of a modern hospital without impairing its architectural effect is highly creditable to those who have had the alterations in charge.

The Surgical Department reorganized after the resignation of Dr. Franklin G. Balch, has been functioning smoothly and with efficiency, as may be seen by reference to the special surgical report. The matter of paramount importance during the past year has been the reorganization of the Pathological Department. This department in any properly constituted hospital should in a very definite sense be the centre about which its scientific activities revolve. With the growth of knowledge, the scope of what has been designated pathology has expanded until now it is coming to invade not only the field of bacteriology, but also that of chemistry and allied subjects, and its relations therefore to the problems of medicine and surgery are continually coming to be more intimate and far-reaching. After a long period of service, Dr. J. Homer Wright has resigned and has been appointed Consulting Pathologist. It is fitting to place on record our appreciation of Dr. Wright's high scientific attainments. His work has brought credit not only to himself, but also to the institution which he has faithfully served. It is hoped and expected that in his capacity as Consultant, he will continue to give the Hospital the benefit of his wide experience, and at the same time be able to prosecute researches, untrammelled by administrative detail. Dr. Tracy B. Mallory has been appointed Chief of the Department of Pathology to fill the vacancy occasioned by Dr. Wright's resignation. Dr. Oscar Richardson, Assistant Pathologist, has retired after a disinterested service of twenty-eight years, but will continue his duties for the present, or until Dr. Mallory is prepared to assume responsibility for the conduct of the department.

A change of policy deserving of mention at this time is the gradual introduction into the hospital system of men devoting a part or all of their time to clinical or laboratory research, to the exclusion of private practice. The question of whole-time clinical teachers in medicine is still under vigorous dispute with no final solution as yet in sight, but out of the discussion certain facts appear to have been established. It is apparent that intensive work on the part of properly trained men is essential, if results of scientific importance are to be secured; this naturally entails concentration on the subject in hand, with a minimum of distraction. The policy, therefore, of establishing essentially full-time positions for men of proper attainments and equipment has very naturally developed at this Hospital. It has, however, seemed wise to grant to these picked men a certain freedom from the exacting demands of pure research, and to this end they have been given office room at the Hospital where they are allowed to see private patients. This plan has the double advantage of concentrating work at one place and also of bringing the Hospital into a new relation to the community through thus opening its doors to persons requiring medical care, but in no sense dependent upon charity. It is not to be doubted that ultimately this closer bond between the Hospital and the public which it serves will redound to the advantage of both. It is also our belief that the best care of the patient will be secured through the encouragement of research, stimulated by problems suggested by patients in the wards and carried out by men with ample time for such work, with the understanding that practice, as ordinarily understood, must be made subservient to the larger interests of the Hospital. This policy has already passed the experimental stage, and has demonstrated its utility by definite and tangible results.

The work accomplished in the individual departments and sub-departments of the Hospital is detailed in the following, more special part of this report. As we have said before, it is natural that the needs in every forward-looking department must and should outrun the means necessary to satisfy them. It is hoped that funds may soon be available, and we cannot too urgently emphasize this need, which will make possible development in many directions essential to future normal growth and expansion.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

General Medical Service

The year 1925 has been in several respects a notable one for the Medical Services. The reconstructed East Wing of the Bulfinch Building has been occupied, and two important reforms have been put into effect in the Out-Patient Department.

The four medical wards were moved into their new quarters on February 19 and 20, and the various laboratories on the ground and top floors and in the basement were occupied somewhat later. So far the arrangement of the building has proved highly satisfactory. The floor plans were shown in last year's report. The assignment of one floor to each service has proved to be a far more convenient arrangement than that which it replaced. The enlarged kitchen and utility rooms have greatly facilitated the care of patients, and the internes' and clerks' laboratories in close proximity to the wards have expedited the laboratory study of patients and made possible a far closer supervision of the laboratory work of students. The special study ward of ten beds on the ground floor, owing to reconstruction on the west end of the building, was used through the summer for surgical patients. It is now being started in its proper function under Dr. J. C. Aub's immediate direction, and certain cases of lead poisoning, exophthalmic goiter and obesity are being intensively studied. The various clinical and research laboratories are well under way in new quarters; the cardiographic and metabolism units in the basement, the chemical, spinal fluid, bacteriological and surgical laboratories on the top floor and the two large research laboratories on the ground floor. The medical staff room has filled a long-felt want and proved highly useful for numerous small meetings as well as for informal conferences among staff members.

In the Out-Patient Department, thanks largely to the efforts of Dr. F. M. Rackemann, an appointment system has been in successful operation since February 1. It was the sense of a recent meeting of the out-patient staff that this system has been a distinct improvement. The patient does less waiting and sees the same doctor on each visit, and the doctor is less hurried and has the added interest of being able to follow his cases. The Out-Patient Department visiting system has also been changed from a three-month rotating service to a bi-weekly continuous service. This, too, it is generally agreed, is definitely a change for the better. It makes possible continuous observation of protracted cases and is less arduous than the former method. Our special clinics have long provided the opportunity for the intensive clinical observation of selected groups of patients; with the appointment system the same opportunity may be found in the general clinics.

The functions of a general hospital are, first, the care of the sick; second, the instruction of students; third, the investigation of disease. The first two have always been well fulfilled at this Hospital. The third later development has shown a rapid growth in recent years. The increased laboratory space in the Bulfinch Building has allowed of considerable expansion, and this year finds us with fifteen physicians and twelve technical assistants engaged in special work of an investigative nature in this building alone. A considerable portion of the expense of this development is met by the Harvard Medical School.

Briefly, the investigations in progress and the grouping of workers are as follows: Dr. J. C. Aub, assisted by Dr. Walter A. Bauer and by Dr. and Mrs. Donald Hunter of London, is continuing his studies both on lead poisoning and on the adrenal glands. Dr. P. D. White, with his cardiographic group, including Dr. H. B. Sprague and Dr. T. D. Jones, has given attention to a variety of cardiac problems, including, among others, studies on quinidin and digitalis, and the effect of pertussis on the heart. Dr. A. V. Bock, during the first half of this year with Dr. H. Field, Jr., and the second half with Drs. J. S. Lawrence and L. M. Hurxthal and D. B. Dill, has studied various factors affecting blood flow in man. Dr. Field has left the group in order to study abroad. The thyroid group, Drs. J. H. Means, D. L. Sisco, C. I. Krantz, and W. O. Thompson from the medical side, with Drs. E. P. Richardson, J. V. Meigs, and L. S. McKittrick from the surgical, have continued to study exophthalmic goiter and other thyroid diseases. Dr. Thompson has investigated blood volume in myxedema and hyperthyroidism, and Dr. Krantz is now observing the calorigenetic action of adrenalin in obesity. Dr. F. T. Lord has investigated the relation of spirochætes to pulmonary suppurative lesions, and has continued his study of the etiology of actinomycosis. Dr. C. M. Jones has returned from a year in Strassburg with Professor Blum, and has now started studies on the biliary tract, also on blood uric acid and, with Dr. Wyman Richardson, on the radiation of pain in digestive tract lesions. Dr. F. M. Rackemann, with Dr. D. S. King and Dr. A. Colmes, has studied the relation of dusts to bronchial asthma and certain problems in bacterial allergy.

Dermatological Service

The past year has been an active one for this service, with a total of 18,927 patients, of which 3,837 were new patients. These figures indicate the demand for dematological treatment, which has been satisfied in increasing degree by the introduction of various mechanical forms of treatment. Under the direction of Dr. Guy Lane, X-ray and radium treatments have been used in 1,097 cases, on a great variety of conditions. Dr. Lane reports that in spite of the fact that somewhat fewer cases have been treated this year, the general work of the department is increasing, but it would be more satisfactory were the X-ray and Skin Departments in closer physical association. Much work of a very gratifying character has been done with quartz light. Three lamps are in constant use and a fourth is desired. A daily average of twenty-five patients is treated by this means, but, owing to the length of treatment required in some instances, it is impossible to treat all patients applying under the present conditions. A study of infantile eczema has been made in association with the Children's Department. Certain results of importance have already been reached, but a still closer co-operation between the two departments is desirable if the best results are to be obtained. The outstanding needs of the department are more space, more radium plaques, better facilities for photography and for histopathological work.

Neurological Service

The most notable event during the past year in connection with the Neurological Service has been the allowance of twelve hospital beds. This will make possible a natural expansion of the work of the department and provide facilities for research impossible without the continued study of patients under conditions of hospital care. The plans of this small ward provide for an examining room, which it is believed will be of distinct value to other departments of the Hospital for carrying out certain detailed tests on the nervous system not provided for otherwise. The spinal fluid laboratory has been removed from the pathological laboratory to the laboratory wing of the Bulfinch

Building. Still under the immediate charge of Dr. Frank Fremont-Smith, directed by Dr. James B. Ayer, the work has broadened in this field rather unexpectedly, and several publications have been made during the year from the laboratory. The possible relationship between the blood circulation and the spinal fluid has developed in the course of these researches, and it is possible that matters of great scientific and practical importance may result from this study. Work in the Out-Patient Department has gone on with its usual routine. The affiliation with the Department of Surgery, through Dr. W. J. Mixter, under the assignment of neurological surgery, has continued to be a most satisfactory arrangement, and has led to a distinct advance in the treatment of neurosurgical cases. The weekly clinic with the Eye and Ear Infirmary has been maintained with increasing interest. There have been a number of resignations from the staff, among them that of Dr. Sidney A. Lord, for many years associated with the department, and Dr. Stanley Cobb, who has been appointed neurologist at the Boston City Hospital. We regret, also, to report the death of Dr. F. B. M. Cady, a faithful member of the staff.

Children's Medical Service

The Children's Medical Department, owing to the building program of the Hospital which included remodelling the Centre and West Wing of the Bulfinch Building, has suffered various vicissitudes along with the surgical service. During the summer the ward was once more placed in tents, as in years past, and with the onset of cold weather moved into the emergency wards. Both of these changes, however, have given the service an increased number of beds. During the year the service has carried its share of the teaching in the Harvard Medical School, both of under-graduate and post-graduate students. The supervision of the children in the Eye and Ear Infirmary, which was started in December, 1924, has also continued through the year. This has necessitated adding an extra house officer who gives a large part of his time to that hospital. Dr. Kenneth M. Metcalf, resident on the service for the year ending September first, has returned for a year's appointment as full-time laboratory worker, — a new position. A Rickets Clinic has been added to the activities of the Out-Patient Department. Investigations of the treatment of epilepsy and rickets are being continued. The study of mongolianism, cretinism and other endocrine diseases, which was begun five years ago, is still being carried on. Many new facts about the blood chemistry of these conditions and their metabolism have come to light, and the treatment has been improved.

Syphilis Service

Dr. C. Morton Smith writes: "The attendance has been about the same as it was in the previous year, both regarding new and old cases. We have been obliged to refer to the evening clinics for treatment approximately the same proportion of our patients as in previous years, — nearly one a day. There has been the same co-operation with the Eye and Ear Infirmary in the constitutional treatment of their cases of interstitial keratitis that has been carried on in the past. We are still co-operating with the Boston Lying-In Hospital in the care of their cases. We have also seen many cases for the Probation Office of the Boston Municipal Court and for the Bethesda Society and other charitable organizations. Dr. H. D. Lloyd has nearly finished a study on syphilitic nephritis. Our principal activity has been in the wide variety of teaching, not only of medical and dental students, but also of post-graduates, social workers and public health nurses."

SURGICAL DEPARTMENT

General Surgical Service

The year just completed is the first of the return to two surgical services, following the abandonment of the Third Surgical Service. A two-service division of surgical work is the natural one, both from the size and arrangement of the Hospital, and represents a return to a more satisfactory system. The East and West Services are essentially similar aside from the concentration of the members of the staff serving on a full-time basis on the West and the assignment of the neurosurgical cases to the same service. The year also represents the first of work in the new surgical laboratories on the top floor of the new medical laboratory wing. Two rooms here have been fully equipped, one for physiological work on animals, and the other for chemical and pathological investigations. The surgical services have been somewhat handicapped by the reconstruction of the West Wing of the Bulfinch Building which has necessitated the care of many of the patients in basement wards. Although this arrangement has been inconvenient, surgical services of full size have been maintained, and the effectiveness of treatment has not suffered through this measure.

The new Tumor Clinic, under Dr. R. B. Greenough and G. W. Holmes, has functioned satisfactorily, making possible not only more accurate diagnosis and a systematization of treatment, but a more consistent follow-up of the results secured. During the nine months to January 1, 1926, 1,277 patients have been seen in the clinic, — an average of about 140 a month. This number is about evenly divided between consultation cases from the House and Out-Patient Departments on which no record other than the entry in the house or out-patient record is kept, and Tumor Clinic cases assigned to the clinic from the House or Out-Patient Department. Three hundred twenty-eight cases were referred in the automatic follow-up plan on discharge from House, and of this number all but 37 cases of those discharged prior to November 15 have reported for examination. The 37 cases which failed to report have been investigated, and in a number of instances it was found that the patient was too sick to come to the Hospital. The 584 records of the clinic containing abstracts of the patient's history and of the house and out-patient records as well as pathological and X-ray reports, are beginning to be a source of valuable information.

Anesthesia by means of ethylene and oxygen, a method recently developed in the Presbyterian Hospital of Chicago, has been continued after an intermission during cold weather, with increasing satisfaction. This new gas produces an anesthesia rapidly induced and rapidly recovered from, particularly advantageous in patients very sick or during respiratory infection, of a type very similar to that produced by nitrous oxide, but having definite advantages over the latter method.

An important contribution rendered by members of the Surgical and Pathological Departments has been a classification of certain forms of cancer according to the degree of malignancy as shown microscopically, and a practical demonstration that the results of treatment depend more on the activity of the growth so shown than on any other factor. Through this knowledge it has been possible to tell through excision and miscroscopic examination of a bit of tumor, whether cure is probable by operation. By this means certain patients have been saved mutilating operations which would not have resulted in benefit.

The general activities of the Surgical Services in regard to teaching and the care and study of patients have progressed as in previous years. On the West Surgical Service, in addition, special work has been done along various lines. Dr. Edward D. Churchill has been appointed by the Harvard Medical School, Tutor in Surgery assigned to this Hospital, and has thus been enabled to give full time to the hospital and school activities. He has charge of fourth-year students electing surgery under the tutorial system, and is carrying on experimental work on problems concerning the circulation of the lungs, in the Department of Physiology of the Harvard Medical School under Dr. Cecil K. Drinker. Dr. Monroe A. McIver has transferred his investigative work from the Department of Physiology to the new Surgical Laboratories where he has continued studies of certain phases of gastric activity. Special studies have also been carried on in regard to some aspects of liver function. The work of the Thyroid and Gastro-Intestinal Clinics has continued as in previous years. On the whole, there is a definite increase in the amount of investigation and an encouraging tendency to turn more to experimental methods. The productiveness of the Hospital in surgery has increased.

Laryngological Service

The two important changes during the past year which affect the Laryngological Department are the amalgamation of the Throat and Ear Service into a single service in Otolaryngology, and the appointment of a resident physician in that subject. The new title of Associate Surgeon in Otolaryngology has been created and a number of promotions have been made to this grade. The second important change — the appointment of a resident physician in Otolaryngology — means that there is always a man of experience on duty in the Hospital. The affiliation of the Children's Department of the Hospital, whereby cases involving the ear, nose and throat in children have the benefit of the routine care of the children's staff, has proved of great value. A prone fluoroscope is badly needed for the detection of metallic foreign bodies in the eye and for the examination of certain esophageal cases. Research on the esophagus has been continued. New facts regarding twists of the lower end of the esophagus have been brought out and other matters of scientific interest investigated. A joint paper has been sent to press giving the result of two years' work on pre-operative X-ray of the thymus. Nearly five thousand consecutive X-rays of the chests of children have been made. This paper contains nothing revolutionary, but a number of disputed points have been settled. The amount of plastic surgery is steadily increasing. A majority of the cases are operated upon by Dr. V. H. Kazanjian. As stated last year, he might well be given a ward of his own for these cases. The shortened combined service makes it possible to assign from time to time special subjects to certain members of the staff. At present Dr. D. Crosby Greene is working in conjunction with Dr. E. D. Churchill on lung abscess. Dr. DeCloedt of Belgium is studying a second year under Dr. Mosher's supervision, and Dr. Kao of the Rockefeller Hospital in Pekin is spending a year in Otolaryngology. For the greater part of the year, the Out-Patient Clinics have been very large. The total of all cases equals that of last year.

Orthopedic Service

During the past year the Orthopedic Department has made several investigations worthy of note. An effort has been made to determine the accuracy of clinical methods of diagnosis in obscure conditions of the bones and joints. In this work the pathological laboratory has rendered valuable assistance. Dr. M. N. Smith-Petersen has continued his researches into the clinical aspects of sacro-iliac arthritis, and has published a careful report of the work completed at the hospital. Dr. Philip D. Wilson has added to the sum total of knowledge on the question of slipped or displaced epiphyses. Dr. Dennis S. O'Connor has described three cases of cyst of the semi-lunar cartilage, one being of the internal semi-lunar cartilage, the first case of this nature definitely recorded in medical literature. Dr. Ralph K. Ghormley has studied the pathological material removed at operation, and has correlated the pathological findings in this material with the clinical signs and symptoms. At the present time there are several valuable pieces of investigative work being carried forward, among others the relief of ankylosis by so-called arthroplasty.

The demand for hospital service for "orthopedic patients" is constantly increasing. In spite of the rapid turnover of surgical cases on the ward, there is an ever-increasing waiting list.

The Out-Patient Department has shown the past year an increased attendance, and the efficiency of the staff in handling these cases has been improved. An attempt has been made, by the use of a clinical secretary, to improve the records, and a follow-up system has been planned in order that a study may be made of what is accomplished, both from the standpoint of investigation of disease and from that of economics, in the surgical treatment of these cases.

During the past year the whole service has been benefited greatly by monthly "exchange visits" with the two Surgical Services.

As an indication of the activity of the Orthopedic Service, the number of patients who were treated on Ward I between the dates December 1, 1924, and December 1, 1925, was 412. There are twenty-three available beds. In order to accomplish this service, the average number of admissions and discharges per month was thirty-five. It is shown by the records that most of these patients entered the Hospital for serious lesions demanding operative relief. The average number of operations per month was about thirty-five.

Urological Service

The activity of this service and the demands made upon it are indicated by the total number of visits, — upwards of 25,000. The same disparity as observed in previous years between the number of urological cases as distinguished from those of venereal disease is again evident. The urological cases show a distinct tendency toward increase at the expense of the venereal affections. Since a fee has been charged for the operation of circumcision, the department has earned a total of $689.50. Of those going to the Out-Patient Department, 178 patients — 146 men and 32 women — have been referred to the Hospital for operation or further study.

Possibly more than in other services the demand is becoming insistent for an increased number of beds, if the emergencies of this field of practice are to be met adequately. On this point, Dr. J. D. Barney, Chief of the department, writes: "The number of urological cases seen in the Out-Patient Department and referred to the House is greater by far than can be taken care of in the 10 beds allotted. In spite of the fact that for the last fifteen months (and, as a matter of fact, for a much longer time) we have been allowed more than our 10 beds, the daily census for this period averaging 17 patients, we cannot cope with the situation. As a consequence, our waiting list is always a long one, composed largely of major urological cases, most of which should have early, if not immediate, relief. Many of these patients are feeble old men whose very life depends upon prompt relief. Cases of malignant disease should be given the earliest possible attention if any hope of cure is to be held out. From a study of the situation it is obvious that we must have at least 17 beds if the cases seeking admission to our service are to be handled. It is also clear from a study of our waiting list that we must have even more beds at our disposal if the patients are to be handled in anything like an efficient manner. A long and intimate knowledge of the conditions makes us feel that we could easily fill 25 beds on the Urological Service. We base this statement not only upon the facts already presented, but also on the fact that we have, during the year, a considerable number of cases under our care which occupy, through the courtesy of the surgeon, a surgical bed. Various schemes for decreasing the volume of out-patient work have been discussed. Among others has been the idea of limiting the number of patients admitted or of seeing patients only by appointment, — a plan which would net the same result. We feel, however, that, having built up a clinic of large size and extraordinary richness of material, some other means than its limitation should be found for handling it properly."

Dental Service

The number of cases cared for by this service gives strong evidence of the necessity of a dental department in a general hospital. Nearly two thousand new cases have been referred to the department. There have been many visits and consultations in the Hospital and at the Eye and Ear Infirmary, and a large number of patients both from the Hospital proper and from the Eye and Ear Infirmary have been seen at the clinic. In addition, there have been 211 House consultations. A recognition of the increasing importance of the relationship of the teeth to general diseases, as well as to local disturbances, demands an increasingly close co-operation between the dental department and other phases of hospital work. It is probable that the number of consultations between this department and others will increase decidedly in the coming years. The Dental Hygiene Department has also had an active year, with a total of 777 cases, a large proportion of which were surgical. A better means of classifying records is under preparation.

Roentgenological Department

No radical changes in either equipment or personnel have been made. The character of the work, however, has changed considerably, — more cases requiring complete roentgenologic examinations are being sent in, and there are fewer cases that can be done in the purely routine manner. A new diagnostic procedure has been developed, — the Graham Test for gall-bladder disease. We have used this method of examination in 261 cases during the year, and the results have been very satisfactory. There has been a considerable increase in the total number of cases examined over previous years. Up to December 1, 1925, the increase over last year was slightly over 1,000 cases. The normal increase would be considerably more than this number if the department were able to handle additional work. A Tumor Clinic has been established in connection with the clinic for radiation therapy, and has taken over to a large extent the consultation follow-up service of this clinic. The demand for radiation both by X-rays and by radium has considerably increased. We are very much in need of more radium in the form of needles, and should have another machine for deep X-ray therapy. The equipment throughout the department should be brought up to date, and, at least, two new outfits installed. An apparatus for making examinations during pyelography is especially needed. The total number of cases examined in the diagnostic clinic for the year was 19,367. In the therapeutic clinic 413 radium treatments were given and 3,711 X-ray treatments. The total number of cases examined and treated reached the high figure of 25,228, of which 11,824 were new cases.

Chemical Laboratory

There has been an increase in routine work amounting to about 25 per cent, compared with the previous year. The number of specimens analyzed was 6,708 (ten days estimated) as contrasted with 5,366 in 1924. The laboratories were moved in June to the new wing, where the work has been carried on under much improved conditions. Investigation was continued with interruptions due to the changing of quarters and the cessation of research by the chemist in September.

Consultation Clinic

In the past year there has been a substantial gain in attendance at this clinic and a larger number of patients from outside Massachusetts applied. There was also an increased number of patients referred from one department to another, more X-rays were demanded, and the physicians made a larger number of visits. This would indicate that this clinic, started somewhat as an experiment, has justified itself. Its increase in popularity has been slow and no doubt the more healthy on that account; for example, in 1924, 1,094 patients were examined, and in 1925, 1,217, which indicates that physicians are becoming more interested in the clinic. Of the various departments represented in this clinic, Medicine supplied during the year 397 visits, Neurology 95, Urology 95, Orthopedic Surgery 94, General Surgery 85, Laryngology 77, Dermatology 29, South Medical (Syphilis) 5, and Pediatrics 1. This is an interesting commentary on the type of patients for whom consultations are desired. As we have before remarked, the services of physicians who give their time to this clinic are inadequately rewarded. It should be recognized that they are benefiting both the Hospital and the profession at large in developing a clinic, the main object of which is to bring to physicians the resources of a modern hospital at a minimum expense to the patients. REPORT OF THE PATHOLOGICAL LABORATORY

The usual routine bacteriological, microscopical and pathological examinations in connection with the study of diseases of the patients in the Hospital have been carried on as in previous years.

During the year 150 autopsies were performed in the laboratory, and the post-mortem appearances recorded. Among these were 11 from the Eye and Ear Infirmary and 6 from the Phillips House. The percentage of autopsies among the deaths occurring in the Hospital is 36 per cent, as compared with 37 per cent in 1924.

Of microscopical preparations from autopsy material, 1,211 have been prepared and filed during the year, as compared with 1,394 in 1924.

Reports rendered for bacteriological examinations for the microörganisms of diphtheria, typhoid fever and other diseases number 2,828. There were 2,803 in 1924. Bacterial culture media have also been supplied to the Medical Laboratory.

For testing various specimens for the presence of tubercle bacilli, 326 guinea pigs were used. In 1924 the number was 298.

Reports of gross and microscopical appearances and the pathological diagnosis of 2,212 specimens from the medical and surgical clinics, as well as Phillips House, were rendered. From this material 3,470 microscopical preparations were made and filed. The corresponding figures for 1924 were 1,801 and 3,561.

The number of specimens of blood tested for evidence of infection with syphilis is 16,291 as compared with 16,538 in 1924.

Bacteriological examinations of milk for the Hospital and for the Eye and Ear Infirmary were made on 140 samples.

The treatment of patients with bacterial vaccines has been continued by Dr. A. E. Steele, and during the year 210 were so treated, as compared with 192 in 1924.

The facilities and material offered by the laboratory for the instruction of physicians and students of the Harvard Medical School in pathology have continued to be extensively utilized.

The weekly conferences and discussions of clinico-pathological aspects of hospital cases, conducted in the amphitheatre of the laboratory before fourth-year students and others, have been continued during the academic year. These exercises have been conducted by Drs. R. C. Cabot and Oscar Richardson. The attendance has been good, and much interest has been manifested.

The courses in medicine and pathology for practitioners, given by Drs. W. H. Smith and Oscar Richardson, have been well attended and continued to be highly successful.

Instruction in pathology to sections of second-year men, and special courses to students of the Harvard Medical School, have been given by Drs. J. H. Wright and Oscar Richardson.

Dr. H. F. Hartwell has given weekly demonstrations in pathological anatomy to fourth-year students, and has continued the collection and preservation of specimens for teaching purposes.

Of special studies carried on during the year, the following may be mentioned:

Dr. W. H. Smith continued his studies of bacteria in endocarditis.

Dr. J. H. Wright studied sarcomas of bone in Dr. E. A. Codman's collection, and other special problems in pathological histology; and edited the abstracts on "The Mycoses" for "The Nelson Loose-Leaf Living Medicine." He also developed an improved method for making microscopical preparations of fresh tissue, which is important for diagnosis at operations.

J. Homer Wright,

REPORT OF THE TREADWELL LIBRARY

The statistics of the Treadwell Library for 1925 show a continuation of its activities although in slightly different directions from last year. There has been a decrease in the number of readers in the library, but an increase in the number of books and periodicals loaned for home use, and a marked increase in the number of interlibrary loans.

The need of a definite appropriation for the purchase of books of reference grows more pressing each year. The funds available from the Treadwell Donation are used entirely for subscriptions to periodicals, and the largest demand which the library makes upon the Hospital is used for the same purpose. We can ill afford to lose any of this valuable material, but there are definite demands which the library should be able to meet which require recent medical books.

With the approval of the Library Committee and the Administration, the classification of the books in the Library is in the process of changing to the system originating in the Boston Medical Library and already in use in the Harvard Medical Library. The work will progress slowly as the other duties of the librarian permit, but every effort will be made to interfere as little as possible with the convenience of the library patrons.

Four new pictures of ex-members of the Hospital Staff have been added to the collection already in the library: Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Dr. Charles E. Brown-Séquard, Dr. John W. Elliot and Dr. Frederick C. Shattuck, the last, a charcoal drawing by John Singer Sargent, a gift to the Hospital from Dr. George C. Shattuck.

The gifts to the library have been numerous and valuable, and we would especially thank the many members of the Hospital Staff for the large number of books and periodical subscriptions which have added so much to the resources of the library.

The congestion in the Record Vault has been somewhat relieved by the purchase of four steel filing cases, but the relief is only temporary, and added space will have to be provided very soon if the records are to be kept reasonably accessible.

The new follow-up plan which was tried out by the Third Surgical Service was adopted with slight changes by the East and West Surgical Services in the latter part of 1924. The results of that work for 1925 are included in the statistics which follow this report.

In closing, the librarian wishes to express her appreciation to the Director and to the library patrons for their consideration and patience in the adjustments which have seemed inevitable in the change of administration.

Statistics for the year follow:

Library

REPORT OF THE WARREN LIBRARY

This year the Warren Library has extended its services to the patients of the Phillips House. In June there was established a circulating library consisting of 206 volumes of which 150 were provided through the efforts of Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer. The library is open every morning, except Sundays and holidays, with a librarian in charge. This library service has met with the hearty approval of the patients, as is shown by the circulation of 1,283 books. The money received from this service is spent in purchasing new books.

A student from the New York Public Library School spent one month in the library observing hospital library methods.

During the year many new books, both fiction and non-fiction, have been purchased. A gift from the Ladies' Visiting Committees of $100, the income from the Annie Norton Ward Fund, was used for the purchase of good biographies and other worth-while non-fiction. This was appreciated, for it made possible the addition to the library of many important books of the year. Miss J. L. Motley and Mrs. A. Lawrence Hopkins gave a memorial book-plate to be placed in these books.

The librarian wishes to thank the many friends of the hospital for their numerous gifts.

Statistics show the steadily increasing use of the Warren Library by patients and personnel of the hospital. Following are the yearly statistics:

	Increase
Number of volumes at beginning of year . .		3,272
Number of volumes added during year . . .	345
Number of volumes withdrawn during year .	189
Total number of volumes at end of the year .		3,428

Circulation

Number of volumes issued to patients	19,130
Number of volumes issued to employees	9,337
Total number of volumes issued	28,467
Total number of volumes issued in 1924	27,161
Showing increase of	1,306
Number of volumes in foreign languages issued	1,472
Number of juvenile volumes issued	2,186
Number of technical volumes borrowed from Boston Public Library	36
Number of volumes in foreign languages from Library Commission	21

REPORT OF CHIEF OF SOCIAL SERVICE

October, 1925, marked the twentieth year since Social Service was inaugurated, and the sixth year of its life as an official department of the Hospital. On December 4 a public meeting was held in the Moseley Building when the history of the department was reviewed. A special report of the twenty years is to be published.

The statistics of patients referred to the Social Service Department during 1925 are as follows:

OUT-PATIENT DEPARTMENT

	Brought Forward from 1924	Accepted for Social Treatment			Number of Patients referred, 1925
		New Patients	Reinstated	Total
General Medical and Surgical	106	205	83	288	1,048
Children's Clinic	106	105	49	154	1,570

The "Number of Patients referred" indicates all the patients for whom some social service was rendered. Those presenting the more complicated social problems and need for more extended service are indicated under "Accepted for Social Treatment."

During the year the Department has sustained several losses in personnel. Mrs. Ruth Boretti, for five years Supervisor of Ward Social Work, left in September to become Director of Social Service in the University of Rochester Hospital. Miss Ruth Lewis, formerly social worker in the Cardiac and Diabetic Clinics, left in June to take the position of assistant to the Director of the St. Louis Hospital Social Service Association.

The Committee on the Home Care of Children with Heart Disease has generously continued the appropriation to cardiac work in the Out-Patient Department, both in the Adult and Children's Clinics.

Through Dr. Morrison, money has been raised for continuation of social service in the Diabetic Clinic. A special report of this service is to appear in the published report.

Miss O. M. Lewis, Supervisor of Social Service in the Out-Patient Department, has given special consideration to the relation of social service to "follow-up." She has treated the subject of end results v. a consistent plan of "follow-up" correlated closely with the patients' hospital treatment, in a paper "Phagocytosis of Follow-Up" published in "Modern Hospital," October, 1925.

Miss Miriam Buncher has studied the nine hundred and ninety-one children admitted to the hospital wards in 1923. Sixty-five per cent of these came from outside of Boston. The report emphasizes the need for extension of hospital and social service facilities for children at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

The educational work with social work students, medical students and public health nurses has continued as usual. More adequate facilities for carrying these teaching responsibilities is an imperative need if we are to fulfill this service which we believe is properly ours.

Ida M. Cannon,
Chief of Social Service.

WARREN TRIENNIAL PRIZE

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL

THE Warren Triennial Prize was founded by the late Dr. J. Mason Warren in memory of his father, and his will provides that the accumulated interest of the fund shall be awarded every three years to the best dissertation, considered worthy of a premium, on some subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathological Anatomy, the arbitrators being the General Executive Committee of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Theses submitted for competition for the year 1928 shall be on some special subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathology.

Dissertations must be in either the English, French, or German language, and MUST BE TYPEWRITTEN AND SUITABLY BOUND, so as to be easily handled. Work that has been published previously will not be considered in competition. The name of the writer must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, on which must be written a motto corresponding with one on the accompanying dissertation. The names of collaborators should appear with that of the writer in the sealed envelope.

Any clew given by the paper, or any action on the part of the writer which reveals his name before the award of the prize, will disqualify him from receiving it.

The amount of the prize for the year 1928 will be $500.

In case no dissertation is considered sufficiently meritorious, no award will be made. Essays will be received until April 15, 1928.

A high value will be placed on original work.

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN, M.D.,
Director.

DALTON SCHOLARSHIPS

THE income of this fund, amounting to $1,000 annually, is devoted to investigation in the science of medicine. The rules of the Trustees applicable to it are as follows:

ARTICLE 1. Candidates shall be nominated to the Board of Trustees by the General Executive Committee with their recommendations. They shall be either internes of the General Hospital or male graduates of a regular American Medical College.

ARTICLE 2. The nature of the work in medical investigation proposed to be prosecuted by each candidate shall be designated by the candidate.

ARTICLE 3. The Scholarship year shall begin September 15. Scholars shall work not less than ten hours per week, from the last Wednesday in September to the last Wednesday in June; and if a scholar performs a part only of this prescribed work, he shall be entitled to a proportionate part only of the income.

ARTICLE 4. The results of work of scholars shall appertain to the Hospital, and when made public the name of the scholar shall accompany the publication, but no publication shall be made unless approved by the General Executive Committee.

ARTICLE 5. When the income is insufficient, appointments for the year may be omitted.

ARTICLE 6. Any income not used shall be cumulative and not added to the principal.

ARTICLE 7. Scholars shall be eligible for renomination and reappointment.

RULES FOR ADMISSION, ETC.

THE Massachusetts General Hospital is a private institution supported solely by voluntary contributions and the receipts from those patients who pay board.

Only those unable to pay doctor's fees will be admitted.

Emergencies and recent accidents admitted at all hours.

Applications for admission of patients should be made at the Moseley Memorial Building, Fruit Street, at North Grove Street, Boston, on week days between the hours of 9 A.M. and 3 P.M.

Applications from a distance should be made in writing, accompanied by a full description of the case by the attending physician, with his reason for requesting admission; and when a free bed is needed, by a statement of the pecuniary condition of the patient. Always wait for a reply before sending the patient.

Arrangements can be made by telephone for emergency cases or recent accidents, but for these only.

Contagious cases are not admitted to the Hospital, and only such chronic cases as can be partially relieved by temporary treatment.

The regular rate of board to paying patients in all rooms is $40 per week. In the general wards the rate of board to paying patients is $21 per week. There is a surgical dressing fee of $10 to surgical paying patients, and a laboratory fee of $5 to medical paying patients. Payment should be made weekly in advance. The surgical dressing fee and the laboratory fee should be paid on admission. The lowest rate of board for patients living outside the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is $21 per week in the open wards.

Patients may be discharged between 9 A.M. and 4.30 P.M on week days; on Sundays from 12 noon to 4 P.M.

The Out-Patient Department is for the poor only, and is open from 8.30 to 10 in the morning, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The ambulance will be sent for suitable cases within a radius of twenty miles, if arrangements are made with the Admitting Physician.

PHILLIPS HOUSE. All inquiries concerning the admission of private patients should be made to the Director, Massachusetts General Hospital.

There is a separate entrance for this department at 265 Charles Street. Telephone service is also separate. All inquiries for private patients should be made through "Haymarket 4490," and not through the regular Hospital exchange.

Ambulance service is provided.

The private ward is for the treatment of general medical and surgical diseases and obstetrical cases. Contagious diseases, cases of alcoholism and drug habit are not admitted.

Patients in the Phillips House may be attended only by members of the staff and alumni of the Hospital.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTH REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE McLEAN HOSPITAL

To the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital:

The following report of the McLean Hospital for the year 1925 is respectfully submitted:

One hundred and eight patients were admitted, 105 were discharged and 227 (including 5 on a visit) remained in the Hospital at the end of the calendar year. The total number under treatment was 332, an increase of 4 per cent over last year. Of the patients discharged 33, or 31.4 per cent, were recorded as recovered.

Of the 108 admissions 9 were primarily voluntary and 1 other became so by signing an application to remain under care and treatment at the expiration of the legal period of temporary care and observation. Of these 10 voluntary patients, 5 were discharged while on the voluntary basis, 3 were committed because of a formal request for discharge which could not properly be granted. There remained on this basis at the end of the year 11 patients, — 5 men and 6 women.

During the year 46 patients were admitted for temporary care (section 79, chapter 123, General Laws). Of these, 1 made voluntary application to remain at the Hospital, 1 died, 2 were discharged before the expiration of the ten days' period of observation and 42 were formally committed to this Hospital.

Three patients were received as inebriates.

Of the 108 patients admitted, 9 came from other hospitals in Massachusetts, 10 from the Boston Psychopathic Hospital and 2 from hospitals outside of this Commonwealth. The statistical tables appearing later in this report are for the year ending September 30, and are in the form suggested by the American Psychiatric Association and adopted by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Diseases. Forms 1 and 2 are not required of private hospitals and therefore are omitted.

As usual, the Hospital has contributed a large amount of charity in the way of care and treatment of free patients and patients paying less than cost; 10,340 days' care and treatment were given free of charge, and in addition, 16,975 days' care and treatment for less than cost. The cost is figured merely on the running expenses of the Hospital.

Physiotherapy, occupational therapy and diversions have, as usual, played a large rôle in the care of the patients during the past year. In the application of these various measures a special attempt has been made to consider the individual needs and capacity of each patient.

In the physiotherapy department much attention has been given to physical culture exercises and through their use the physical condition and strength of many patients have been improved. The patients have been divided into classes in which the work has been graded in accordance with the needs and capacity of the members of each class. In the men's department a large area was constructed with sea sand, where patients were given graduated sun baths with very gratifying results. Many patients who had been slow to show physical improvement soon began to gain in appetite, weight and energy with corresponding mental improvement.

The value of the Zander machines, which have been used for many years in the women's gymnasium, has been demonstrated to be so great that a similar set of machines is being installed in a separate room in the men's gymnasium. This will increase very materially the opportunity to use this helpful apparatus and do away with the necessity of dividing the use of those machines in the women's gymnasium between the men and women patients. They provide for depressed, inadequate and weak patients, who otherwise would take very little exercise, a considerable amount with a minimum expenditure of effort and energy. In this department 7,055 medical baths were given (this includes only the baths given in the hydrotherapy department) and 6,314 Zander treatments were given in addition to the class work in physical culture.

The occupational departments, both on the men's and women's side, has continued active. In the men's department there was an average daily attendance of 11, and 50 different patients were employed. In this department 112,127 pieces of printed matter were done, 275 books were rebound, 158 chairs were repaired, 52 pictures were framed, 235 baskets were made, and 416 other miscellaneous articles were made or repaired. In the women's department 1,908 articles were made, comprising pieces of weaving, needlework and pottery, baskets, rugs, bags, knitted and painted articles, besides many of a miscellaneous character. The daily average attendance was 37, and 108 different patients were employed.

During the year the patients enjoyed the usual diversions. The dances and moving picture exhibitions, given on each Tuesday evening during the fall, winter and spring months, have been especially enjoyed. Parties have been held from time to time on appropriate occasions, while at all times the patients are encouraged and helped by the nurses to get diversion from the various indoor and parlor games. Two orthophonic victrolas, purchased during the year from the Lovering Fund and installed, one in the men's and one in the women's recreation building, have provided excellent music which has been much appreciated. Out-of-door recreations have included golf, tennis, croquet, gardening, walks and rides. Throughout the summer baseball games were played weekly.

The Sunday services, conducted by the Chaplain, Rev. George J. Prescott, have been held as usual during the year.

The library has continued to be one of the most useful sources of diversion and pleasure. The circulation was 8,476 volumes. One hundred and seventy-nine books were added to the general library during the year, making a total of 10,216 volumes.

One hundred and fifty new books were added to the medical library, making a total of 6,820 volumes.

The Hospital subscribed for 48 weekly and monthly periodicals for the general library, and 68 medical periodicals during the year, also 4 special periodicals for the training school library.

The special library pertaining to the profession of nursing had added to it 59 new books, making now a total of 190 volumes.

Three hundred and sixty-nine books have been placed in the living room of the Nurses' Home, where they are accessible to all the women nurses.

The important position of Clinical Assistant and Pathologist, vacant since June 30, 1922, was filled by the appointment, on November 1, of Dr. Ray L. Whitney, whose previous training and former association with the Hospital, together with the added experience gained as Assistant Superintendent of Homewood Sanitarium at Guelph, Ontario, and as Assistant Superintendent at Cromwell Hall, Cromwell, Connecticut, make him a valuable addition to the Staff.

On August 17 Dr. Helge Lundholm, Assistant in Pathological Psychology, returned to the Hospital after a two years' leave of absence.

With the appointment of Dr. Whitney and the return of Dr. Lundholm an increase in activities concerned more or less with research problems has taken place. Dr. Whitney has not only taken charge of the special and detailed examination of patients' mental conditions and reactions and the recording of such observations, but has been co-operating with and has had the co-operation of the Psychologist and the Chemist.

A special attempt has been made to make use of psychoanalytic and psychotherapeutic measures as far as applicable and practical in each individual case. The Psychologist has been very helpful in this work, giving much time to it in addition to special research problems.

From his studies, during his leave of absence, of fatigue factors in industrial psychology, Dr. Lundholm has been interested particularly in the psychological problem presented by the instances of retardation, — a frequent symptom among depressed patients. To get light on this subject he has planned and arranged a laboratory set for a study of the relationship between speed of reaction to such physiological activities as pulse and respiration. It is hoped that in this way information may be gained which will aid in the interpretation of other psychotic states in which fatigue is believed to play a part.

Another bit of research work going on deals with the study of constitutional degeneration. This involves the study of the psychological reaction of mice to various tests during alteration of their physical condition, the physical condition of the mice being controlled by giving different quantities of food and different substances in connection with the food.

Likewise the chemical laboratory has become increasingly useful in the solution of diagnostic problems and in guiding the practical management of patients with somatic disease. In addition, it has busied itself with research problems, one of which is a part of the study of constitutional factors in the psychoses, observations having been made of the changes in the blood produced by measured chemical stresses. It has been found that this method discloses abnormalities otherwise concealed by compensatory mechanisms. Thus it has been noted that the feeding of sugar usually produces a more persistent decrease in the inorganic phosphates of the blood plasma of Dementia Præcox patients than of normal persons. Those who show this abnormality are also found to have difficulty in assimilating glucose. No satisfactory explanation has yet been found as to why this condition should occur characteristically within the Dementia Præcox group. We hope to obtain light on this question by the study of nitrogen bases, provided that certain technical difficulties can be satisfactorily solved. To aid in such work an Assistant Chemist has been appointed.

Our observations concerning glycosuria and the blood sugar in periods of excitement have shown the need of a considerable overhauling of current hypotheses and for further detailed analysis of the physiological aspects of emotion, a field of study in which a well-trained physiologist undoubtedly could contribute very largely to the practical needs of the psychiatrists.

Since Dr. Clarence J. Campbell's resignation the physiological laboratory has been inactive, but it is hoped that in the near future a suitable person may be found to continue this work.

During the year a paper written by Dr. John C. Whitehorn and Dr. Kenneth J. Tillotson, entitled "Oxygen Consumption in Dementia Præcox," was published in the "Boston Medical and Surgical Journal." Dr. Whitehorn also read a paper, not yet published, at the December meeting of the Association for Research in Nervous and Mental Diseases, entitled "The Effect of Glucose on Blood Phosphates in Dementia Præcox." Dr. Freeman A. Tower read a paper entitled "Report of the Clinical and Autopsy Findings in a Case of Brain Tumor with Unusual Symptoms," at a meeting of the Boston Society of Psychiatry and Neurology.

During his leave of absence in connection with his work for the Swedish government at the Royal Swedish Institute of Industrial and Scientific Research in Stockholm, Sweden, which work was chiefly concerned with fatigue in its relation to industry, Dr. Helge Lundholm gave eighteen lectures and wrote eight articles, all in Swedish, which were published. Indirectly many of them had a bearing on problems connected with abnormal mental conditions.

On October 31 Dr. Theodore A. Hoch resigned on account of ill health. He had been connected with the Hospital since September 1, 1912, and since April 19, 1919, as First Assistant Physician. He was succeeded by Dr. Kenneth J. Tillotson, who has been an Assistant Physician in the Hospital since July 14, 1921.

On November 24 Dr. Freeman A. Tower resigned as Second Assistant Physician and was succeeded by Dr. Sidney M. Bunker, who has been connected with the Hospital as an Assistant Physician since January 1, 1921.

Other changes in the Hospital Staff during the year were as follows:

Dr. William C. Archibald entered the service of the Hospital as a Junior Assistant Physician on June 12 and resigned on August 24.

Dr. James A. Dumas entered the service as Junior Assistant physician on September 10.

On September 24 Miss Jessie Reed Cockrill was appointed Assistant Chemist.

Miss Martha E. Kehoe, Acting Assistant Superintendent of Nurses, resigned on December 18. This vacancy has not yet been filled.

Miss Sara Lee Tuck, Dietitian and Instructor in Cookery, resigned on October 9, and was succeeded on October 10 by Miss Frances White.

Mr. Angus J. Macdonald was appointed Physical Instructor in the men's department on November 7.

Mr. Mack McKonkey, Apothecary, resigned on June 12, and Mr. Rupert A. Chittick was appointed to the position on October 21.

Mr. Donald A. Charnock and Mr. James M. Baty, Student Assistants, appointed in 1924, resigned in June of this year.

Mr. Frank J. Fleming and Mr. John B. Laidlaw served the Hospital as Student Assistants for three months in the summer.

Mr. George D. Becher and Mr. Rockwood H. Thayer were given positions as Student Assistants in November and December, respectively.

On June 25 the McLean Hospital Nurses' Alumni Association held its annual meeting at the Hospital and three hundred members were entertained at luncheon. On the evening of the same day the graduating exercises of the class of 1925 of the School of Nursing were held. Dr. Alfred Worcester of Waltham delivered the address and diplomas were given to thirty-three students.

Under the able direction of our Superintendent of Nurses, Miss R. Helen Cleland, the School of Nursing has been and is in a very satisfactory condition. The appended report of the Superintendent of Nurses deals with the subject more in detail.

Besides the maintenance expenses involved in ordinary repairs, painting, refurnishing, etc., $5,973.59 was expended for what may be called somewhat unusual expenditures. This sum includes $1,965.48 for repairs to the roofs of buildings; $784.31 for renewing the main switchboard in the power house, which had been in use since the Hospital was built; $1,103.50 for repairing top of corridor between the Women's Belknap House and the Appleton House; $500 for renewing the electric light cable between the Appleton House and the Superintendent's House; $762.30 for fire escapes from the second floors of the Bowditch House and the Wyman House and $858 for driving additional wells at the farm for the water supply of the Hospital. This became necessary partly because of the increased consumption of water during the last few years, and partly by reason of the decrease in water furnished by the old springs, due to two comparatively dry seasons. The failure of an adequate water supply from the old springs necessitated an increased expenditure for town water during the past year of $1,179.

During the coming year consideration should be given to providing a new dish-washing room for the general kitchen, estimated to cost about $1,500; renewal of the entire registering system for the night watchman and night nurses, estimated to cost about $2,400; a new electric light cable in the subway of the West Wing, estimated to cost about $1,800 and provision for better housing of some of the male employees, whose work is such as to make it advisable that they live at the institution.

The expense of the last few years indicates that sooner or later consideration must be given to replacing with tar-bound the water-bound macadam roads on the grounds. The increasing automobile traffic makes it almost impossible to keep the old roads in good condition, even with the expenditure of much labor. No estimate of the cost has yet been obtained, but such reconstruction will undoubtedly be a matter of considerable expense.

There is still a continued demand for cottages for a single patient, and I recommend again adoption of a plan to build three at least, one during the coming year.

The market values of commodities with which the farm has supplied the Hospital were: milk, $17,752.56; beef and pork products, $11,625.35; vegetables, $2,137.48; fruit, $1,718.44. For these and for a considerable amount of general work credited to it in the way of hauling coal, road building, etc., it has a credit balance of $5,815.57. To this should be added a credit of about $7,000 for water and $1,812.09 for work in the greenhouse and flower gardens, making a total farm credit of $14,627.66.

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the following:

The Trustees of the Sarah C. M. Lovering Fund for $1,615.39, expended as follows:

2 pianos	$300.00
61 books	204.90
2 orthophonic victrolas	550.00

Victrola records	$45.00
Golf, tennis and croquet equipment	241.21
Printing and bookbinding equipment	6.33
Sand baths	29.30
2 table looms	73.80
Radio	133.50
Christmas decorations	31.35

Mr. Nathaniel T. Kidder for a book given the Nurses' Home library.

Miss Alice G. George for three books given the library.

Miss Elizabeth L. Bond for books and music given the library and for Christmas candy for the wards.

Miss Eleanor Bigelow for gifts for the ward Christmas trees and for music given for the recreation buildings.

Dr. E. G. Hoitt for magazines given the library.

Dr. Josiah H. Penniman for a book given the library.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the McLean Committee for their helpful advice, and to express my appreciation of the support given me by the Board of Trustees.

Frederic H. Packard,
Medical Superintendent.

FORTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE McLEAN HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING

To the Medical Superintendent of the McLean Hospital:

The following report of the McLean Hospital School of Nursing is respectfully submitted:

The School of Nursing, with the completion of the forty-four years of its existence, has a roll of graduates including 1,024 names, — 648 women and 376 men. Of the 581 women gradates of the School, who now are living, 280 still are engaged in the profession of nursing, and of the 326 men graduates 123 still are nurses.

During the year there have been several changes in the nursing department. Miss Martha E. Kehoe, who has been Acting Assistant Superintendent of Nurses since September 23, 1923, resigned on December 18 to accept the position of Superintendent of Nurses at the Quincy City Hospital, Quincy, Massachusetts. This position has not as yet been filled.

On the resignation, June 1, of Miss Marion Manning, Instructor in Theoretical Nursing, Mrs Ethel Washburn Hines, Instructor in Practical Nursing, was appointed to succeed her, and Miss Arvilla L. Stafford was appointed Instructor in Practical Nursing. Miss Stafford is a graduate of our own School.

On August 17 Miss Patience E. Libby was appointed Night Supervisor of the women's department, to succeed Miss Valborg J. Krossberg, who resigned in December, 1923. This position had been filled temporarily by Miss Catherine A. Davitt.

I regret to report the death of Miss Bessie L. Keeping, class of 1925, who died of pneumonia on May 3, while away on her vacation.

During the year 26 women students and 14 men students joined the School. Twenty-three women students from other schools have been connected with our School as affiliated students, and 3 others have taken a post-graduate course. There were at the end of the year in the women's department 39 graduate nurses and 78 student nurses. Of the 78 student nurses 33 were attending as affiliates schools in general hospitals. In the men's department the student nurses have, for the most part, been of satisfactory material, but their numbers have not been adequate. It is expected that the raising of the standard for men students eventually will attract not only a desirable type of men but a sufficient number to carry on the work of the Hospital. In the meantime it has been necessary to employ some attendants in the men's department. There were at the end of the year 19 men graduate nurses, 29 student nurses and 27 attendants. Of the 29 student nurses 10 were away taking their affiliated course in a general hospital.

In addition to the affiliation with the training schools of the Massachusetts General Hospital, the New England Hospital for Women and Children, the Springfield Hospital and the Wesson Maternity Hospital in Springfield, we have arranged an affiliation with the Lynn General Hospital to begin with the new year.

The affiliating students who entered our School during the year came from the training schools of the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the Cooley Dickinson Hospital and the Lynn General Hospital.

From the many letters received seeking information in regard to psychiatric nursing it is evident that more general hospital graduate nurses are realizing the importance of a training in mental nursing.

The Nurses' Home, which was described in our last report, has been very much enjoyed by the officers of the Training School and the nurses. It provides not only pleasant living quarters but opportunities for social intercourse, and the various meetings, parties, dances and teas held there have been much enjoyed by the nurses. A carefully selected library of 329 volumes has been added to the living room. This was made possible by the generous gift of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Gannett, who furnished the room. Two large plate glass mirrors have been hung in the main hallways of the home, gifts of the Nurses' Alumni Association, and a clock, the gift of Mrs. Henry Simonds in memory of Mrs. Marion Wetherill Abbot, has been placed in the entrance hall.

Much has been done to promote the social side of the hospital life of the nurses. In January the nurses entertained the Alumni Association at its midwinter meeting, which was held at the Hospital. They were assisted by Mr. George W. Wilson in giving the play, "Uncle Jimmy," which was much enjoyed. On February 14 the junior nurses gave a St. Valentine party to the entering spring class. On February 20 the Hospital gave a dance for the nurses, which was an enjoyable affair. The affiliating nurses were guests of the Trapelo Club on this occasion. On April 29 the Ladies' Advisory Committee gave a tea to the senior class and the affiliating students.

The annual meeting of the Nurses' Alumni Association was held at the Hospital on June 25. Three hundred members were present, many of them coming from a long distance. The forenoon was rainy, but that did not dampen the good spirits of the guests, who visited the various buildings and renewed old friendships. At one o'clock a buffet luncheon was served in the library and at two o'clock the annual business meeting of the Association was held, after which Dr. Marianna Taylor of Boston gave a very interesting address. At five o'clock tea was served in the library. At eight o'clock the company adjourned to the Samuel Eliot Memorial Chapel for the graduating exercises of the class of 1925. The chapel was decorated with green and white, the class colors. Promptly at eight-thirty o'clock the graduate and student nurses marched in to seats reserved for them and the exercises began with the singing of the class song. Dr. Alfred Worcester of Waltham, who was the speaker of the evening, gave a most inspiring and helpful talk. Diplomas were then presented by Mr. Nathaniel T. Kidder, Chairman of the McLean Committee of the Trustees, to 33 nurses, and the formal exercises closed with singing the class song. A reception was tendered the class and their guests at which refreshments were served and an orchestra furnished music for dancing. About 500 people attended the graduating exercises.

On October 30 a Halloween party was given by the Trapelo Club for the affiliating and preliminary students. Christmas Eve a group of seventy-five nurses went about the grounds to the different buildings singing carols, which were much appreciated and enjoyed by every one. The nurses then gathered at the home for a Christmas tree, and while sitting around a cheerful fire Santa Claus appeared and distributed the gifts from the tree with many jokes and much merriment. Miss Lucia E. Woodward, former Superintendent of Nurses, was a guest on this occasion.

Thanks are due to the Ladies' Advisory Committee, the officers of the McLean Hospital, the officers of the affiliating schools, and to my co-workers for their kind interest in the nurses and for their efforts in behalf of the School.

R. Helen Cleland, R.N.,
Superintendent of Nurses,
Principal School of Nursing.

McLEAN HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING WAVERLEY, MASS., 1882–1925

THE Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital Corporation established a school for the instruction of nurses at the McLean Hospital in 1882. It was the first school established in this country for the training of nurses in mental nursing. Special training offered in a psychiatric hospital is becoming more and more insisted upon as a part of the equipment of every well-trained nurse.

The School gives to men and women a three years' course of training in general nursing, with special reference to the care of patients suffering from nervous and mental diseases. At the end of the junior year the women student nurses spend twelve months of the three years' course in affiliating schools, where they receive practical experience in the nursing of obstetrical cases and of medical, surgical and children's diseases, and operating room experience, in addition to further academic instruction in these subjects. The men student nurses also spend twelve months of the three years' course in affiliating schools, where they receive practical experience in the nursing of medical, surgical and genito-urinary diseases, and operating room experience, in addition to further academic instruction in these subjects. On the successful completion of the course a diploma is granted.

The School is accredited by the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses and the New York State Department of Education. Graduates also are eligible for service in the United States Army and Navy and with the Red Cross.

Nursing the mentally sick is of such a character that it requires the student nurse to have a good preliminary education. It also demands a high grade of self-discipline and devotion to service. No other field offers a broader scope for real nursing skill and accomplishment in the alleviation of human suffering, and none affords better opportunities for material success and advancement.

Applicants for admission to the School may be accepted between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five. They must be of good moral character and good health, and preferably shall have had four years of high school education, but inasmuch as a nurse with one year of high school education is eligible for State registration, applicants with one year of high school may be accepted.

Student nurses, in addition to maintenance and laundry, are granted an allowance of $30 a month during the period of training at this Hospital. During the year spent in affiliating schools the allowance will be $15 a month and maintenance. Upon graduation a salary of $75 a month and maintenance is paid to those who remain in the service. The allowance should be viewed as a scholarship, which makes it possible for the young man or woman of limited means to prepare for a nursing career and should not be considered as compensation for service.

There is for student nurses a preliminary or probation period of four months, during which time they are not on full-time duty, but receive the regular money allowance. This period is included as a part of the three years' course of training. Upon the completion of the preliminary period student nurses are placed on regular eight-hour ward duty. Throughout the year student nurses are allowed two half days off duty each week, and are given two weeks' vacation each year. There also is an allowance of two weeks in case of sickness. Students are on night duty not longer than two consecutive months.

Women student nurses, on arrival, must be prepared to purchase three "Dix Make" plain blue chambray dresses at a cost of $4.50 each. Aprons, collars, cuffs, etc., are provided by the Hospital at cost. At the completion of the probationary period the student is allowed to wear the student nurses' uniform, which is provided by the Hospital at cost. In addition to an adequate supply of the usual undergarments, which should be marked with the name in full, the student should come provided with the following: 2 pairs of black shoes with low rubber heels, 1 laundry bag, a napkin ring, a watch with a second hand and a fountain pen. These same requirements apply to the men students, except that they are not required to wear a special uniform, but are expected to wear a plain dark business suit. Students must also provide their own textbooks, which are furnished by the Hospital at cost.

Regular courses of instruction begin on September 15 and February 1, but applications are considered at any time. Students are admitted on January 1 and September 1. It is a distinct advantage for students to be in the Hospital for a short period before the formal opening of classes.

Application blanks for admission to the School are furnished upon request to the Superintendent of Nurses, McLean Hospital, Waverley, Massachusetts.

AFFILIATED COURSE

(For both men and women students)

The School offers a four months' course to third-year students of accredited training schools for nurses. The special training offered in a psychiatric hospital is becoming more and more insisted upon as a part of the equipment of every nurse. Whether in private work, or in the industrial, public health, or administrative fields, the nurse may at any time have to meet situations calling for particular skill in the care of nervous and mental disturbances. The object of this course is to qualify the general hospital nurse to meet such requirements. Students are given ward experience in the management of a wide range of mental cases, and courses of instruction leading to intelligent understanding of their care. The courses in mental and nervous diseases consist of lectures, demonstrations and practical work in the observation and measurement of mental functions. The chief problems and methods of mental hygiene are discussed. Anatomy, physiology and pathology of the nervous system are covered in lectures and demonstrations. Demonstrations and practice are given in the use of occupational therapy, hydrotherapy and massage.

Affiliated students must conform to the rules of the School and will wear the uniform of their own school.

At the end of the course a class record is furnished the superintendent of the affiliating school. A certificate is granted upon the satisfactory completion of the four months' course.

Courses begin in October and February.

Superintendents of training schools desiring to arrange for their students to take this course should communicate with the Superintendent of Nurses, McLean Hospital, Waverley, Massachusetts.

Italics followed by figures indicate service and date of graduation from Hospital as a house officer. Initial letters followed by figures, the whole enclosed in parentheses, indicate that such alumnus is now on active service on the Hospital Staff; e.g. (E.M. 1910). Otherwise, the individual is not an M.G.H. alumnus.

Addresses are in Boston unless stated to be elsewhere; and are in Massachusetts when no State is indicated. It will be noticed that the number precedes the name of a street, but follows the name of a building.

Names of places are abbreviated as follows: Aub. = Auburndale; Brkln. = Brookline; Cmb. = Cambridge; Chsn. = Charlestown; Dor. = Dorchester; Jam. Pl. = Jamaica Plain; Medfd. = Medford; N. Y. preceded by street address = New York City; Rox. = Roxbury; Som. = Somerville; Wlthm. = Waltham.

One Hundred and Thirteenth Annual Report

OF THE TRUSTEES

OF THE

Massachusetts General Hospital

Including the General Hospital in Boston and the McLean Hospital

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

The legal title of the Corporation is

"The Massachusetts General Hospital"

All gifts and bequests, if without restriction, will be used as the Trustees deem most for the interest of the Corporation and its Beneficiaries.

The Hospital is greatly in need of additional funds. It will gratefully receive subscriptions for any amount.

Owing to the very general increase in the cost of running the Hospital, the subscribers to the Free Bed Fund are most urgently requested to increase their subscriptions to the Fund whenever possible.

A subscriber to the Free Bed Fund has the right to nominate a patient to a free bed, according to the following subscriptions:

$100.00 — for the current year to a free bed in a ward in the General Hospital.

$500.00 — for the current year to a free bed in a private room in the General Hospital.

$1,000.00 — for a period of ten years to a free bed in a ward in the General Hospital.

$5,000.00 — during the life of the subscriber and during the life of any other person named by him or her, to a free bed in a ward in the General Hospital.

$10,000.00 — during the life of the subscriber and during the life of any other person named by him or her, to a free bed in a private room in the General Hospital.

Or any sum may be donated as a permanent fund to the Hospital for the care of deserving patients thus:

I give to The Massachusetts General Hospital the sum of .....dollars to be held by the Trustees as a permanent fund in the name of....., the income to be used for the support of free beds.

All free beds shall be subject to the approval of the Trustees and the Rules of the Hospital which recite that in case the money donated or the income therefrom is not used by the donor for patients nominated by him, then the Hospital may use this money for other free patients or for general hospital purposes.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES

The Trustees present their report for the year ending December 31, 1926.

The year has been one which the Hospital can review with pride because of what has been accomplished to help further in the care of the sick entrusted to it.

Through the generosity of the public, $1,200,000 was raised through a special campaign toward the more immediate needs of the Hospital. It is the hope of the Trustees that the campaign which was conducted to raise this sum has instilled into the minds of the public that neither the Massachusetts General Hospital nor the McLean Hospital at Waverley, which is a part of the Massachusetts General Hospital, receive any state, city or county aid. The Institution is now and has been since its inception dependent on private individuals for its support and enlargement. It is hoped that the public will respond in the future more fully to provide this Hospital with funds for the growing needs of New England, from all parts of which come patients in need of treatment. To many this is the only Hospital which is available.

The Trustees note with sorrow these losses by death:

Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, who died October 6, 1926, was the last of a line of physicians and surgeons prominent in the history of the Massachusetts General Hospital. His grandfather, Dr. Jacob Bigelow, was Visiting Physician 1836 to 1855. His father, Henry Jacob Bigelow, Visiting Surgeon 1846 to 1885, was the most distinguished surgeon of his day. Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow was Surgeon to Out Patients 1879 to 1881, Trustee 1893 to 1903. Member of the Corporation until his death.

Mr. Galen L. Stone, who died December 26, 1926, was a Trustee of the Massachusetts General Hospital 1923 to 1924. Member of the Corporation until his death. A generous benefactor, a kindly friend.

Dr. Henry Fox Hewes, who died July 8, 1926, was a Medical House Officer 1895, on the Staff of the Hospital from 1899 until the time of his death when he was an Associate Physician. He devoted a large part of the best years of his life to the service of the Hospital.

Among the changes in the active professional staff are noted the following: Dr. C. Morton Smith from Chief of the Syphilis Department to the Board of Consultation; Dr. Henry D. Lloyd to be Chief of the Syphilis Department; Dr. Edward Wyllys Taylor from the position of Chief of the Neurological Department to the Board of Consultation; Dr. James B. Ayer to be Chief of the Neurological Department. The Trustees warmly thank Dr. Taylor and Dr. Smith for their long and devoted service.

Re-modelling of Bulfinch Building: In May, the surgical patients were moved back into the completed west wing of the Bulfinch Building, and in the succeeding few months the children's wards in the Bulfinch center were opened and the new neurological, neuro-surgical and surgical wards received their patients. This completed very satisfactorily the considerable performance of making the entire Bulfinch Building fireproof and with laboratory and administrative facilities in accordance with the demands of modern medicine.

Development of Out-Patient Department Building: Work was begun on the connecting building between the Massachusetts General Hospital Out-Patient Department and the building of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary on October 1, 1926. The Trustees are very glad indeed to make the announcement that this long desired improvement for the Out-Patient Departments of the two institutions has actually been started.

This building with its one entrance for both institutions will promote economy and efficiency.

Hospital for People of Moderate Means: The Trustees have authorized the preparation of working plans and the obtaining of bids for this building ultimately to house three hundred patients and they have further directed that plans be prepared and bids be obtained for an extension of this building to include a new X-ray building. This is a large project and the expense is formidable. One million dollars is available under the will of Mrs. Mary Rich Richardson for the Hospital for People of Moderate Means and a portion of the balance required for these purposes was raised from friends of the Hospital. It is hoped that work on these buildings may be begun in the spring of 1927 and completed a year from that time.

New Ward Building for General Hospital Patients: This project must needs be postponed for a while because of lack of money. The appeal to the public made during the year met with generous response but not enough was given to enable the Hospital to carry out the whole plan of development at the present moment.

New Heating Plant: The Trustees have decided to install in the old boiler house such new boilers and machinery as may be absolutely necessary for the time being. This is regrettable, but the money for the new plant is not in hand.

Other projects which must wait are a contagious department, a country branch, additional buildings for nurses and other personnel. The Trustees are confident that the money for all this development will come in due time. Massachusetts has never yet failed its oldest hospital and it will not do so now.

Ether Day was observed by a reception and tea and an invitation to the friends of the Hospital to inspect the completed Bulfinch Building.

The Trustees wish to record their appreciation of the services of the following committees of the ladies:

The Ladies Visiting Committee.
Surgical Dressing Committee.
Advisory Committee of the Training School for Nurses.

All of whom have been most helpful to the Hospital.

The assistance of the Advisory Boards, both men and women, in connection with the recent campaign of raising money for the Hospital was also very productive and in the opinion of the Trustees will be far reaching.

The Trustees also wish to express their appreciation for the splendid work done by the Staff of the Hospital.

McLEAN HOSPITAL

The admissions to the Hospital during the year were 133 or 8.4 per cent more than last year.

Both the psychological and chemical laboratories have been very busy and in addition to the research work much has been done to help in the immediate care and treatment of the patients.

Apart from the usual maintenance activities two new cottages for single patients have been under construction and are practically finished at the present time.

During the coming year a considerable sum will have to be expended on the renewal of brass water pipes, power house, avenues, and repairs to buildings. Suitable living quarters will also have to be provided for some of the male employees.

It is hoped that everyone will read the Medical Superintendent's report on another page. Over and above the obvious treatment of the patients, the occupational department so called is of great value mentally to the patient. Occupying the hands seems to divert and quiet the mind of many a patient who might otherwise suffer from worrying over his own condition. Sunday services are held regularly. The library is active in supplying carefully selected books and periodicals to patients and all others connected with the hospital.

Typhoid fever was discovered this autumn and twelve of our employees, four nurses and two patients, were attacked within two days. Prompt and vigorous action began on the first alarm, stopping the spread of the disease at that point. Unfortunately two of the nurses died, but all the other cases recovered.

The new nurses' home has been named in memory of Francis Lee Higginson, Trustee 1900–14, in appreciation of his great interest and generosity to the Hospital.

There has been no important change in the personnel of the Hospital during the year.

The condition of the School of Nursing has been very satisfactory.

The Massachusetts General Hospital needs a substantial fund, which could be used for the general purposes of the Hospital, to provide for the cost of new quarters for the X-ray department, the construction of which is contemplated, for greater activity in the Social Service Department, and to meet any deficiency arising from times of great unemployment when a larger part of the patients than at present coming to the Hospital are unable to contribute towards their care. At the present time about forty per cent are free patients, and about one-third are able to make only partial payment.

The Treasurer's report shows that the work has been considerably enlarged during the year.

Attention is invited to the reports of the Treasurer, the General Executive Committee, the Director, the Medical Superintendent of the McLean Hospital, and the appended tables of statistics.

JOHN R. MACOMBER,
SEWALL H. FESSENDEN,
Committee.

EXAMINATION OF ACCOUNTS

To the Committee on Accounts,
Massachusetts General Hospital,
Boston, Massachusetts.

Sirs:

In accordance with your instructions, we have made an examination of the books and accounts of the Massachusetts General Hospital, comprising the records at the General Hospital, the McLean Hospital, and the Treasurer's office, for the year ending December 31, 1926, and we report upon the accompanying financial statements of the Treasurer, as follows:

We have verified the balances of cash on hand at December 31, 1926, by actual count and the cash in bank at that date by certificates obtained from the various depositaries, duly reconciled.

We have verified the possession as at December 31, 1926, of the bonds (book value $2,793,124.82), stocks (book value $977,580.75), mortgage notes receivable (face value $535,000.00), and annuities receivable, consisting of three policies aggregating $160,000.00, as shown by the books of the Treasurer, by certificates obtained from the New England Trust Company, or by actual inspection.

We have ascertained that all income receivable from securities has been duly recorded in the Treasurer's books, and have seen that all cash shown to have been received during the year has been accounted for.

We have examined vouchers or other satisfactory evidence of payment for all disbursements (including those in respect to the application of the income from the various funds).

WE HEREBY CERTIFY that the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities and statements of financial operation in respect to principal and income are in accordance with the Treasurer's books, and that they correctly set forth the financial condition of the Hospital at December 31, 1926, and the results of its operations for the year ending at that date, aside from the facts (1) that accrued income on investments and sundry expenditures accrued as at the beginning and end of the year have not been taken into account in the Treasurer's books, (2) that the bonds and stocks owned by the Hospital at December 31, 1926, are shown at the values placed thereon by the Treasurer, which, we understand, represent approximate market values at that date, and (3) that real estate parcels are shown at the assessed values on April 1, 1926, plus cost of additions from that date to December 31, 1926.

Respectfully submitted,

1 Federal St., Boston, Mass.,

REPORT OF THE LADIES' VISITING COMMITTEE

The members of the Ladies' Visiting Committee have continued their work in the wards of the Hospital as in former years and in some cases their friendly visiting has been supplemented by following up certain patients who on leaving the Hospital were almost without resources and unable to work.

As the interest of this Committee centers in the welfare of the patients, its members have taken great pleasure in the individual radio sets in eight wards, the installation of which was made possible through the generosity of Mr. R. T. Paine, 2nd, and in a fine new radio for Ward I, the gift of Mr. Chandler Hovey. Individual lights for a few beds have been provided and these make such a tremendous difference to the comfort and happiness of the patients that the Committee earnestly hopes that the number may be greatly increased during the coming year.

The Warren Library is constantly in need of more books and these have been supplied from time to time, especially books in foreign languages. One member of the Committee brought some Syrian books from Jerusalem in the summer. Games, victrola records, knitted articles for general use in the hospital, and during the summer months, flowers, have been contributed. Through the generosity of one member new wicker furniture and chintz covers and curtains were supplied for the waiting room, and a radio was given to be used by the resident older women workers. Playing cards sent by the Somerset Club have been greatly appreciated.

The Christmas celebration was, on the whole, much like that of last year, except that two trees were placed in the Children's Ward in addition to the five out of doors. Miss Fisher took entire charge of all the arrangements and, in addition to the trees, oranges, nuts, raisins and candy were provided for each patient through the generosity of members of the Committee and of Mrs. Thorpe of Cambridge who donated candy. The Committee raised one hundred and ninety-two dollars to cover the balance of the expenses.

Other funds raised by the Committee are as follows:

Five hundred dollars for social service in the wards; two hundred dollars to pay for the half time salary of an Occupational Therapy worker in the wards. The income from the Sarah Proctor Joslin Fund, amounting to approximately fifty-eight dollars, is used for the purchase of books or other articles to be given to the patients. The income from the Annie Norton Ward Fund, amounting to fifty-eight dollars, is used, at Miss Motley's direction, for the library. In addition to these funds there is an emergency fund used as decided upon by three members of the Committee. One member of the Committee has continued to pay the salary of a trained assistant in the Social Service Department, one has raised a fund to purchase foreign books for patients in the Hospital, one has contributed the money to cover the cost of the printing of the History of Social Service at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and another member has donated a rug for the Warren Library.

One or two members join each week from November to May with members of the Training School Committee in providing and serving tea to the nurses, and the number attending these teas has almost doubled in the last year.

The Committee has been increased to thirty-four members during the year, and each member has been asked to visit for two months, if possible, one as a new visitor and one as an old visitor, so that patients who remain in the hospital more than one month need not change visitors so abruptly. With the increase in numbers it is hoped to more nearly cover the Hospital.

HELEN R. GRAY,
Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL

AN annual report is frequently a bare statement of facts, which makes no record of all the interest, the care, the devotion to the nurses, which characterizes this group of women who are working for the Training School for Nurses. The members of this Committee make monthly tours of the Hospital, establish friendly relations with the nurses through constant visits on the wards and weekly afternoon teas, and through their association with Miss Johnson, the Superintendent, and by their attendance at the monthly meetings endeavor at all times to keep in touch with the interests of the school. This is their contribution to the welfare of the Hospital.

The training of the nurses goes on as usual, with various additions and developments in contagious and psychopathic nursing, etc. A valuable addition this year has been the appointment of a Physical Social Director, who will be of much assistance to the nurses and help to Miss Johnson. Young women now enter for their training younger than in former years, thereby they have much more to learn in adjusting themselves to the necessary discipline of hospital life; they often come from the country knowing nothing of city life. For them it is of definite value to have someone to adjust their difficulties, advise them on outside recreation and be a guide and helper. Such is the office of a Physical Social Director, who is becoming an important assistant in all large Nurses' Training Schools.

It is a real satisfaction to know how many New England women come to us for training; the incoming class is largely from New England, as was the graduating class.

One recalls with interest that in the fifty-three years of the Training School, beginning with a class of six, seventeen hundred and fifty-three nurses have been graduated.

When the new building is ready the nursing staff must be considerably increased and we hope the public will help us to enlarge the Training School funds so that with more and better nurses we can give still better service to the community.

ELLEN T. VAUGHAN,
Secretary of the Ladies' Committee on the Training School.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE GENERAL HOSPITAL

To the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hosptial:

Gentlemen: I submit my Nineteenth Annual Report.

Four steps in the construction program are to be noted:

First: The completion of the fireproofing and renovation of the Bulfinch Building. Descriptions of what has been done in this building appeared in the Director's reports for 1924 and 1925 and need not be repeated. The job is satisfactory in every way. It increases our beds by fifty. The ward administrative facilities are now adequate and modern.*

Second: It has been decided that in the coming spring such changes will be made in the present boiler house as are absolutely necessary at the moment and the project for a new and adequate building deferred until such time as the funds may be in hand for that purpose.

Third: Plans have been made and the work begun upon the connecting building between the Out-Patient Department and the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. This will make possible of accomplishment many things of importance to the Hospital. The Out-Patient Departments of the two institutions will be in the same building, greatly to the advantage of the patients of each. All professional departments will have more room. The medical records will be centralized. Many other improvements will be made, more properly described another year when the building is finished.

Fourth: The Hospital for People of Moderate Means. The Trustees have authorized the preparation of working drawings and the obtaining of bids for building. It is hoped that construction may begin in the spring of 1927.

In connection with this construction, plans are being studied for an X-ray Building. This location is fully as good as that formerly proposed in the Ward Building. The needs of the department are too pressing to wait.

We have been saddened by the deaths of Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow and Mr. Galen L. Stone, Members of the Corporation and former Trustees, and Dr. Henry F. Hewes, Associate Physician, which occurred during the year.

The Legislature refused to authorize the additional money needed to build the station of the Boston Elevated Railway at the corner of Charles and Cambridge Streets. This much needed improvement must be deferred.

The Warren Prize for the year 1925 was awarded to John Farquahar Fulton of St. Paul, Minnesota. The title of his essay was "Some Aspects of Muscular Contraction." Mr. Fulton is at present a fourth year student at the Harvard Medical School. This is the first time this prize has been won by an undergraduate.

PARTIAL ANALYSIS OF DIRECTOR'S FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Greater expenses than in 1925:—Salaries and Wages	$53,028.30
Of this	31,482.00
represents money paid to special nurses in the Phillips House because of larger number of patients and increased rate of pay during the year. All this increase is charged to patients.
The further sum of	13,562.35
is charged to Phillips House, representing partly a fairer share of general charges and partly the greater cost of caring for more patients. Again under Salaries and Wages, the General Hospital is charged with an increase of	6,339.92
Of this	2,428.90
is for special nurses, for X-ray operators	1,443.04
and for housekeeping wages	2,876.40
These and the other items of increase are due to the expanded hospital.
Under the heading of supplies there is an increase of	54,444.08
The largest items are:
Medical and Surgical Supplies	18,265.45
Groceries and Provisions	14,040.41
X-ray	2,409.09
Housekeeping and Kitchen	10,134.02
(Of this $7,098.03 is due to renovations and additional equipment in the Phillips House.)
Maintenance, property and power plant	3,097.37
These greater expenditures for supplies are due to the cost of caring for more patients in an enlarged plant and the improving of our equipment in Surgical Building and Laboratories.
Total receipts are	$84,752.18 larger
Receipts exclusive of special nurses are	41,845.45 greater than in 1925
The Phillips House receipts excluding special nurses are	29,199.00 greater than in 1925
The General Hospital receipts exclusive of special nurses are	9,561.30 greater than in 1925

These increased receipts are due to the larger business done.

The Out-Patient Department expenses and receipts vary little from last year.

There appear to be two main reasons for the difficulty in getting a considerable increase in receipts in the General Hospital. Of the fifty beds added in the remodelled Bulfinch Building there are:

24 neurological, neuro-surgical and surgical research
13 children
10 medical research

All charitable hospitals find it hard to collect board money for children. In these other classes of patients the disease is usually of long standing and the patients have lost their earning power.

The continued depression in the basic industries of Massachusetts has deprived large groups of operatives, mostly in cities and towns outside of Boston, of their savings. Some of those who formerly met a part of the cost of their care now pay nothing.

There has been a very considerable increase in the work done in the Hospital this year in all departments. In patients' days treated, the General Hospital shows an increase over 1925 of 7,543, the Phillips House a gain of 2,909. Out-Patient visits show an increase in number of 3,431. The Emergency Ward treated 150 more patients. The number of X-ray and other laboratory examinations were materially increased.

The Consultation Clinic patients were more than in 1925 by 104.

A decline of 17 cents in the per capita cost of the General Hospital is noted. This is due to the material increase in numbers of patients treated.

The spirit of service in the Hospital is good. My thanks are due to officers and employees.

I am very appreciative of the support given me by your Board.

Attention is invited to the appended tables and reports.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN, M.D.,
Director.

† These figures are obtained by taking the amount of money received for board of patients in public wards, and dividing that figure by the full rate of board prevalent at that time. This gives the number of days of paying patients, reckoned as though they were paying full rates. By substracting this figure from the total of ward patients' days, we get the number of free days. Of the 126,329 patients' days at the General Hospital 62,588 are free.

* In this Table, each visit to the Out-Patient Department is counted once, regardless of the number of Clinics to which such patient may have been referred; consequently, the figures do not give the actual number of visits to each Special Clinic. For example: there were 1,068 actual visits (counting referred cases) to the Cardiac Clinic instead of 479, and to the Pulmonary Clinic 552 instead of 197.

The year 1926 will be remembered as the year when the school again had a true waiting list of applicants. Our housing and classroom accommodations can meet the needs of only fifty students in the February class, and only seventy students in the September class. On June 1, three months before the entrance date for the September section, seventy students had been enrolled in that class. On November 1, three months before the entrance date of the February section, fifty students had been enrolled to that class. Students were then appointed to a waiting list from which were filled the vacancies caused by withdrawals from the original group.

Because of the growth of the school, it was necessary to increase our rooming capacity. The hospital was fortunate in being able to procure housing for twenty-eight students in a section of the Mumford House, located on the corner of Charles and Cambridge Streets.

The additional students were soon absorbed, for in May we opened our remodelled children's ward with a capacity of forty-one beds, and in June, we opened two new neurological wards with a total capacity of twenty-four beds.

There have been two outstanding developments in the academic work of the school. The first development has been the appointment of another graduate nurse to the staff of the Out-Patient Department. She supervises the work of the student nurse, interprets to them the work of the Out-Patient, and teaches the elements of Public Health Nursing to all students in the school. By means of excursions, this nurse introduces the student nurses to the various health agencies of the community. The second development has been the acquirement of a science laboratory, which has been evolved from the former chemical laboratory. Probably no school of nursing has a better equipped science laboratory than that of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

An outstanding development in the off-duty life of the school has been the authorization by the Board of Trustees for the appointment of a Physical-Social Director. Space forbids discussion of the value of such a worker. However, one who takes cognizance of the place which recreation and sports play in the life of boarding school and college youth, will realize that few schools of nursing have met the responsibility of the recreational life of their students. The public, and especially the parents of our students, rightly criticize this lack in our schools of nursing. We have a just pride in the fact that we are now one of the few schools endeavoring to meet this responsibility.

Three committees of women have continued to make valuable contributions to this school. The ladies of the Advisory Committee on the General Hospital Training School have given unbounded support to the Principal, they have done many kindly things for the student nurses, and they have wisely interpreted the work of the school to the community. The Ladies Visiting Committee has joined the Advisory Committee in the providing of afternoon teas, and they have called many needs of the patients to the attention of the Nursing Department. This committee has provided means of occupation and recreation for the patients, which, by making happier patients, has helped the work of the nurses. The Surgical Dressings Committee has come to the Hospital twice a week during the winter months, and has made thousands of surgical supplies; a routine job which calls for patience.

Every year the hospital demands more of the student nurse, while the public demands more of the graduate nurse. The responsibility of this Hospital is to meet this growing demand by giving our students a sound and broad preparation for their work. We are earnestly endeavoring to discharge this responsibility.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLY M. JOHNSON, R.N.,
Superintendent of Nurses and Principal of the Training School.

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

GENERAL STATEMENT. The circular of information giving a detailed survey of the course of instruction and of requirements for admission may be obtained upon request. Personal applications may be made between ten and twelve o'clock on Tuesday mornings, and at other times by appointment. The length of the course is three years, which includes the preliminary period of four months.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION. Full high-school education or its actual equivalent is required. There is no arbitrary age limit. Acceptance depends upon education, general health, and personal qualifications.

EXPENSE OF COURSE. The tuition fee is $50, and breakage deposit $10. The students will be provided with board, lodging, and laundry throughout the course; also with required textbooks. Students will be required to provide uniforms during the preliminary period, but after acceptance their uniforms will be furnished by the Hospital.

SCHOLARSHIP — LOAN FUND. Six scholarships of $100 each are awarded annually to students doing satisfactory work and needing financial aid. There is a small loan fund.

HOURS OF DUTY — VACATION. During the preliminary course the daily average of ward duty is slightly over two hours. For accepted students the day duty is fifty-two hours a week, and the night duty fifty-six hours a week. The vacation allowance for the entire course of three years is ten weeks, one week of which is sometimes used as a leave of absence to aid in the maintenance of the student's health.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE. All students obtain experience in general medical and surgical nursing, obstetrical nursing, care of sick children, and in operating room technique. The majority obtain experience in the nursing of orthopedic patients, and the care of patients having skin diseases. There are many desirable electives.

Theoretical Instruction. The theoretical instruction is comprehensive and well given.

The Special Five-Year Course. A special five-year course is offered in affiliation with Simmons Collge, which entitles the pupil to the degree of B.S. from Simmons College, the diploma of the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses, and a certificate of Public Health Nursing. Further information relative to this course may be obtained from the Director, School of Public Health Nursing, Simmons College, 300 The Fenway, Boston, Mass.

Time Allowance to College Graduates. Time allowance will be given graduates of approved colleges, provided the course has included the basic sciences relating to nursing. Among these sciences are biology, chemistry, sociology, psychology, and those of the household group. The maximum allowance will be eight months. This allowance may not be determined until the student has been in the school for eight months.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Since its foundation the Hospital, in addition to the care of patients, has constantly sought to promote medical education and in notable instances individual effort has profitably widened its activities into the field of research and contributed discoveries of far reaching importance. With the completion, in the fall of 1925, of the research laboratories and the special study ward adequate facilities were provided for organized research. Now, with a part of its Staff relieved of the exacting duties of private practice and with the means at hand to undertake inquiries which need complicated laboratory equipment, the institution is in a far better position than ever before to fulfill its obligation to contribute to existing knowledge concerning disease.

Through the generous response to the public appeal for additional funds the material resources of the institution have been largely increased during the year, but it must be appreciated that these are still inadequate for all the desired improvements. Among the special needs still unprovided for are: more modern equipment and quarters for the X-ray Department; a new heating plant and new Ward Building for General Hospital patients.

During the year an important improvement has been made in the facilities for the care of patients admitted to the general wards of the Hospital. The success attending the renovation and additions to the East Wing of the Bulfinch Building, completed in 1925, impelled the Trustees to institute similar changes in the West Wing, which was re-occupied in June, 1926. The reconstructed building is now safe against fire and provides the best possible facilities for the care and study of ward patients in the General Surgical, the Neuro-Surgical, the Neurological, and Children's Departments. In the remodelled Bulfinch Building beds for fifty more patients have been added to the Hospital.

A notable trend in the progress of the Hospital has been the development of special clinics for the study and care of groups of patients suffering from the same disease. Thus, among others, those with tuberculosis, diabetes, asthma, heart disease, and fractures have been separated from the general clinics and get the benefit of more intensive investigation by those specially interested in these diseases. In continuation and elaboration of this successful policy of segregation special clinics have been established to give patients suffering from one disease the advantage of the co-operative effort of a group of physicians all interested in the disease but viewing it from different points of view. Those with disease of the thyroid or with tumor thus have their problem considered from the viewpoint of a representative of the Surgical, the Medical and the Roentgen-Ray Departments. Both medicine and surgery are likewise represented in the Gastro-Intestinal Clinic. The most recent additions to the group of special combined clinics are the Thoracic Clinic in which the Departments of Surgery, Medicine and Laryngology are represented and the Neurosurgical and Neurological Services which now together occupy two wards in the remodelled west wing of the Bulfinch Building. Organized co-operative effort as in these special combined clinics is one of the most important means by which the large facilities of this Hospital and the abundant experience of its Staff may be made available for the benefit of the community.

The age limit has terminated the Hospital service, in the full vigor of their activities, of two valued members of its Staff who have been elected to the Board of Consultation. Dr. Edward Wyllys Taylor has concluded a period of thirty-three years of devoted service to the Hospital in the Department of Neurology of which he has acted as Chief for the past fifteen years and as such gained the well-merited esteem of his colleagues. Dr. C. Morton Smith's retirement terminates a period of thirteen years of service to the Hospital. During this time he acted as Chief of the Department of Syphilis. Through his capable management this department was brought to a state of high efficiency. We report with regret the loss by resignation of the able services of Dr. Frederic S. Burns of the Dermatological Department and Dr. F. Gorham Brigham of the Diabetic Clinic.

The Hospital has lost by death during the year Dr. Henry Fox Hewes, who served as House Officer in 1895. For twenty-seven years, to the time of his death, July 8, 1926, as Physician to Out Patients, then Assistant Visiting Physician and finally as Associate Physician, he gave unsparingly of his time and effort in the best interests of the Hospital.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

General Medical Service:

The house services in the new Bulfinch wards have functioned smoothly during 1926. The handling of sixteen typhoid cases from the epidemic at the McLean Hospital was much facilitated by the better equipment that the reconstructed wards afford. The advantage of giving each service a floor to itself, with laboratories complete, is daily becoming more apparent.

The medical out patient clinics seem to be running more satisfactorily now than for some years past. Staff members find the conditions for work there improved, and enjoy their service more on that account. By the same token the care of patients is undoubtedly better. The appointment system is proving its worth. The number of kept appointments is steadily rising. The team organization has been strengthened and the team leaders are exercising more leadership. This arrangement too is working well. It is very gratifying to find a goodly number of our recent medical graduates serving in these clinics.

Certain changes in the Harvard Medical School fourth year course in medicine have improved the operation of both house and out-patient clinics. The house clerkship and the out-patient clerkship have been combined; each clerk serves two mornings a week in the Out-Patient Department, and the rest of his time in the wards. Since his out patient mornings match those of one of the teams, it is possible to assign each student permanently to a particular out-patient physician. This has proved an arrangement mutually advantageous; the physician gets better assistance from a clerk he knows and has regularly for two or three months than from constantly shifting ones as heretofore. The clerk gets better instruction by serving one man whom he gets to know well, and whose methods and wants he understands. The patients get better care for the clerk becomes more skilled and is more responsible in carrying out the physician's orders. Clerks see patients on subsequent visits more frequently by the new system. Another innovation in the fourth year course is the making of a limited number of visits by the clerks to patients in their homes. The clerk and patient both clearly understand that the former is acting in a reporting capacity solely, but even so the patients selected have in every instance seemed pleased by the attention.

The special clinics have continued active. It would be impossible to give any details of the valuable work being constantly contributed by these groups. Those doing the largest volume of work are the Diabetic, the Cardiac and the Anaphylactic Clinics, all of these rivalling the general out-patient clinics in numbers of patients treated. The Thyroid and Gastro-Intestinal Clinics have continued a careful work and are particularly worthy of note as representing liaisons between the medical and surgical sides. These special clinics offer a remarkable opportunity for graduate teaching; it is to be hoped that greater advantage will be taken of it.

The study of disease has progressed in all these varied activities, not only as formal research, but as clinical study made in connection with routine work. Groups of cases have been observed and analyzed by a number of physicians. For example: Dr. Morrison has looked up the Massachusetts General Hospital cases of subacute bacterial endocarditis; Dr. Balboni has followed and treated by artificial pneumothorax certain cases of chronic broncho-pulmonary suppuration; Dr. Breed has studied the effect of heparmone on blood pressures and concluded that it had no effect; Dr. Wolff has analyzed a series of cases of coronary thrombosis and embolism; Dr. Wyman Richardson has studied a series of cases of subarachnoid hemorrhage, and is also following all cases of pernicious anemia being treated by the new Minot diet.

In more formal research, Dr. Bock and his group, in which this year we find Dr. C. J. Van Caulaert of Strasbourg, are still studying the hemodynamics of muscular work in health and disease. Dr. Aub (in charge of Ward 4) is studying calcium metabolism in a group of endocrine patients of various types, and experimentally the relation of calcium intake and parathyroid activity on calcium storage. Dr. C. M. Jones is making quantitative studies of total base and chloride in gastric contents. Dr. Rackemann has worked this year particularly on bacterial asthma and Dr. Lord has continued his study of the significance of spirochaetes in pulmonary suppuration. Dr. Thompson is going on with his blood volume studies, this year observing the relation of plasma water, chlorides and proteins during thyroid administration. Dr. White and his group have continued active as usual, studying a wide variety of cardiac problems, of which some of the statistical studies, such as the heart after diphtheria, the heart in early syphilis, and the incidence of heart disease in New England, may be of most interest to the practitioner.

Dermatological Service:

The activities of the skin department have continued unabated during the year, with the handling of 18,202 patients. Of these 4,083 were new patients.

The X-ray and quartz light continue to prove useful adjuncts in the treatment of skin disease. Dr. C. Guy Lane reports that to December 18th, 138 new patients were treated by the X-ray and that about 1,300 visits were made to this department of the Dermatological Clinic to the first of December. Dr. J. H. Swartz reports the use of the quartz light in the treatment of 6,176 patients in the Hospital as a whole, including 3,609 treated in the Dermatological Department.

Neurological Service:

By far the most important change in this Department was the withdrawal of the Chief, Dr. Edward W. Taylor, who automatically resigned on his sixtieth birthday. No eulogies are necessary concerning the important work that Dr. Taylor has done. Suffice it to say that Dr. Taylor has made what was generally considered an unpopular subject, one of extreme interest both among students and among the Profession. Perhaps the best indication of this is the increase in the number of men under him on the Staff and the numbers of men electing Neurology during their fourth year in the Medical School. It is hoped that Dr. Taylor will continue his interest in the department, as of old.

The absence of Dr. Frank Fremont-Smith is most noticeable in that he was in charge of the research of the spinal fluid laboratory. Dr. Fremont-Smith is studying along similar lines in Germany and in France. No material change has been made in the Out-Patient Department, nor is any radical departure at present planned.

The House Service was finally opened in June, 1926. The present arrangement of two small wards containing patients on the Neurological and Neuro-Surgical Services has proved, as was expected, to be most economical of time and most efficient in every way. It is hoped that this arrangement will persist, in that co-operation between these two departments is vital, from the point of view of both physician and patient. To facilitate this union, a combined ward round is made regularly once a week. It is noticeable that no marked difference in the number of consultations rendered to the Neurological Service has occurred, showing that in no way does the Neurological Ward draw cases away from the other services. For the most part, patients admitted to the ward are neurological cases referred from the Out-Patient Department.

The spinal fluid laboratory has continued its activities. Not only does this laboratory serve the Neurological Department, but it is used rather more by other departments of the Hospital. At present there are two regular workers in this laboratory, to carry on both the routine and research aspects of the work.

Children's Medical Service:

The Children's Medical Service moved into the new remodelled ward in the Bulfinch Building late in June of this year. The modernization of the ward has improved the efficiency in the care and treatment of children as follows: The installation of the cubicle system and a special nursing technique now make it possible to keep the ward open continuously even when infectious disease develops in one of the cubicles. It also helps to prevent cross infections. The new balcony allows children to be moved out of doors, from the upper ward, to obtain fresh air and sunlight. The accommodations have been increased by moving the service departments of the wards into the new tower built on the north side. The new house officer laboratories and the student laboratories have made it possible for the house officers and students to do very much more efficient laboratory work on their patients. The new ward has been modernized in every way possible.

The relationship between the Children's Department and the Harvard Medical School has been made even closer, and Dr. Bengt Hamilton has been appointed to the full-time position in the Children's Medical Department. His title is Physician to the Children's Medical Department, and he has been designated as the Executive Officer of the Department for the ensuing year. He is investigating the excretion of fixed base in infants and its bearing on some diseases of infancy.

Dr. Kenneth Metcalf brought to an end one stage of his investigations on epilepsy. As the result of his work, which is now being carried on by Dr. Luther, a symptomatic cure has been produced in 30 per cent of the epileptic children who have come to the hospital clinics. This work is dietetic and has been greatly facilitated by the co-operation of the North End Diet Kitchen in the Out-Patient Department.

Studies were continued by Dr. Talbot on the endocrine diseases and Mongolianism. New work was commenced on the skin temperatures of normal children under varying conditions. One phase of this work on premature infants has been carried on in co-operation with the premature ward at the Boston Children's Hospital. A new study also has been commenced on the insensible perspiration of normal children. The work so far has shown that it roughly parallels the basal metabolism.

The equipment of the pediatric laboratories has been greatly enlarged and improved, making it possible to carry on types of work which were previously greatly handicapped.

The Children's Out-Patient Department has continued its general service to the public with the co-operation of the Social Service. It is at present running special clinics for children with endocarditis, chorea, epilepsy, and a Nutrition Clinic. The number of patients attending these clinics has increased each year.

Syphilis Service:

The outstanding change in the South Medical Clinic for the year 1926 was the resignation of Dr. C. Morton Smith as Chief of the Clinic, an action keenly regretted by the remainder of the South Medical Staff.

In point of numbers of patients there is not much change between 1925 and 1926, the difference being slightly in favor of 1926. With the reduced number of the Staff this has made increased work for the Staff members, so that investigation has been at a standstill.

SURGICAL DEPARTMENT

General Surgical Services:

The chief event during the year was the return of the surgical services to the reconstructed Bulfinch Building. This marks an important advance not only with regard to safety on account of the fireproof construction, but in facilities provided for the better care and study of patients. Each service now has two adjoining wards greatly improved in convenience on the same floor, with laboratory space for clinical examinations in the same building, a centralization of arrangement which is highly desirable. The wards themselves have been brightened by the removal of the central stacks, while preserving the characteristic architectural details. The construction of the two new wards of twelve beds each on the ground floor has given opportunity not only for the Neurological Service to have beds, but for the Neuro-Surgical cases under Dr. W. J. Mixter and Dr. J. S. Hodgson to be concentrated chiefly on the same wards so that there can be study of these closely related cases. These wards also make possible the extensive study of a few cases in close relation to the laboratories. With the new space and equipment in the laboratory wing available for research, the physical plant of the surgical services now leaves little to be desired.

The work of the surgical service has progressed as in previous years without radical changes. The policy of assigning special subjects for detailed study has been continued, although, except in special instances involving rare conditions, these assignments are limited to the cases on one service, in order not to deprive the house officers of valuable experience. Teaching of second, third and fourth year students has continued as in the past. At present there is little clinical material of importance which is not utilized in the instruction of one or another of these groups.

Special studies on the West Surgical Service have been continued by Dr. Monroe A. McIver chiefly on "Factors in the regulation of gastric acidity," and by Dr. James C. White on "Chloride loss in obstruction of the gastro-intestinal tract." Dr. Edward D. Churchill, who was last year appointed Tutor in Surgery by the Harvard Medical School, is in Europe on a traveling fellowship, doing work on physiology. Other investigations, chiefly on the clinical aspects of surgical disease, are in progress.

The East Surgical Service has continued to do the routine work of the hospital with gratifying results. The Hospital is receiving a larger and larger proportion of difficult and complicated cases which makes the surgery of greater interest but increases the cost per patient to a very considerable extent. This is as it should be for the hospitals in the smaller centers are better and better able to care for the less complicated cases.

There is a large amount of research to be done on a great variety of cases which have gone through the Hospital. This consists in part in looking up the results of the treatment received and in determining the value of various procedures. This is an important function of all large hospitals, but the time required to look up records and to get the patient to return for observation is so great that comparatively little is done.

The Fracture Service has continued to function most satisfactorily. The end results of the fractures treated in 1924 and 1925 have been nearly completed at a great expenditure of time by the X-ray Department as well as by members of the service and a considerable expenditure of money by the Fracture Service. It is believed, however, that the data obtained will be well worth the expenditure in aiding in the standardization of the treatment and in determining other facts such as the period of disability and the amount of permanent disability. Because of the poor results obtained in fractures of the os calcis and fractures of the neck of the femur, special assignments have been made of these conditions. A most gratifying response was given to the offering of a course on "Treatment of Fractures" by the whole Fracture Service. The course was attended by men from many New England cities.

The Tumor Clinic has now been in operation for twenty-one months. During the year 1926, seventeen hundred and thirty-five patients were seen in the clinic, an average of about one hundred and fifty a month. These cases come in about equal proportions from the House and Out-Patient Departments.

During the past year groups of cases have been studied and reports have been prepared by the following members of the Tumor Clinic Staff: Dr. E. M. Daland on cancer of the breast, the life duration of untreated cases; Dr. Channing C. Simmons, cancer of the mouth and tongue; and Dr. William

M. Shedden, cancer of the lip. In both of these reports attention has been directed to the classification of the degree of malignancy of cancer in these situations. Dr. Lincoln Davis and Dr. Joe Vincent Meigs have developed the radiation therapy of cancer of the uterus and an arrangement with the Huntington Hospital has made possible the more effective treatment of these cases at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

A study of cases of cancer of the breast has been begun with the co-operation of Dr. George W. Holmes to determine the value of pre-operative radiation in such cases.

The Thoracic Clinic:

The Thoracic Clinic was organized during the first two months of 1926, and started work in April, 1926. Its purpose is to make an intensive study of certain thoracic conditions, by men especially trained and interested in this work, in order that more knowledge of these conditions may be acquired and thereby improve the individual patient's care. The individual patient is followed by the same men, not only through his stay in the Hospital, but also during his convalescence after leaving the Hospital, by means of the Out-Patient Department. The personnel includes men especially trained and interested in the medical and surgical aspect of diseases of the thoracic cavities, in bronchoscopy and in the use of artificial pneumothorax. Once each week patients in the Hospital are seen in consultation by the whole group. One day a week patients, after leaving the Hospital, may report to the Out-Patient Department either to the Pulmonary Clinic or to the Surgical Clinic, to be seen by the members of the group in charge of them during their stay in the Hospital.

Laryngological Department:

During the past year this department has co-operated actively with other services. Cases referred by those services requiring lipiodal injections for diagnostic purposes are being examined at the Infirmary in increasing numbers. Systematic treatment of cases of bronchiectasis and lung abscess has been instituted. Lipiodal injections have been used in post-operative cases to determine the size and ramifications of brain abscess.

A new instrument for diagnosing twists of the lower end of the esophagus has been perfected and put into use. A prone fluoroscope has been installed and was recently successfully used for the removal of the head of a stick pin which had been in the patient's bronchus thirty years. A diathermy apparatus was installed during the past year and a new table for suspension laryngoscopy has just been shipped from the manufacturer.

The Friday morning clinical Staff meeting has been kept up regularly and has been well attended.

Orthopedic Service:

During the year the Orthopedic Service of the Hospital has continued its investigations of clinical material which passed through the Out-Patient Department and Ward I. Accuracy in diagnosis in joint conditions has been increased by the study of synovial secretion with the assistance of the spinal fluid laboratory. Several other valuable pieces of investigative work are being carried out by members of the Staff.

During the past year there have been performed 519 operations on patients both in Ward I and on the Fracture Service of the Orthopedic Service. A total of 458 patients has been treated during the year. It seems necessary again to point out the demand for more beds for the Orthopedic Service.

In order to accommodate the demand presented by the growing numbers in the Out-Patient Department, it is necessary to make the "turn-over" in Ward I a very rapid one. In doing this the service is greatly indebted to the Social Service Department which has made it possible by its excellent co-operative work in securing convalescent treatment outside the Hospital to keep the stream of patients flowing through Ward I and receiving necessary surgical treatment. This system, however, is only in part satisfactory, and many patients who need several days of hospital care are of necessity turned away from the service rendered by the Hospital.

The Out-Patient Department has shown an increase in numbers and an increasing efficiency in handling the patients. The value of the Out-Patient Department as a means of training for surgeons desiring knowledge of orthopedic conditions is well evidenced by the number of graduate assistants who continually apply for this service.

During the year Dr. William A. Rogers has established a "follow-up" system which is of great value in ascertaining the end results of surgical treatment. Patients who have been operated upon in Ward I are asked to return to the Hospital after a period of one year. The Social Service Department co-operates in locating the patients, and on one Sunday each month the entire Orthopedic Staff gathers in the Hospital and reviews the history, treatment and result accomplished in the patients operated upon during that month one year previous. The attendance at these "follow-up" clinics has been most gratifying and the service is making end result records which cover over seventy per cent of the cases that have been operated upon in the Hospital.

Urological Service:

The two outstanding needs of the Department are (1) a sufficient number of beds in the House to accommodate the many seriously ill patients who now have to lose valuable time waiting to be admitted, and (2) better facilities for pyelography in the Out-Patient Department.

Roentgenological Department:

The X-ray Department has shown a considerable increase in the number of cases treated and examined. The amount of work has increased more than the increase in patients would indicate as most cases now require extensive and complicated examination. During the year the position of Junior Assistant was created.

In the Therapeutic Department, the arrangement with the Huntington Hospital to supply rather large amounts of radium emanation for forty-eight hours rather than small daily amounts, as in the past, has been a more satisfactory arrangement. Even now the supply is inadequate. The consultation service in this department and the co-operation with the Tumor Clinic has been a decided advantage in the handling of malignant diseases. An arrangement with the Orthopedic Department has been made by which House Officers in the Orthopedic Department spend four months in the X-ray Department, where their time is given largely to the X-ray examination of orthopedic cases.

Chemical Laboratory:

During the year the routine work of the laboratory has continued to increase. Research was completed by Dr. James L. Stoddard on certain aspects of protein solutions and is now in press (Jour. Biol. Chem.) under the title "Activity in Protein Solutions: 1. Inert Gases, the question of hydration." As the title suggests, work is being carried out now on other aspects of this general problem.

Consultation Clinic:

During the year there have been no changes in the organization or the method of running the clinic. The statistics show an increase in the number of patients and the number of men working in the clinic has been somewhat increased with a corresponding increase in the efficiency of the work. The clinic has continued its effort to report as promptly as possible to the doctor and has received very few complaints about delayed reports.

Altogether the clinic has run more smoothly than in former years and seems still to be filling a need in the community.

Occupational Therapy:

This work has now completed its fifth year, has served a very useful purpose and is much appreciated by the Staff of the Hospital. In addition to Miss Isabelle Whittier, who directs the work and acts as worker herself in the Children's Ward, there are: a craftswoman who teaches basketry, weaving and the tooling of leather, a student who teaches kindergarten in a daily class in the nursery of the Eye and Ear Infirmary, and a student who teaches children of school age in both the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Eye and Ear Infirmary.

REPORT OF THE PATHOLOGICAL LABORATORY

An extensive reorganization of the Pathological Laboratory has been started during the year. On September 1, Dr. Tracy B. Mallory became active director of the laboratory and Dr. J. Homer Wright, Consulting Pathologist to the Hospital. Dr. Oscar Richardson retired after many years of service and Dr. Albert E. Steele resigned his post of bacteriologist shortly afterwards. Dr. Harry F. Hartwell continues to be surgical pathologist as before. The positions of House Officer and of Resident in Pathology have been created and the appointment of a full time bacteriologist is anticipated in the near future. A bacteriologic technician is already at work.

The former house officers' laboratory has been remodelled for the use of the bacteriologist and modern equipment has been purchased for it through a grant from the Trustees. Two small rooms have been remodelled as an individual laboratory and office. The substitution of a steel staircase for the old wooden one has greatly increased the safety of the building.

The usual routine has been continued as in previous years. 177 autopsies were performed as compared with 150 in 1925. The percentage of autopsies performed upon cases dying in the hospital was 35 minus, as against 36 per cent in 1925. From the autopsies 987 microscopical preparations were prepared during the year.

4714 bacteriologic examinations were reported upon as compared with 2,828 in 1925.

394 guinea pigs were used in testing specimens for evidence of tuberculosis.

The gross and microscopic appearances of 2137 surgical specimens from the Hospital and 454 from the Phillips House were described and pathologic diagnoses rendered. 2843 microscopic slides were prepared from this material.

18,052 Wassermann reactions were performed upon specimens of blood and 1731 upon spinal fluids.

240 examinations of milk were made upon specimens furnished from the Hospital and from the Eye and Ear Infirmary.

The usual courses in pathology in connection with the Harvard Medical School and the Hospital courses in medicine and pathology were continued as before. These exercises were conducted by Drs. Richard C. Cabot, Oscar Richardson and Tracy B. Mallory. The course for practitioners given by Drs. William H. Smith and Oscar Richardson was well attended as usual.

Dr. T. B. Mallory has given instruction in gross pathology to sections of second year men from the Harvard Medical School and Dr. J. Homer Wright has continued his course for fourth year men in pathologic histology. Dr. H. F. Hartwell has given weekly demonstrations in pathological anatomy to fourth year students and has continued the collection and preservation of surgical specimens for teaching purposes.

Respectfully submitted,

TRACY B. MALLORY, M.D.
Pathologist.

REPORT OF THE TREADWELL LIBRARY

THE year in the Treadwell Library has been notable for the valuable gifts received.

Through the generosity of Mr. Henry J. Heard, the library of his father the late Dr. J. Theodore Heard, a former house pupil, has come into our possession. The collection numbers about 200 books, including bound medical periodicals, books on military medicine and general medical books valuable for their historical interest. With the books were a number of interesting documents, including Dr. Heard's commission as surgeon in the United States army signed by Abraham Lincoln, and his discharge signed by Andrew Johnson.

The second gift consists of 173 consecutive volumes of Virchow's Archiv. This valuable set has been given to the library by Mrs. W. F. Whitney and her sons with the understanding that the books are to be sold and the proceeds used to purchase books of permanent interest. The books so purchased are to be kept as a unit to be known as the William Fiske Whitney Memorial Collection.

The members of the Staff have been generous with their gifts of books and periodical subscriptions, supplying much valuable material.

The library still lacks adequate, recent, reference books. In almost every branch of medicine and the allied sciences the volumes now on the shelves are so old as to be practically valueless in answering the daily demands of Staff and students.

Attention should also be given to the needs of the nursing staff. Since the privileges of the Library have been extended to include both graduate and pupil nurses no material has been purchased to meet their particular requirements, an omission which should be corrected if the Library is to serve, as it should, the entire hospital family.

Congestion in the Record Room Vault has reached a climax. The records now accumulating are accommodated only by crowding extra records into the pamphlet boxes, a process which takes extra time of the record room staff and delays service to the record borrowers. Relief in some form is imperative.

The librarian is again grateful to the Director and the library patrons for their continued co-operation and consideration.

Statistics for the year follow:

REPORT OF THE WARREN LIBRARY

THE main effort of the librarian this year has been devoted to perfecting and carrying out the various services introduced in previous years. The only important change has been the removal of the library into its new quarters in the basement of the West Wing of the Bulfinch Building. With the new furnishings, the room is cheerful and cozy and is much appreciated by everyone.

During the year greater use has been made of the library for educational purposes. Many of the graduate nurses have been taking University Extension Courses and we have co-operated with them by providing the necessary supplementary reading. An increased interest has been shown in books and reading by the cleaners and workers in the laundry. It is a pleasure for us to be of service to everyone in the Hospital.

The librarian wishes to thank the Committee on Libraries, the Ladies' Visiting Committee and all the friends of the library for their numerous gifts.

The Phillips House Circulating Library has continued to be of some service to the patients, a total of 1,928 books being issued during 1926. The librarian feels that a greater and more satisfactory service could be given by instituting individual bed-side service.

It is impossible to keep an accurate record of the number of books issued to patients on the wards as a large number are passed from bed to bed and read many times before they are returned to the library. The statistics given are the record of books issued to patients by the librarian. Following are the yearly statistics:

	Increase
Number of volumes at beginning of year	3,428
Number of volumes added during year	403
Number of volumes withdrawn during year ..	175
Total number of volumes at end of the year ..	3,656

Circulation

Number of volumes issued to patients	19,566
Number of volumes issued to employees	9,238
Total number of volumes issued	28,804
Total number of volumes issued in 1925	28,467
Showing increase of	337
Number of volumes in foreign languages issued	1,399
Number of juvenile volumes issued	1,963
Number of technical volumes borrowed from Boston Public Library	92
Number of volumes in foreign languages borrowed from Library Commission	24

Respectfully submitted,

Elizabeth W. Reed, Librarian.

The increase of work for 1925 over previous years has been further augmented this year by the additional beds provided for neurological and neuro-surgical ward patients through the remodelling of the Bulfinch Building. Since it has not been possible to add to the staff, it has been necessary unfortunately to definitely control the amount of work undertaken. This has resulted in a decrease in the number of patients served in 1926. There is need of at least a half time worker for the extended neurological ward service and great need of another social worker for the surgical ward service.

In spite of the attempt to keep the volume of work within the capacity of the staff, we have had an increase in some of the most difficult types of problems. From the medical and surgical wards, we have had referred to us 202 patients with malignancy and 284 with other chronic diseases. Since this Hospital is designed to serve patients with acute disease, it is entirely fitting that these chronic patients should be referred to our department. It is difficult to be daily reminded of the presence of patients who are facing the many and varied personal problems coincident with chronic disease and yet because of our limited staff, we are unable to give them the service that might make their fate a little easier.

At the request of the Boston Finance Commission, Miss Cannon, in co-operation with five other social service departments, conducted a brief survey of chronic disease. This study of 742 patients known to social service departments during 1925, indicated the dominance of heart disease, malignancy and arthritis among the chronic diseases. It is hoped that this study may be amplified and that concerted action may be taken for better institutional and home nursing care for chronic disease in Boston.

In consideration of the increasing demand for social service from some of the special clinics to which we could not assign special workers, we have withdrawn the worker from the Urological Clinic and one worker from the South Medical Clinic where clinic secretarial service has been highly developed to carry the follow-up system. This readjustment has further centralized the service for the special clinics within the general department.

The medical social conferences with the fourth year medical students have continued, and at Doctor Means' request the visits of the students to the patients' homes is undertaken after consultation with the head worker in the wards.

Through the generosity of an anonymous friend, we have been able to have published during the year, "The Social Worker in the Hospital Ward," by Miss Elsie Wulkop, with comments by Dr. Richard C. Cabot (Houghton, Mifflin Co.).

Through the generosity of the Committee for the Home Care of Children with Heart Disease, we have been able to continue the service both in the children's and the adult Cardiac Clinics. Through Dr. Morrison, money has been raised for the continuation of social service in the Diabetic Clinic. This year marks the fourteenth year that Mrs. Charles E. Mason has very generously provided funds to pay for a public health nurse in our Baby Clinic.

The Ward Social Service and office of Chief were moved from their temporary quarters in the Moseley Building to the renovated basement of the Bulfinch Building in June.

We wish to express here our sincere appreciation of the continued financial assistance and ever growing helpfulness of the Ladies' Visiting Committee.

IDA M. CANNON,
Chief of Social Service.

WARREN TRIENNIAL PRIZE

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL

THE Warren Triennial Prize was founded by the late Dr. J. Mason Warren in memory of his father, and his will provides that the accumulated interest of the fund shall be awarded every three years to the best dissertation, considered worthy of a premium, on some subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathological Anatomy, the arbitrators being the General Excutive Committee of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Theses submitted for competition for the year 1928 shall be on some special subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathology.

Dissertations must be in either the English, French, or German language, and MUST BE TYPEWRITTEN AND SUITABLY BOUND, so as to be easily handled. Work that has been published previously will not be considered in competition. The name of the writer must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, on which must be written a motto corresponding with one on the accompanying dissertation. The names of collaborators should appear with that of the writer in the sealed envelope.

Any clew given by the paper, or any action on the part of the writer which reveals his name before the award of the prize, will disqualify him from receiving it.

The amount of the prize for the year 1928 will be $500.

In case no dissertation is considered sufficiently meritorious, no award will be made. Essays will be received until April 15, 1928

A high value will be placed on original work.

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN, M.D.,
Director.

DALTON SCHOLARSHIPS

THE income of this fund, amounting to $1,000 annually, is devoted to investigation in the science of medicine. The rules of the Trustees applicable to it are as follows:

ARTICLE 1. Candidates shall be nominated to the Board of Trustees by the General Executive Committee with their recommendations. They shall be either internes of the General Hospital or male graduates of a regular American Medical College.

ARTICLE 2. The nature of the work in medical investigation proposed to be prosecuted by each candidate shall be designated by the candidate.

ARTICLE 3. The Scholarship year shall begin September 15. Scholars shall work not less than ten hours per week, from the last Wednesday in September to the last Wednesday in June; and if a scholar performs a part only of this prescribed work, he shall be entitled to a proportionate part only of the income.

ARTICLE 4. The results of work of scholars shall appertain to the Hospital, and when made public the name of the scholar shall accompany the publication, but no publication shall be made unless approved by the General Executive Committee.

ARTICLE 5. When the income is insufficient, appointments for the year may be omitted.

ARTICLE 6. Any income not used shall be cumulative and not added to the principal.

ARTICLE 7. Scholars shall be eligible for renomination and reappointment.

Further information may be had by applying to the Director of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

RULES FOR ADMISSION, ETC.

THE Massachusetts General Hospital is a private institution supported solely by voluntary contributions and the receipts from those patients who pay board.

Only those unable to pay doctors' fees will be admitted.

Emergencies and recent accidents admitted at all hours.

Applications for admission of patients should be made at the Moseley Memorial Building, Fruit Street, at North Grove Street, Boston, on week days between the hours of 9 A.M. and 3 P.M.

Applications from a distance should be made in writing, accompanied by a full description of the case by the attending physician, with his reason for requesting admission; and when a free bed is needed, by a statement of the pecuniary condition of the patient. Always wait for a reply before sending the patient.

Arrangements can be made by telephone for emergency cases or recent accidents, but for these only.

Contagious cases are not admitted to the Hospital, and only such chronic cases as can be partially relieved by temporary treatment.

The regular rate of board to paying patients in all rooms is $40 per week. In the general wards the rate of board to paying patients is $21 per week. There is a surgical dressing fee of $10 to surgical paying patients, and a laboratory fee of $5 to medical paying patients. Payment should be made weekly in advance. The surgical dressing fee and the laboratory fee should be paid on admission. The lowest rate of board for patients living outside the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is $21 per week in the open wards.

Patients may be discharged between 9 A.M. and 4.30 P.M. on week days; on Sundays from 12 noon to 4 P.M.

The Out-Patient Department is for the poor only and is open from 8.30 to 10 in the morning, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The ambulance will be sent for suitable cases within a radius of twenty miles, if arrangements are made with the Admitting Physician.

PHILLIPS HOUSE. All inquiries concerning the admission of private patients should be made to the Director, Massachusetts General Hospital.

There is a separate entrance for this department at 265 Charles Street. Telephone service is also separate. All inquiries for private patients should be made through "Haymarket 4490," and not through the regular Hospital exchange.

Ambulance service is provided.

The private ward is for the treatment of general medical and surgical diseases and obstetrical cases. Contagious diseases, cases of alcoholism and drug habit are not admitted.

Patients in the Phillips House may be attended only by members of the Staff and alumni of the Hospital.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND NINTH REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE McLEAN HOSPITAL

To the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital:

The following report of the McLean Hospital for the year 1926 is respectfully submitted:

One hundred and thirty-three patients were admitted, 136 were discharged and 224 (including 4 on a visit) remained in the hospital at the end of the calendar year. The total number under treatment was 360, an increase of 8.4 per cent over last year. Of the patients discharged 44, or 32.3 per cent, were recorded as recovered.

Of the 133 admissions, 6 were primarily voluntary and 2 others became so by signing applications to remain under care and treament at the expiration of the legal period of temporary care and observation. Of these 8 voluntary patients, 3 were discharged while on the voluntary basis, 1 was committed because she was no longer a proper case to remain as a voluntary patient, and 1 died. There remained on this basis at the end of the year 11 patients, 5 men and 6 women.

During the year 77 patients were admitted for temporary care (section 79, chapter 123, General Laws). Of these, 2 made voluntary applications to remain at the Hospital, 4 were discharged within the ten days' period of observation, 1 was committed as a thirty-five day observation case and was discharged at the end of that period, 2 were committed as inebriates, and 68 were regularly committed to the Hospital.

Five patients were admitted as thirty-five day observation commitments (section 24, chapter 123, General Laws). Three of these were discharged within the period of observation and the other 2 were regularly committed to the Hospital.

One emergency patient was received and formally committed to the Hospital.

Two patients were admitted as inebriate commitments (section 33, chapter 504, Acts of 1909).

Of the 133 patients admitted, 16 came from other hospitals in Massachusetts, 18 from the Boston Psychopathic Hospital and 6 from hospitals outside of this Commonwealth. The statistical tables appearing later in this report are for the year ending September 30, and are in the form suggested by the American Psychiatric Association and adopted by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Diseases. Forms 1 and 2 are not required of private hospitals and therefore are omitted.

During the year 8825 days' care and treatment were given patients free of charge and in addition 14,692 days' care and treatment were given for less than cost. The cost is figured merely on the running expenses of the hospital.

Physiotherapy has continued to play an important part in the care of the patients and an ever increasing effort has been made to apply this to the individual needs and capacity of each patient.

In the department of physiotherapy use has been made of physical culture exercises, hydrotherapy, sun baths and exercises with the Zander machines, 9525 medical baths and 9274 Zander treatments were given in addition to the class work in physical culture.

There has been the usual activity in the occupational departments, both on the men's and women's sides. In the former 63 different patients were employed with an average daily attendance of 17. The many articles made shows how much interest was displayed in the various occupations. The list includes: 250 baskets, 3 radio tables, 1 radio cabinet, 1 sundial, 30 bowling pins and 780 other miscellaneous articles, also 98 books rebound, 103 chairs repaired and 131,400 miscellaneous blanks and papers printed. In the women's department, 1821 articles were made, consisting of pottery, baskets, bags, rugs, knitted, woven and painted articles besides many miscellaneous pieces of work. The daily average attendance was 38 and 106 different patients were employed.

Indoor recreations have included dances, moving picture exhibitions and parties on various occasions, while at all times the patients have been encouraged and helped by the nurses to get diversion from other indoor and parlor games. Out-of-door recreations, such as baseball, golf, tennis, croquet, gardening, walks and rides have been enjoyed by many patients in season.

The Sunday services, conducted by the Chaplain, Rev. George J. Prescott, have been held as usual during the year.

The recorded circulation of 8757 volumes is a striking proof of the large part the library plays in hospital life. The general library now contains 10,387 volumes, 171 having been added during the year.

One hundred and fifty-two new books were added to the medical library, making a total of 6972 volumes.

The Hospital subscribed for 63 weekly and monthly periodicals for the general library and 70 medical periodicals, also 8 special periodicals for the School of Nursing.

The special library pertaining to the profession of nursing had added to it 32 new books, making a total of 222 volumes.

The two cottages for single patients, which are being built on the hill northeast of the Arlington House, will be a valuable addition to the Hospital's facilities for caring for patients who desire the comforts and privacy of a home together with the advantages of the Hospital's supervision and numerous resources for treatment. They have been named the Ledge Cottage and the North Cottage and will be ready for occupancy in January, 1927.

The fact that there have been no changes in the Hospital Staff, except in minor positions, has resulted in the routine work being carried on very satisfactorily and a considerable amount of research work has been done in the special departments of psychology and chemistry. I regret very much that the position of Assistant in Physiology has been vacant throughout the year, as no suitable person could be found to fill it. The co-operation of a Physiologist with the Psychologist and Chemist is desirable.

In addition to the routine work with patients much of the work of the Psychologist has this year been theoretical. Attempts have been made to systematize, from a psychological point of view, our knowledge of functional psychoses, and to determine general psychological principles underlying such disorders. The study has naturally fallen into two parts, determination of constitutional psychological factors in functional psychoses and determination of psychogenetic factors in the same. The study of the former problem has so far as Manic-depressive Insanity is concerned, led to results, which have been laid down in an article published in "The Journal of Nervous and Mental Disease." Another article, a continuation of this, is under preparation and deals with constitutional psychological factors in Dementia Præcox. The study of the psychogenetic factors in functional psychoses has centered round the problem of the rôle of repression and dissociation in Dementia Præcox, particular attention having been given to the investigation of hysterical features in the schizophrenic insane. In this connection a partly new working hypothesis relative to the nature of repression and dissociation has been devised and applied, after having been discussed by the Staff of the Hospital. The material for these studies, which still continue, is obtained partly from clinical observation of patients on the wards and partly from the reviewing of old case histories. In selected cases the method of "free association" in a state of abstraction has been used. Of the experimental work started before 1926, a part has been continued. This is true of the investigation of "creative imagination" in normal people and insane. When, about three years ago, the experiments on this topic were published, Dr. Morton Prince discussed them in a special article, in which he suggested certain lines of further approach to the problem. Through his courtesy the Hospital Psychologist has been given an opportunity to follow his suggestions in a series of experiments carried out in the new Department of Research in Abnormal Psychology at Harvard University. Later experiments will be continued during the coming year, but some results already obtained have been read before and discussed by the Boston Society of Psychiatry and Neurology at the December meeting.

In the chemical laboratory, the sugar metabolism has continued to receive the principal attention. Systematic study for several years of the sugar content of the blood has shown how rarely the emotions disturb the blood sugar. The urine of patients at the time of admission frequently shows certain abnormalities which were formerly attributed to an emotional increase in blood sugar. Our observations by means of the newer analytical procedures indicate that these urinary results are most frequently caused by the failure to drink sufficient water. The peculiarities of sugar metabolism under sudden test stresses, whose effect on the phosphate metabolism was reported last year, have been investigated by similar studies of the nitrogen metabolism, but without significant results. In this work, the nitrogen bases have escaped detailed study because reliable analytical methods have not yet been devised.

These bases are of particular interest because of their relation to intestinal stasis. The success of our efforts to develop satisfactory methods in this field will thus provide knowledge on several separate problems.

During the year papers were read before the Boston Society of Psychiatry and Neurology, by Dr. Helge Lundholm, entitled: "Constitutional Psychological Factors in 'Functional' Psychoses" (published in "The Journal of Nervous and Mental Disease," August, 1926) and "Experimental Study of Hallucinations" (to be published); one by Dr. Ray L. Whitney entitled: "Report of an Instance of Drug Delirium" (to be published).

Changes in the Hospital Staff during the year were as follows: Mr. Rockwood H. Thayer and Mr. George D. Becher, Student Assistants, finished their term of service on May 29 and June 8, respectively. Their places were filled during the summer months by Mr. John B. Laidlaw and Mr. Wallace E. Dinwoody. Dr. Richard H. Sweet, who entered the service as Junior Assistant Physician on June 2, left the Hospital on November 20. Mr. Frank C. d'Elseaux and Mr. Frank B. Easley, Student Assistants, entered the service on September 22 and 28, respectively, and Mr. Easley left on November 8. On December 11, Dr. Frank J. Fleming and Dr. Thomas H. Pargen were appointed Junior Assistant Physicians and are expected to begin their work on January 1, 1927. Miss Vera Devitt entered the service as Assistant Superintendent of Nurses on April 15. Miss Jessie Reed Cockrill, assistant in the chemical laboratory, left the service on September 26, and this vacancy has not as yet been filled.

On October 4, one of the employees of the institution was discovered to have typhoid fever. Within two days twelve employees, four nurses and two patients became ill with this disease. All the Hospital population, excepting some feeble and elderly people, were immediately inoculated against typhoid. All possible sources of infection were investigated and proper precautions taken. No subsequent cases occurred. The two patients were cared for at the Hospital and the employees and nurses were sent to the General Hospital. I regret to say that two nurses died.

On June 11, it was voted by the Trustees to give the name of Higginson House to the Nurses' Home. The name "Higginson House" has been carved over the front door and a tablet bearing the inscription, "In Memory of Francis Lee Higginson, Trustee 1900-1914, A Generous Benefactor of the Hospital" has been placed in the front entrance hall.

The Hospital entertained the Nurses' Alumni Association on June 24, at the time of its annual meeting, and 285 members were present.

The School of Nursing, under the direction of the Superintendent of Nurses, Miss R. Helen Cleland, has been and is in very satisfactory condition. Her report, which is appended, deals with the subject more in detail.

Besides the maintenance expenses involved in ordinary repairs, painting, refurnishing, etc., $61,129.76 was expended for new construction and for what may be called somewhat unusual expenditures. This sum includes $47,724.90 for new buildings, $2,883 for resetting of the boilers in the power house, $2,233.16 for additional wells and connections, $2,280 for renewal of a tank for the ice making machine, $1,100 for a new pan scullery in connection with the main kitchen, $3,200 for renewal of hot and cold water brass pipes and valves, $519 for renewal of electric cable and $1,189.70 for a pasteurizing outfit. In connection with the above, labor furnished by the Hospital employees cost $6,762.90.

Expenditures were further enlarged by $12,615.79 for an increase in salaries and wages, $5,499.72 increase in the cost of groceries and provisions ($3,200 of which was due to the increased price of potatoes, which could not have been anticipated) and $17,337.62 for coal, due partly to the fact that less coal was carried over from last year and that for some months of the year screenings were practically unobtainable.

The extra expense caused by the typhoid fever epidemic amounted to $3,186.07.

During the coming year it is probable that a new economizer will be necessary in the power house, the cost of which is estimated to be $10,000. More of the brass water piping and fixtures must be renewed at an approximate cost of $2,500.

The renewal of the entire registering system for the night-watchmen and night nurses is necessary and will cost about $2,500. Extensive repairs to the roofs of the Administration and Service Buildings and reshingling of the roof of the Women's Gymnasium will be necessary sooner or later. It is doubtful whether or not continued patching will be adequate to carry them through another year.

A matter for serious consideration is the provision of proper living quarters for some of the male employees who are obliged to live at the Hospital. One possible solution of this problem is in the addition of a second story to the laundry building. This would cost, completed and furnished, from $15,000 to $20,000.

The increasing automobile traffic on the old water-bound macadam roads is making it exceedingly difficult to keep them in proper condition. A survey and report made by engineers indicate that a practical and satisfactory retopping would cost about $29,000. The interest on this expenditure would about equal the present cost of upkeep, but the condition of the roads would be much improved.

The market values of commodities with which the farm has supplied the Hospital were: milk, $17,371.02; beef and pork products, $15,517.94; vegetables, $1,903.81; fruit, $1,998.08. For these and for a considerable amount of general work credited to it in the way of hauling coal, road building, etc., it has a credit balance of $6,132.21. To this should be added a credit of about $7,000 for water and $1,829.07 for work in the greenhouse and flower gardens, making a total farm credit of $14,961.28.

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the following:

The Trustees of the Sarah C. M. Lovering Fund for $1,568.43, expended as follows:

Moving picture exhibitions	$342.43
Athletic supplies	100.00
Fireworks, Fourth of July	107.14
Plants and flowers	200.00
2 Looms	100.00
Books	382.22
Equipping Zander room for men patients.	286.64
Christmas decorations	50.00

Mr. Andrew J. Elliott for $100 for the McLean Hospital Fund for Scientific Research.

Miss Mary L. Swift for $200 for books for the general library.

The New England Trust Company, Executors of the Estate of Elizabeth L. Grant, for a mahogany chest and a mantel clock.

Dr. Charles G. Dewey, Administrator of the Estate of Dr. Winfred B. Bancroft, for 8 pictures for art room and wards.

Dr. E. Stanley Abbot for a book for the Nurses' Home library.

Dr. James B. McNair for a book for the medical library.

Dr. John William Draper for a book for the medical library.

Miss Kate Niles Morse for 13 books for the general library.

Mrs. Ina Hooper for a book for the general library.

Mrs. Herbert E. Yerxa for magazines for the wards.

Miss Elizabeth L. Bond for books and music for the general library and wards and candy for Christmas trees.

Miss Eleanor Bigelow for music for the wards and gifts for Christmas trees.

Mrs. Daniel O. S. Lowell for vases for Women's Gymnasium.

In conclusion I wish to thank the members of the McLean Committee for their helpful advice, and to express my appreciation for the support given me by the Board of Trustees.

FREDERIC H. PACKARD,
Medical Superintendent.

FORTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE McLEAN HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING

To the Medical Superintendent of the McLean Hospital:

The following report of the McLean Hospital School of Nursing is respectfully submitted:

The School of Nursing, with the completion of the forty-five years of its existence, has a roll of graduates numbering 1,060 names, 677 women and 383 men. Of the 930 graduates who now are living, 308 women and 120 men still are engaged in the profession of nursing.

Few changes were made in the nursing department during the year. Miss Vera Devitt, class of 1919, was appointed Assistant Superintendent of Nurses and took up her work on April 15. On September 1, Miss Mary E. Skerry, class of 1919, was appointed Night Supervisor of the Women's Department.

It is with much regret that I report the deaths of three of our student nurses. Mr. William Bright, class of 1927, died on February 8, after a short illness, at the Massachusetts General Hospital. The cause of death was ulcerative colitis. Miss Diana Shaw died on October 10, and Miss A. Hortense Smith on October 20, both at the Massachusetts General Hospital of typhoid fever.

During the year 35 students were accepted for the class of 1929, 24 women and 11 men. Twenty-five student nurses from other schools have taken our affiliated course and 3 nurses have taken a post-graduate course here. These students came from the schools of the following hospitals: Massachusetts General, Peter Bent Brigham, Springfield, Cooley Dickinson and the Lynn General.

At the end of the year there were 87 graduate nurses, 69 women and 18 men, in the service of the Hospital. Five of the women graduate nurses were on duty in the men's department. There also were 97 student nurses in the School, 73 women and 24 men. Of these student nurses, 26 women and 10 men were away taking their affiliated courses in general hospital schools.

Our affiliations during the year have been with the schools of the Massachusetts General Hospital, Springfield Hospital, Wesson Maternity Hospital, New England Hospital for Women and Children, Lynn General Hospital and the Belleveue Hospital in New York City.

An affiliation has been arranged with the Saint Luke's Hospital School in New Bedford, to begin with the new year.

From many letters received it would appear that there is an increasing interest in and appreciation of the general nurses' need of a knowledge of mental nursing. More and more general schools are seeking information as to what arrangements can be made with our School for affiliations for their students.

The graduating exercises of the Class of 1926 were held on the evening of June 2, in the Samuel Eliot Memorial Chapel. Thirty-five students, 29 women and 6 men, were graduated. The address was given by Dr. George T. Tuttle and the diplomas were presented by Mr. George Wigglesworth, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. The Wetherill Awards were presented by Dr. E. Stanley Abbot to Evangeline T. Condon and Kathleen V. Sanford. The exercises were followed by a reception and dance in the Administration Building. About 500 guests were present.

At the beginning of the year, Dr. E. Stanley Abbot of Boston, formerly connected with the Hospital for nineteen years and now lecturer on Mental Hygiene in the School, established the "Wetherill Awards in memory of a mother and her daughter," Mrs. Anna Wetherill and Mrs. Marion Wetherill Abbot. These awards "are to be given each year to those two (or more) of the graduating nurses, whether men or women, who have seemed, in the judgment of the Officers of the School, to have been most actuated by that essentially nursing quality, the spirit of thoughtfulness for others."

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the Class of 1926 for a mahogany tea wagon, which it presented to the School to be used in the Nurses' Home.

On January 21, the Nurses' Alumni Association held its midwinter meeting at the Hospital, and on June 24 the Hospital entertained the Association at the time of its annual meeting. About 250 members were present on this occasion.

The social activities during the year have been many and varied. On January 25, the Class of 1928 gave a reception for the students who were leaving our School for their affiliated terms in other schools. The Affiliating students and members of the Class of 1929 were guests of the Trapelo Club at a Valentine party on February 12. The Hospital gave a dance for the nurses on March 18, which was much enjoyed. On May 7, the Juniors had a party at the Higginson House, and on May 10, the Seniors entertained the Junior Class. The Senior Class dance was held on May 9, at the Higginson House. On Halloween the Senior Class gave a party in honor of the Affiliating and Preliminary students. The Affiliating students gave a minstrel show on November 6, which the patients and nurses enjoyed very much.

On Christmas Eve a group of seventy-five nurses visited the different buildings and sang carols for the patients, following which all the nurses gathered at the Higginson House for their Christmas celebration. A tree, well loaded with gifts, was in charge of Santa Claus, who made the party a merry one for all. Miss Lucia E. Woodward, former Superintendent of Nurses, was the guest of honor on this occasion.

I wish to thank the officers of the McLean Hospital, the officers of the affiliating schools, my co-workers and all others who have helped our School and for the kind care of and interest in our nurses.

R. Helen Cleland, R. N.,
Superintendent of Nurses,
Principal School of Nursing.

McLEAN HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING
WAVERLEY, MASS., 1882-1926

The Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital Corporation established a school for the instruction of nurses at the McLean Hospital in 1882. It was the first school established in this country for the training of nurses in mental nursing. Special training offered in a psychiatric hospital is becoming more and more insisted upon as a part of the equipment of every well-trained nurse.

The School gives to men and women a three years' course of training in general nursing, with special reference to the care of patients suffering from nervous and mental diseases. At the end of the junior year the women student nurses spend fourteen months of the three years' course in affiliating schools, where they receive practical experience in the nursing of medical and surgical cases, experience in the operating room, obstetrics and pediatrics, in addition to further academic instruction in these subjects. The men student nurses spend twelve months of the three years' course in affiliating schools, where they receive practical experience in the nursing of medical, surgical and genito-urinary diseases and operating room experience, in addition to further academic instruction in these subjects. On the successful completion of the course, a diploma is granted.

The School is accredited by the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses and the New York State Department of Education. Graduates also are eligible for the service in the United States Army and Navy and with the Red Cross.

Nursing the mentally sick is of such a character that it requires the student nurse to have a good preliminary education. It also demands a high grade of self-discipline and devotion to service. No other field offers a broader scope for real nursing skill and accomplishment in the alleviation of human suffering, and none affords better opportunities for material success and advancement.

Applicants for admission to the School may be accepted between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five. They must be of good moral character and good health, and preferably shall have had four years of high school education. Two years of high school education is necessary.

Student nurses, in addition to maintenance and laundry, are granted an allowance of $30 a month during the period of training at this Hospital. During the year spent in affiliating schools the allowance will be $15 a month and maintenance. Upon graduation a salary of $75 a month and maintenance is paid to those who remain in the service. The allowance should be viewed as a scholarship, which makes it possible for the young man or woman of limited means to prepare for a nursing career and should not be considered as compensation for service.

There is for student nurses a preliminary or probation period of four months, during which time they are not on full-time duty, but receive the regular money allowance. This period is included as a part of the three years' course of training. Upon the completion of the preliminary period student nurses are placed on regular eight-hour ward duty. Throughout the year student nurses are allowed two half days off duty each week, and are given two weeks' vacation each year. There also is an allowance of two weeks in case of sickness. Students are on night duty not longer than two consecutive months.

Women student nurses, on arrival, must be prepared to purchase three "Dix Make" plain blue chambray dresses at a cost of $4.50 each. Aprons, collars, cuffs, etc., are provided by the Hospital at cost. At the completion of the probationary period the student is allowed to wear the student nurses' uniform, which is provided by the Hospital at cost. In addition to an adequate supply of the usual undergarments, which should be marked with the name in full, the student should come provided with the following: 2 pairs of black shoes with low rubber heels, 1 small laundry bag, a napkin ring, a watch with a second hand and a fountain pen. These same requirements apply to the men students, except that they are not required to wear a special uniform, but are expected to wear a plain dark business suit. Students must also provide their own textbooks, which are furnished by the Hospital at cost.

Regular courses of instruction begin on September 15 and February 1, but applications are considered at any time. Students are admitted on January 1 and September 1. It is a distinct advantage for students to be in the Hospital for a short period before the formal opening of classes.

Application blanks for admission to the School are furnished upon request to the Superintendent of Nurses, McLean Hospital, Waverley, Massachusetts.

AFFILIATED COURSE

(For both men and women students)

The School offers a four months' course to third-year students of accredited training schools for nurses. The special training offered in a psychiatric hospital is becoming more and more insisted upon as a part of the equipment of every nurse. Whether in private work, or in the industrial, public health, or administrative fields, the nurse may at any time have to meet situations calling for particular skill in the care of nervous and mental disturbances. The object of this course is to qualify the general hospital nurse to meet such requirements. Students are given ward experience in the management of a wide range of mental cases, and courses of instruction leading to intelligent understanding of their care. The course in mental and nervous diseases consist of lectures, demonstrations and practical work in the observation and measurement of mental functions. The chief problems and methods of mental hygiene are discussed. Anatomy, physiology and pathology of the nervous system are covered in lectures and demonstrations. Demonstrations and practice are given in the use of occupational therapy, hydrotherapy and massage.

Affiliated students must conform to the rules of the School and will wear the uniform of their own school.

At the end of the course a class record is furnished the superintendent of the affiliating school. A certificate is granted upon the satisfactory completion of the four months' course.

Courses begin in October and February.

Superintendents of training schools desiring to arrange for their students to take this course should communicate with the Superintendent of Nurses, McLean Hospital, Waverley, Massachusetts.

Italics followed by figures indicate service and date of graduation from Hospital as a house officer. Initial letters followed by figures, the whole enclosed in parentheses, indicate that such alumnus is now on active service on the Hospital Staff; e.g. (E.M. 1910). Otherwise, the individual is not an M.G.H. alumnus.

Addresses are in Boston unless stated to be elsewhere; and are in Massachusetts when no State is indicated. It will be noticed that the number precedes the name of a street, but follows the name of a building.

Names of places are abbreviated as follows: Aub.=Auburndale; Brkln.=Brookline; Cmb.=Cambridge; Chsn.=Charlestown; Dor.=Dorchester; Jam. Pl.=Jamaica Plain; Medfd.=Medford; N. Y. preceded by street address=New York City; Rox.=Roxbury; Som.=Somerville; Wlthm.=Waltham.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

The legal title of the Corporation is

"The Massachusetts General Hospital"

All gifts and bequests, if without restriction, will be used as the Trustees deem most for the interest of the Corporation and its Beneficiaries.

The Hospital is greatly in need of additional funds. It will gratefully receive subscriptions for any amount.

Owing to the very general increase in the cost of running the Hospital, the subscribers to the Free Bed Fund are most urgently requested to increase their subscriptions to the Fund whenever possible.

A subscriber to the Free Bed Fund has the right to nominate a patient to a free bed, according to the following subscriptions:

$100.00 — for the current year to a free bed in a ward in the General Hospital.

$500.00 — for the current year to a free bed in a private room in the General Hospital.

$1,000.00 — for a period of ten years to a free bed in a ward in the General Hospital.

$5,000.00 — during the life of the subscriber and during the life of any other person named by him or her, to a free bed in a ward in the General Hospital.

$10,000.00 — during the life of the subscriber and during the life of any other person named by him or her, to a free bed in a private room in the General Hospital.

Or any sum may be donated as a permanent fund to the Hospital for the care of deserving patients thus:

I give to The Massachusetts General Hospital the sum of .....dollars to be held by the Trustees as a permanent fund in the name of....., the income to be used for the support of free beds.

All free beds shall be subject to the approval of the Trustees and the Rules of the Hospital which recite that in case the money donated or the income therefrom is not used by the donor for patients nominated by him, then the Hospital may use this money for other free patients or for general hospital purposes.

ONE HUNDRED AND FOURTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES

The Trustees present their report for the year ending December 31, 1927.

The year has been marked by increased service.

Owing to the remodelling of the Bulfinch Building fifty beds were added to the General Hospital. These have been of the greatest value. Owing to this addition, the number of patients treated in the general wards has increased from 6,972 in 1926, to 7,442 in 1927, and the number of days treatment from 126,329 to 135,358. Accordingly, the per capita cost per patient per day in those wards, not including special nurses, has decreased from $5.87— in 1926, to $5.73+ in 1927.

Unfortunately, the general prosperity of the country has not been reflected among the patients. The per capita receipts per day from patients in the General Hospital, again not including the pay of special nurses, has diminished from $2.31 in 1926, to $2.17 in 1927, and, after crediting the income available from all sources,—there has been a deficit of approximately $90,000—. Fifty-four per cent of the days' treatment in the general wards was wholly free.

Besides the additional services afforded in the wards, it is gratifying to note that, as compared with 1926, there was an increase in the use of the Out-Patient Department; namely, in new patients from 30,802 to 31,871, and in total number of visits from 190,973 to 203,809.

In an endeavor to meet the deficit caused by the increased number of beds, the Trustees are now engaged in an effort, which they hope will prove successful, of so interesting a large group of new friends of the Hospital, as to increase greatly the number of those who annually subscribe $100. To those who have been annual subscribers in the past, a great part of the good work of the institution has been due. If an annual sustaining fund of $200,000 can in time be secured, it will insure, besides the best care of the patients, that scientific research in the clinics and laboratories upon which the future service of the Hospital so largely depends.

The Trustees note with sincere regret the following losses by death:

Dr. John Collins Warren died November 3, 1927. He was a devoted friend of the Hospital. His first connection with it was in 1865, as a surgical house pupil. From 1870-1872, he served as Physician, and from 1873-1876 as Surgeon to Out-Patients. Becoming Visiting Surgeon in 1876, he gave almost thirty years to active, intelligent and self-sacrificing work in the wards. In 1905, he was appointed to the Board of Consultation and remained thereon until he died. Largely responsible for the present Harvard Medical School and for the Huntington Memorial Hospital for the Study of Cancer, Dr. Warren was, nevertheless, primarily a surgeon engaged in the care of the sick. As such his own interest in the institution was of the keenest; but, in addition, he was the third in a family without which the Hospital could hardly have existed. His father, Dr. J. Mason Warren, the founder of the Warren Prize, was Visiting Surgeon from 1846-1867. His grandfather, Dr. John C. Warren, was one of the founders of the Hospital, its first visiting surgeon and the one who performed the operation when the boon of ether was first given to the world in the old amphitheater in the Bulfinch Building.

Dr. George Thomas Tuttle died April 6, 1927. At their next meeting following his death, the Trustees adopted the following vote:

"The Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital wish to place upon record their appreciation of the services rendered the institution by Dr. George T. Tuttle. Appointed in 1879, First Assistant Physician at the McLean Hospital, Dr. Tuttle served in that capacity until 1904, when he was promoted to be Medical Superintendent, which position he occupied until 1919, when because of ill health he felt obliged to resign. This Board immediately elected him a Trustee, but again ill health made him feel that he should not continue to assume such responsibilities and to the regret of everyone he resigned in 1921.

Dr. Tuttle was wise, courageous and devoted to the Hospital and it is largely due to his faithful and disinterested service during a period of over forty years that the McLean Hospital has the commanding position which it holds today."

Dr. James Homer Wright died January 3, 1928. He had been Pathologist and Director of the Clinical Laboratory from 1896-1926, a period of thirty years, and Consulting Pathologist, 1926-1928. His service to the Hospital was distinguished and his scientific contributions were many and of the utmost benefit to the community.

Among the changes in the active professional staff occurred the following: Dr. Charles Allen Porter, Surgeon in Chief and Dr. George W. W. Brewster, Visiting Surgeon, are now members of the Board of Consultation. Dr. Charles J. White, to the great regret of the Trustees, resigned as Chief of the Dermatological Department. He was appointed to the Board of Consultation and Dr. E. Lawrence Oliver appointed Chief of the Department in his place.

Dr. George A. MacIver resigned as First Assistant Director to become Superintendent of the Worcester City Hospital. He will be greatly missed.

Out-Patient Department Building: During the year there was completed the new building which makes a physical connection between our old Out-Patient Department and the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. At the same time, such changes were made in the building of the Massachusetts General Hospital that there is now one greatly enlarged out-patient department for both institutions to which access is gained through one common entrance on Fruit Street. This has been a long-desired improvement. It affords both the Hospital and the Infirmary substantially greater and much needed space for the care of patients and for teaching. It also has the advantage of much economy of labor in the service rendered. The cost of the connecting building and of the remodelling of the older building, about $435,000, has been borne primarily by the Massachusetts General Hospital. The greater part of this expenditure will, however, be a charge on the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Ether Day, October 16, 1927, was observed by a reception and tea in this new Out-Patient Building and by an invitation to the friends of the Hospital to inspect the new quarters.

Laryngological Department: As a result of the completion of the Out-Patient Connecting Building, the Laryngological Department of the Massachusetts General Hospital has been transferred to the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. Accordingly, the Ophthalmological and Oto-Laryngological needs of the Hospital are now served by the Infirmary and its Staff, in those respects, becomes a part of the Hospital Staff.

Hospital for People of Moderate Means: After the preparation of working plans for a hospital of this character, (with an ultimate capacity of three hundred beds) and for the inclusion therein of an indispensable new X-ray plant, bids were received for the construction. To the very great regret of the Trustees, the lowest of these bids was far above the sum of one million dollars so generously bequeathed to the Hospital for this purpose by Mrs. Mary Rich Richardson, even with the addition thereto of such other funds as were available. Notwithstanding its importance to the community, the Trustees have not yet seen their way clear to commence the construction of this intermediate hospital. They realize to the full their responsibility for providing therefor and hope that before many months a commencement may be made.

The renovation of the heating plant has been accomplished at a cost of $65,343.21.

Training School for Nurses: The school has had a most satisfactory year. The appointment of Miss Bertha Nelson as Physical-Social Director has been of the greatest benefit to the students and to the morale of the School.

The North End Diet Kitchen: Since 1923, the work of the North End Diet Kitchen has been carried on in our Out-Patient Department, where the Kitchen, paying its own salaries and for the food dispensed, has done a very valuable service in teaching patients, especially those suffering from diabetes, obesity and nephritic disease, what and how to eat and how to prepare food.

The new ward building for General Hospital patients, the contagious department, the country branch and additional buildings for nurses and other personnel are projects which the Trustees propose to accomplish just as soon as the intermediate hospital is completed and means are at hand. Unless this community fails its oldest hospital, they will not be long delayed.

The trustees are greatly indebted to the ladies who have so unselfishly devoted themselves to service on the following committees:

The Ladies Visiting Committee
The Surgical Dressing Committee
The Advisory Committee of the Training School for Nurses

For the work done by the Staff of the Hospital, much of it performed at considerable self-sacrifice, the Trustees are most grateful. That Staff has a long and honorable record.

McLEAN HOSPITAL

The great loss sustained by the Hospital in the death of Dr. George T. Tuttle on April 6, 1927, has been already set forth in this report.

The admissions during the year were 115, and the patients discharged, 118. Of those discharged, 43 or 36.4 per cent were recorded as recovered.

During the well deserved leave of absence of Dr. Packard, our Medical Superintendent, Dr. Kenneth J. Tillotson, First Assistant Physician, served most acceptably as Acting Medical Superintendent.

John C. Whitehorn, M. D., Assistant in Pathological Chemistry, and Helge Lundholm, Ph.D., Assistant in Pathological Psychology, have continued during the year the work in research referred to more in detail in the report of the Medical Superintendent. Although the attainment of important, practical results from research with respect to the causes of mental diseases and their treatment may be long and slow in coming, it is only by that research that progress may be made. A mental hospital, worthy of the name, must do its share, more than its share if possible, in purely scientific work. This the McLean Hospital fully recognizes. For the most part, the expense of such work falls on the revenue received for the care of patients. The Hospital really needs a fund for scientific investigation, which will be available for use however its general revenue may vary from year to year.

The two new cottages for single patients were finished during 1927, and one occupied for the first time in March and the other in April.

The Medical Superintendent's Report on page 130 of this Annual Report should be read with care. Without so doing, no one can judge properly of the work undertaken. The advantages offered at this Institution are such as to offer every chance possible of curing mental malady, if a cure is possible. The opportunities for physiotherapy, occupational work of many kinds and out-door recreation are very great. There is a very good library. Adequate diversion of the mind has been of important service to many patients.

In the course of the year, over seven thousand dollars were expended for a new high pressure water main, with five new hydrants. Lesser sums were spent for re-installing the night registering system and for making fireproof that part of the stable used as a garage. With a large plant, like that of the McLean Hospital, it is fortunate when a year goes by without causing the expenditure of considerable sums for maintenance. In a few months, it will be necessary, at a cost of almost $20,000, to install a new economizer in the power house and re-shingle the two gymnasium buildings and some of the shops.

ROBERT HOMANS,
Committee.

EXAMINATION OF ACCOUNTS

To the Committee on Accounts,
Massachusetts General Hospital,
Boston, Massachusetts.

Sirs:

In accordance with your instructions, we have made an examination of the books and accounts of the Massachusetts General Hospital, comprising the records at the General Hospital, the McLean Hospital, and the Treasurer's office, for the year ending December 31, 1927, and we report upon the accompanying financial statements of the Treasurer, as follows:

We have verified the balances of cash on hand at December 31, 1927, by actual count and the cash in bank at that date by certificates obtained from the various depositaries, duly reconciled.

We have verified the possession as at December 31, 1927, of the bonds (book value $2,749,362.32), stocks (book value $1,295,735.76), mortgage notes receivable (face value $515,000.00), and annuities receivable, consisting of three policies aggregating $160,000.00 as shown by the books of the Treasurer, by certificates obtained from the New England Trust Company, or by actual inspection.

We have ascertained that all income receivable from securities has been duly recorded in the Treasurer's books, and have seen that all cash shown to have been received during the year has been accounted for.

We have examined vouchers or other satisfactory evidence of payment for all disbursements (including those in respect to the application of the income from the various funds).

WE HEREBY CERTIFY that the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities and statements of financial operation in respect to principal and income are in accordance with the Treasurer's books, and that they correctly set forth the financial condition of the Hospital at December 31, 1927, and the results of its operations for the year ending at that date, aside from the facts (1) that accrued income on investments and sundry expenditures accrued as at the beginning and end of the year have not been taken into account in the Treasurer's books, (2) that the bonds and stocks owned by the Hospital at December 31, 1927, are shown at the values placed thereon by the Treasurer, which, we understand, represent approximate market values at that date, and (3) that real estate parcels are shown at the assessed values on April 1, 1927, or at the assessed value as of April 1, 1927, plus cost of construction during the year.

REPORT OF THE LADIES' VISITING COMMITTEE

This year has seen the usual regular visiting of patients in the wards by the ladies of the Committee. Three hundred and sixty-one visits were made and we have several very welcome additions in the way of new members. Many interesting cases have come to our attention and have been helped and brightened by our visits. It is an inspiration to see the patience and cheerfulness of those many suffering, anxious, sick people. We can sometimes make suggestions to help them to be more comfortable in certain ways. We feel that individual bed lights, which are in great demand, are essential for some. One member has generously contributed a number but we need many more, as well as bed tables in the cardiac wards.

A new radio has been installed by us in Ward G, where it was much needed. We have had many requests for more radios with the silent ear phones, which are general in the Hospital, for the medical wards, but as these were not equipped with conduits when the East Wing was done over, it will be much more expensive to install. The head sets become very easily broken at present but we hope to work out a solution by having them more carefully handled and hooked up when not in use.

Books have been provided by the Annie Morton Ward Fund, besides foreign books donated by one of our members. Many subscriptions to magazines, games, and many packs of cards were also generously contributed. Flowers were sent in regularly during the summer months.

Christmas trees were arranged by Miss Fisher, several illuminated ones out of doors and a lovely one in the Children's Ward. Each patient in the General Hospital received oranges, raisins, candy and note paper, provided by the contributions of our Committee. In addition to the five hundred dollars donated to the Social Service Department in the wards, three hundred dollars was raised to pay for the half time salary of an occupational therapy assistant to help Miss Whittier's splendid work. An emergency fund was also turned over to the Social Service. One member has continued to pay the salary of a trained worker in this most important office.

The teas for the nurses were provided weekly by us last winter by two members of our committee and a member from the Training School Committee. This meant the donation of very many cakes and sandwiches, the attendance being so large. These teas are to be resumed in January, when we have been reassured there was no other entertainment the nurses would prefer. Lately we have tried to systematize our visits so that each ward has been covered. This is our ambition, but we are still in need of more visitors to accomplish this object continuously. Our function is to try to bring into this great institution a human element from outside, and be as cheering and personal as we can.

EDITH L. COOLIDGE,
Chairman.

REPORT OF THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL

The Advisory Committee submits a brief statement of its activities in their relation to the Training School and the Hospital.

The Committee concerns itself with the welfare of the two hundred and fifty-nine nurses in the Training School, visits them weekly on the wards, observes their work, their demeanor, etc., and provides them every week with a pleasant afternoon tea either at the Thayer or the New Home, with a group of ladies from this Committee and the Ladies' Visiting Committee as hostesses.

The monthly meetings at the Hospital afford a most valuable and important relation with Miss Johnson, the Superintendent of the Training School, and give the Committee an opportunity not only to know the needs and work of this Hospital and Training School, but to acquire a wider acquaintance with other nursing activities.

The great development of nursing from the "bedside nursing" of fifty years ago, makes it essential that such a committee as this be alive to all improvements. The Committee realizes that every year finds the student nurse in need of a broader preparation and a wider experience that she may be ready as a graduate to meet the increasing demands of the public. A large and exacting public has for over half a century expected and generally found our graduates prepared to meet their needs.

The Social Director, Miss Nelson, has been with us for a year and has made herself of great assistance to Miss Johnson as well as to the students.

We wish very much that some friend of the Hospital would add generously to the Training School Fund; an increased endowment would help our Committee and the Hospital in many ways. Every year the expenses increase but funds do not keep pace.

ELLEN T. VAUGHAN,
Secretary of the Ladies' Committee on the Training School.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE GENERAL HOSPITAL

To the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital:

Gentlemen: I submit my Twentieth Annual Report.

The following is the present status of the construction program of the General Hospital.

First, the Connecting Building between the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and the Massachusetts General Hospital has been completed and occupied. The changes in the old Out-Patient Department building are under way and approach completion. This is a slow process because of the necessity of carrying on construction at the same time the Out-Patient Department work goes on. The foundations of this building have been made heavy enough to carry an additional three stories if at any time it seems wise to build them. In other words, the foundations are heavy enough to carry a building of six stories and basement. Appropriation, $435,000.

Second, the changes in the old power house, which will make it possible for us to carry on in this building for some time longer, have been completed. Cost, $65,343.21.

Third, the Hospital for People of Moderate Means. We are grievously disappointed that this building was not started in the spring of 1927. Plans for this building included an X-ray building. Plans and specifications were completed and bids received but the expense involved proved to be considerably greater than the funds on hand and your Board did not authorize beginning construction work at that time. It is hoped that the coming spring will see this building started.

The community greatly needs this Hospital for People of Moderate Means. Our proposal is to limit the fees that may be charged by the Staff, to furnish so high a grade of floor nursing that special nurses will be rarely required, and to place at the disposal of these patients all the existing laboratories and facilities of this great hospital. People of moderate means cannot afford to enter the Phillips House. They will not be received in the charitable wards of the Hospital. This means that they must either be sick in their homes or accept inferior hospital facilities. A patient who is sick in the home must pay heavily for consultation service and then the consultant works at a disadvantage at a distance from the tools of his trade. The members of this largest group in our community are getting the poorest chance of restored health in time of sickness and they are likely to be burdened by great expense which they cannot afford to pay. It is a pity that the great contribution which this hospital proposes to make should be delayed for the lack of a comparatively small sum of money, but so it is.

There has been a considerable increase in maintenance costs at the Hospital during the twelve months, largely because of the fifty additional beds noted in last year's report, which were in use for but a short period in 1926. There has been an increase in days treatment of House patients of 8,792. There has been an increase in Out-Patient visits of 12,836. The Hospital has been ninety (90%) per cent full. The per capita cost in the General Hospital, exclusive of special nurses, is $5.73, a decrease of fourteen cents over 1926. The per capita receipts on the same basis in the General Hospital were $2.17, a decrease of fourteen cents over 1926. Again this year the unemployment in the textile industry especially has made it very difficult for us to collect money from our patients. This is demonstrated by the large increase in the number of free patients days shown on the appended tables.

The death of Dr. John Collins Warren takes away from the Director a friend of understanding and wide sympathy in hospital problems.

The death of Dr. James Homer Wright, Pathologist of the Hospital for many years, occurred on January 3, 1928, so close to the year which we are reporting as to warrant our speaking of it here. Dr. Wright was a great figure in his special line of medical science.

Dr. George A. MacIver, Assistant Director from 1922 to 1927, left us on December 31st to become Superintendent of the Worcester City Hospital. Dr. MacIver gave the Hospital faithful and capable service for five years. We are sorry to lose him.

Attention is invited to the appended reports which this year include one from the Assistant Director in charge of the Out-Patient Department, which should be especially noted because of the very considerable changes effected there during the year.

I am very appreciative of the support given me by your Board.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN, M.D.,
Director.

Patients in Hospital January 1:	1928	1927	1926
Medical	125	135	129
Surgical	220	232	207
Total	345	367	336

* Per capita cost for 1920 to 1927 does not include cost of special nurses.

† These figures are obtained by taking the amount of money received for board of patients in public wards, and dividing that figure by the full rate of board prevalent at that time. This gives the number of days of paying patients, reckoned as though they were paying full rates. By substracting this figure from the total of ward patients' days, we get the number of free days. Of the 135,358 patients' days at the General Hospital 73,283 are free.

To the Director:

The most important change in the Out-Patient Department is the consolidation of the Out-Patient Department of the Eye and Ear Infirmary with that of the Massachusetts General Hospital. The new building connecting the two institutions is completed and occupied and the necessary changes in the old building are nearly completed. By these changes, there will be provided additional space in each of the Clinics and better facilities for handling patients and their records.

The space which was formerly used for the Out-Patient Clinics in the Eye and Ear Infirmary will be available for a research laboratory, administrative offices and X-ray laboratories, which will be moved from their present locations, thus giving considerable additional space for ward beds on the upper floors.

All out-patients for both institutions will now be admitted through one door, in the new building on Fruit Street, and will be taken to the upper floors on elevators, of which three are provided. All new patients are admitted at one desk and go directly to the elevators. Old patients are admitted at desks just inside the door on the platform, which is at street level. These desks are connected with the Record Room by means of telautograph. A Lamson Carrier System has been installed with stations in all the Clinics. By this means, records will be sent and returned on the carrier, obviating the delays due to using messengers for this purpose, preventing loss and misplacement of records, and facilitating the referring of patients from one Clinic to another.

In the basement are located offices for the Superintendent of the Out-Patient Department, the Admitting Nurses, the Apothecary and the Optician. The Eye and Ear Apothecary has been moved from its location in the Infirmary and is combined with the Out-Patient Apothecary. The Optician has also been moved from the Eye and Ear Infirmary. Both these departments are conveniently located, with the cashier's cage between them, so that patients may easily obtain and pay for their medicine, glasses, etc.

A large coat room for the Staff and employees of the Out-Patient Department, nurses and employees of the Eye and Ear Infirmary and of the Phillips House, is located under the admitting platform. Here is also space for the employees of the Hospital for People of Moderate Means, when such space is needed.

In the basement of the old Out-Patient Building, the Orthopedic Department occupies its former quarters and, in addition, the space across the hall formerly occupied by Special Clinics.

The Record Room has been extended into the space formerly occupied by the stairs and the old Apothecary. Eye and Ear records have been transferred to a room where the Superintendent's Office and the Admitting Desk formerly were. Since all out-patients of both institutions were to be admitted through one door and at one admitting desk, it was necessary to consolidate their clinical records into one file. To do this, the old file numbers were discontinued and a new serial number beginning at 1 was begun on December 1st, 1927. Into this new file records from both the Eye, the Ear, and the Massachusetts General Out-Patient Department files will be placed as fast as the patients present themselves for treatment. The result will be an active file, permitting the storage or destruction of old, useless records. The Massachusetts General Hospital House records, the Phillips House records, and the records of the Hospital for People of Moderate Means will be placed in the space below the lower Amphitheatre formerly occupied by the North End Diet Kitchen. In a portion of this large room has been built a store room for window screens.

The Physiotherapy Department has been extended through the space formerly occupied by the lunch counter and the waiting room.

New toilets have been provided on this floor for medical students, women officers, and clerks. On each of the upper floors and in the basement of the new building are toilets for men and women patients and for the Medical and Surgical Staff. The old elevator has been removed and this space floored over and added to the different floors.

The entire first floor of the new building is occupied by the Eye Clinic, which extends into the old building into a large part of the old Urological quarters, the remainder being added to the Male Medical. Here are provided a large examining room, refraction room, and two students' rooms for teaching, connected by a dark room, thus providing ample facilities for the prompt examination and treatment of a large number of patients and for teaching. Here also are the operating room, the Social Service office, and several rooms occupied for special examinations.

The Male Surgical and Social Service Departments are not moved. The room formerly occupied by Special Clinics has been added to the Male Surgical.

The second floor of the new building is occupied entirely by the Ear Clinic. Here are provided the necessary waiting space, a hearing test room which has been made sound-proof, an operating room and special waiting rooms for small children, offices for the Chief of the Clinic and for the Social Service worker. A room has been provided to replace the old Hooper Room. To this has been removed the cabinets from the old room with their valuable and interesting collection of records and instruments. Adjoining this clinic in the old Out-Patient Building, in the quarters formerly occupied by the Children's Clinic is the Laryngological Clinic, which has been moved from the upper floor of this building. Here are examining booths provided with running water, compressed air and electric lights, students' room, operating and recovery rooms, and an office for the Chief of the Laryngological Service. With this change in the location of this clinic, much closer co-operation with the work of the Ear Clinic has become possible, and accordingly the Laryngological Clinic with its entire staff was transferred to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on January 1, 1928. The personnel of the Staff remains the same. They will be appointed on the Eye and Ear Staff and their names will appear as members of both staffs.

On the opposite side of the corridor is the Female Medical Department, which has been enlarged by adding to it the quarters of the Industrial Clinic, which was discontinued on January 1, 1928.

On the third floor of the new building are the Children's Medical, the North End Diet Kitchen, a large suite of rooms for Special Clinics, and three examining rooms with a laboratory, which are added to the Dermatological Department. The work of the North End Diet Kitchen has been carried on by the Hospital since November, 1923. The necessary funds are provided by the Trustees of the North End Diet Kitchen. A very valuable contribution to the study and treatment of nutritional and dietary disturbances has been thus made possible. This work has required the services of two dietitians and a secretary, who have given instructions in the selection and preparation of the food required to carry out the orders given patients in the Clinics. Wives and mothers as well as the patients themselves have been given this instruction in suitable cases. The Kitchen funds have also been used for the purchase of milk and eggs for such patients as were unable to buy them. Breast milk for malnourished babies furnished by the Wet Nurse Directory has been paid for from this fund. During 1927, 3,869 patients' visits were made in the Clinic. Five hundred dollars was expended for breast milk and $332.24 for milk and other food.

The Neurological Department has been given an addition of three rooms in the new building to be used for teaching and for special research work. The South Medical takes two rooms from the Dermatological Department and has a room at the end of the corridor where the old elevator was.

The Urological Department takes the entire space formerly occupied by the Laryngological Service. Here a room has been provided for cystoscopies and X-ray examinations, with dark room so that all X-rays can be promptly taken and reported on.

The new building was first occupied on August 1, 1927, by the Children's Medical. The Eye and Ear Clinics moved from the Infirmary the first week of October, and on November 8th, patients were first admitted through the door of the new building. The Throat Room was occupied on November 7th, and the Apothecary was moved on November 25th. The Optician was moved a few days before that time. Immediately after vacating the space in the old Out-Patient Building, necessary changes in these departments were undertaken and will probably be finished early in the spring, so that the Out-Patient Department will probably be operating in its completed quarters by the first of April, 1928.

Preliminary students dropped or withdrawn	27
Accepted pupils dropped and resigned	14
Pupils from affiliated schools who have taken course	21

To some it may be of interest to know that the more detailed report of the school given at the formal graduation exercises is printed each year in the March issue of the "Quarterly", the Alumnae magazine. Space in this volume allows for only a brief statement of facts.

There have been but two resignations from the staff: the supervisor of the lower wards, and the assistant to the instructor in theory. A second graduate head nurse has been added to the Pediatric Department, and one placed in charge of the Neurological wards.

One of the severest criticisms of nursing education has been the lack of correlation of theory and practice of nursing. This year the nursing staff has concentrated on this problem with the result that there has been a high degree of correlation during the preliminary course. To illustrate: when the skeletal system is taught by the instructor of anatomy, nursing procedures relative to fractures are taught by the instructor in nursing technique; when the circulatory system is being taught in one class room, such subjects as the application of heat and cold are being taught in the other. A similar correlation is planned for the entire preliminary course.

For years the school admitted three classes annually. Most of the advanced subjects were taught once a year,—a few twice. During the past two years only two classes have been admitted annually. More and more subjects have been repeated, until in the year just closed, all subjects, with one exception, have been repeated. This repeating of subjects combined with the superhuman effort on the part of the assistant who assigns the student nurses to the wards, has brought about a correlation, whereby three-fourths of each student's courses in medical and surgical nursing have been correlated in theory and practice.

The above statements will portray little to the casual reader. The amount of planning, co-operation, and forbearance on the part of the various members of the staff in order to bring about this degree of correlation can be comprehended only by the principal of some other school, whose members must render, unaided by graduate floor duty nurses, the entire bedside nursing care to a large hospital, and, as well, meet six outgoing affiliations.

The outstanding event in the student life has been the coming of Miss Bertha Nelson as Physical-Social Director. Miss Nelson possesses the training, experience and personality which adequately prepares her to fill this difficult position. The students have had the opportunity to enjoy, under direction, some of the forms of recreation which other young women of their age enjoy.

For the first time in the history of the school, the senior class has published a year book. It contains many excellent photographs, and the text is entertaining and dignified. The book is a creditable volume.

The developments in medicine constantly increase the demands on the nursing personnel of the hospital, with the result that the work of student nurses include techniques and duties undreamed of a decade ago. Meanwhile few of the older nursing techniques have become obsolete. The developments in medicine, the shorter working day of the student nurses, and the broader preparation given to student nurses has created a condition where the census of the school has needed to be materially increased. As constant growth in numbers will continue to be necessary, both the Hospital and the School are fortunate in having an adequate supply of well-qualified applicants.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLY JOHNSON, R.N.,
Superintendent of Nurses, and Principal of the Training School.

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

General Statement. The circular of information giving a detailed survey of the course of instruction and of requirements for admission may be obtained upon request. Personal applications may be made between ten and twelve o'clock on Tuesday and Saturday mornings, and at other times by appointment. The length of the course is three years, which includes the preliminary period of four months.

Requirements for Admission. Full high-school education or its actual equivalent is required. There is no arbitrary age limit. Acceptance depends upon education, general health, and personal qualifications.

Expense of Course. The tuition fee is $50, and breakage deposit $10. The students will be provided with board, lodging, and laundry throughout the course; also with required textbooks. Students will be required to provide uniforms during the preliminary period, but after acceptance their uniforms will be furnished by the Hospital.

Scholarship—Loan Fund. Six scholarships of $100 each are awarded annually to students doing satisfactory work and needing financial aid. There is a small loan fund.

Hours of Duty—Vacation. During the preliminary course the daily average of ward duty is slightly over two hours. For accepted students the day duty is fifty-two hours a week, and the night duty fifty-six hours a week. The vacation allowance for the entire course of three years is nine weeks.

Practical Experience. All students obtain experience in general medical and surgical nursing, obstetrical nursing, care of sick children, and in operating room technique. The majority obtain experience in the nursing of orthopedic patients, and the care of patients having skin diseases. There are many desirable electives.

THEORETICAL INSTRUCTION. The theoretical instruction is comprehensive and well given.

THE SPECIAL FIVE-YEAR COURSE. A special five-year course is offered in affiliation with Simmons College, which entitles the pupil to the degree of B.S. from Simmons College, and the diploma of the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses. Further information relative to this course may be obtained from the Director, School of Public Health Nursing, Simmons College, 300 The Fenway, Boston, Mass.

TIME ALLOWANCE TO COLLEGE GRADUATES. Time allowance will be given graduates of approved colleges, provided the course has included the basic sciences relating to nursing. Among these sciences are biology, chemistry, sociology, psychology, and those of the household group. The maximum allowance will be eight months. This allowance may not be determined until the student has been in the school for eight months.

REPORT OF THE GENERAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

It is largely to hospitals that the public must look for improvement in methods for the care of patients, the training of efficient physicians and advances in the study of disease. Medical progress is largely a matter of hospital betterment. Important recent improvements in the Hospital have greatly increased its facilities. The renovated Bulfinch Building, new medical laboratories and special study ward provide more adequate quarters for the care of patients, teaching and research. The connecting building between the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and the Out-Patient Building of the Massachusetts General Hospital affords closer relations between the activities of the two institutions and much needed extension of space for the Children's Medical, the Neurological and the Skin Departments.

Since the last report there has been a large increase in the number of patients seeking relief from the Hospital. The visits to the Out-Patient Department outnumber by 12,836 those of the previous year and there have been 8,792 more days of treatment in the House, with a corresponding addition to the routine duties of the Staff. It is natural that in the reports year after year special stress should be laid on the results of research, but it should be appreciated that the time and attention of the Staff are largely concerned in the attempt to solve the particular problems presented by a great number of individuals. Success is often attained only by the co-operative effort of many workers and the participation of different departments.

The educational advantages of the institution have been much increased during the past few years. Medical students have profited by more active participation in routine work in the wards under suitable supervision and in turn contribute materially to the efficiency with which the work is done. Department Staff meetings at stated and frequent intervals afford opportunity for interchange of views helpful alike to patients and physicians. The general Staff Meetings, held on the second Thursday of each month, are a means of demonstrating instructive problems in diagnosis and treatment and the presentation of results of investigation to students, nurses and physicians who are cordially invited to attend. From time to time an eminent alumnus of the hospital, working elsewhere, is invited to speak at these meetings. Appreciation of the opportunity afforded is attested by the large numbers in attendance.

The material resources of the Hospital are not yet adequate to provide improvements which are a necessary part of the progressive policy of the institution. More modern apparatus and new quarters are urgently needed for the X-ray Department. More beds are needed and a new ward building for General Hospital patients should be constructed. A central Clinico-Pathologic Laboratory where specialized tests required in the General Hospital may be performed and to serve the Phillips House, the Consultation Clinic and Special Clinics in the Out-Patient Department, would be of advantage to the Hospital and should be established. Other needs are noted in the sections dealing with special departments.

Certain changes of policy may be noted. The examination of candidates for the position of House Officers in the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, and the Boston City Hospital will be deferred from January to the first three days after the Easter recess to lessen interference with Medical School activities of students who apply for these positions. The appointment system for patients has been inaugurated in the Consultation Clinic. The provision of donors for transfusion has in the past presented a difficult problem which is now satisfactorily handled for the first time in many years, under the direction of Dr. Francis T. Hunter.

We note with deep regret the death on November 3, 1927, of Dr. John Collins Warren, distinguished surgeon and educator, a pioneer in radical operative removal of cancer and ardent supporter of attempts to control the disease. He served the institution as Physician to Out-Patients (1870–1872), Surgeon to Out-Patients (1873–1876), Visiting Surgeon (1876–1905) and Member of the Board of Consultation (1905–1927). He and his family have played a leading part in the affairs of the Hospital and in American surgery. His great grandfather, John Warren, promoted the establishment of the institution. His grandfather, John C. Warren, with James Jackson, sent out in 1810, the letter which was the real beginning of the Massachusetts General Hospital. He was appointed Surgeon to the Hospital April 6, 1817, three years before the first patient was admitted on September 3, 1821, and successfully performed the operation at the first public use of ether to full surgical anaesthesia on October 16, 1846, thus making a contribution of inestimable value to painless surgery. His father, J. Mason Warren, devised new and valuable operative methods and added to the reputation of the Hospital. Now for the first time in over one hundred years the illustrious name of Warren ceases to appear on the Staff of the institution.

We report with deep regret the loss to the Hospital of the services of Dr. James Homer Wright, Director of the Pathological Laboratory from 1896 to 1926, and Consulting Pathologist from 1926 to his death January 3, 1928, an eminent bacteriologist and master of pathologic technique. In 1903 he discovered bodies similar to those found in Kala-Azar in a tropical ulcer. These bodies have since been recognized as the cause of this disease. His investigations of the etiology of actinomycosis, published in 1905, confirmed the work of Wolff and Israel and established the biology of the cause of the disease. The fundamental importance of his work in this field is not yet fully appreciated. His brilliant researches on the origin of the blood platelets, published in 1906, disclosed their origin from the giant cells of the bone marrow. The Hospital may well be proud of his achievements.

The age limit has ended the hospital service in the full vigor of their activities of two valued members of the Staff, now members of the Board of Consultation. Dr. Charles Allen Porter, a distinguished surgeon, ably served the institution through successive grades for thirty-two years, from Out-Patient Surgeon to Chief of the West Surgical Service and finally Surgeon in Chief of the Surgical Department. Dr. George W. W. Brewster, a member of the Staff for twenty-six years, connected the generation of Warren, Porter and Richardson with the present and handed down to the latter some of the best traditions of that earlier group. The places of both these men will be difficult to fill. We note with regret the resignation after nearly thirty-two years of service of Dr. Charles J. White, Chief of the Dermatological Department, distinguished son of a distinguished father, both of whom served the Hospital long and faithfully.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

General Medical Services:

Three alumni returning to and opening offices in Boston have joined the regular Out-Patient Department Staff, Drs. James M. Faulkner, George P. Reynolds, and James H. Townsend. Dr. Eliot H. Luther holds an assistantship in the Children's Medical Department, and since his work has to do with epilepsy, and since the General Medical Service often cares for epileptics, to be more effective he is given an assistantship on the General Medical Service as well. Dr. Edward S. O'Keefe is transferred from the Children's Medical Service in order to work with Dr. Francis M. Rackemann in the Anaphylaxis Clinic. Dr. William J. Herman is continuing in the very important work of psychiatry in the general medical wards.

The Medical Department is fortunate to have four new Research Fellows: Dr. Asbjorn Folling of Oslo, Norway; Dr. Sheo Nan Cheer of the Peking Union Medical College (E.M. 1922), working with Dr. Arlie V. Bock on hemodynamics; Dr. Ray F. Farquharson, holder of a travelling fellowship from the University of Toronto, working with Dr. Joseph C. Aub on calcium metabolism; and Dr. Robert S. Palmer (W.M. 1927) working in cardiography with Dr. Paul D. White, and as Medical Residents two of our own recent graduates, Drs. Richard B. King and William T. Salter.

Of the resignations, all but those of Drs. Francis H. McCrudden and Robert W. Buck were of younger full-time men who in the natural course of their careers have moved on to other fields. Drs. McCrudden and Buck have served faithfully on the Out-Patient Department Staff; it is to be regretted that they feel they can no longer give us their time.

The changes reported in the last annual report in the Harvard Medical School fourth year course in Medicine have proved successful. The Out-Patient Department is running very well. The fourth year clerks, assigned each to one of the Staff, are a distinct help. The special clinics continue to be effective and productive. They provide a form of diagnosis and treatment the technical difficulties of which preclude their being done properly in the general clinic, as, for example, in diabetes and allergy, or advance our knowledge in a certain field by active investigation, as in cardiac, pulmonary or gastro-intestinal disease. The only physical improvement of this year is the provision of a room for a small teaching museum. Of new equipment we should take special notice of two alpine lamps, one for each medical service, the very kind gift of Mr. Charles C. Ely. These have been in constant use and very helpful. A new laboratory desk for the West Medical students' laboratory has also been given.

Research has been actively prosecuted as in the preceding year. The same groups, namely, Dr. Aub's, Dr. Bock's, Dr. Jones', Dr. Means', and Dr. White's, have been at work in many instances with new assistants. It is impossible in a brief space to give the results of these studies. Dr. Aub's team has made important contributions to the knowledge of the metabolism of calcium, showing that there is a mobile store of that element in the spongy bone, and also the accelerating effect of thyroxin and hyperthyroidism and the retarding effect of hypothyroidism on calcium exchange. In the conduct of these studies the special study ward has been invaluable. Dr. Bock's group has observed the hymodynamic differences in a group of normal subjects varying from the extremely athletic Clarence DeMar to relatively unathletic, healthy persons. They have also studied patients with anemia, acidosis, hypertension and nephritis. New light has been thrown upon the real indication for such therapeutic procedures as venesection. Dr. Lord has continued to study broncho-pulmonary, suppurative lesions. Dr. C. M. Jones is engaged in a study of the total acid and base excretion by the stomach which bids fair to yield knowledge of both theoretic and practical importance. Drs. W. O. and P. K. Thompson in the Metabolism Laboratory, have studied body fluids in relation to posture in a way to throw some light on the mechanism of edema, also the use of iodin in toxic goitre. Dr. Rackemann has analyzed 1,000 cases of asthma and reported the results.

Graduate courses have been given by Drs. Richard C.

Cabot, Frederick T. Lord, and Joseph C. Aub in general medicine and by Dr. Paul D. White in cardiology.

More money is needed for the expenses of teaching, museum, photography, charts, movies and demonstrational facilities of a variety of sorts. There should be more opportunity to study pathologic material.

Dermatological Service:

Dr. Charles J. White, Chief of the Department, resigned in the Spring of 1927 and Dr. E. Lawrence Oliver was appointed Acting Chief.

During the year the department has shown a gratifying increase in the number of patients with a total of 19,742, an increase of 2,403—nearly 15% over the preceding year.

Dr. Arthur M. Greenwood has used sodium theosulphate of gold intravenously in lupus erythematosus with very gratifying results. Dr. J. H. Swartz has discovered a new fungus disease causing a chronic paronychia almost exclusively in women. He has found this fungus in twelve patients and it is reasonable to assume that it is causative.

Neurological Service:

In October, Dr. Charles S. Kubik began his service as Neuropathologist. This is a new position in this Hospital and his appointment marks an interesting experiment. It is expected that with him close clinical and pathological correlation will be possible and that accuracy of diagnosis will be enhanced.

Dr. George C. Caner has investigated protein shock in the treatment of multiple sclerosis, and with Dr. John J. Dunphy retrobulbar optic neuritis as an early sign in multiple sclerosis. Dr. Harry C. Soloman has studied the value of sodoku in the treatment of general paresis and is carrying on investigations on ventriculography. Dr. L. Eugene Emerson is investigating some of the limits of psychotherapy, senile conditions, depression, attempted suicide and hysterical symptoms and the psychological care of some surgical cases. Dr. Henry R. Viets has investigated acute polyneuritis with facial diplegia, rabies, based on the records at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and tryparsamide. He is collecting material on encephalitis lethargica from the Out-Patient records, under a grant from the City of Boston. Dr. James B. Ayer has investigated spinal fluid in brain tumors.

There are this year two full-time post-graduate students throughout the year in the department. As part of the teaching program a Staff meeting is conducted every Thursday morning, a conference every Saturday morning, and a weekly conference with the ophthalmologists, which has proved most valuable to both services during the past two years.

A Staff room is needed to serve as a place for quiet work by Staff and students, in which may be kept personal books, reprints, camera, lantern slides, charts, etc., and where conferences may be held without interruption.

Children's Medical Service:

Dr. Bengt Hamilton has resigned to take a position at Johns Hopkins Hospital. Dr. Harold L. Higgins, formerly Associate Professor at the University of Cincinnati, has been appointed as Physician to the Children's Medical Service, taking Dr. Hamilton's place. Dr. Eliot Luther, who was for two years Resident on the Children's Service, has been appointed Assistant Physician to the Out-Patient Department. In general the policy of the department is the same as last year. Closer affiliation has been made with the Department of Pediatrics, Harvard Medical School and with the Eye and Ear Infirmary. The organization of the Children's Department has been adjusted to give closer supervision to the children in the wards of the Eye and Ear Infirmary.

During the past year investigations have been carried out, both clinically and in the laboratory, on the effect of the ketogenic diet in the treatment of epilepsy. In 33% of the cases there has been complete relief of the symptoms clinically. Further knowledge has been obtained of the effect of the diet on the general health of children. The changes in the physiology of the body have also been studied with special reference to the combination of fat and carbohydrate in the body and its effect upon the protein balance.

Before Dr. Hamilton left he finished some work on the calcium balance in the body and the effect of different chemical components upon its retention.

Studies of the basal metabolism of the endocrine disturbances have been continued as in previous years and are still in progress. Measurements of the skin temperature of normal children are still being made, and normal standards are being developed. Now studies have been begun by Dr. Higgins on intestinal bacteriology.

An urgent need of the department is a fund to supply breast milk for premature and sick infants.

Syphilis Service:

The number of patients, both old and new, have if anything increased a little beyond the year 1926. The only change in personnel during the year has been the addition to the House Staff of a Resident in the Department of Syphillis, Dr. John E. Dalton, a graduate of the Indianapolis Medical School. A new dark field illuminator has been added to the equipment of the department. The action of some of the newer forms of anti-specific remedies is being investigated, but no report can yet be made on this investigation.

SURGICAL DEPARTMENT

General Surgical Services:

In an annual report it is natural to stress new work accomplished, new facilities, and changes in personnel, since these things are perhaps chiefly in the mind of individuals closely associated with a hospital, for whom the smooth running of the institution as a whole is a matter of course. That research and teaching have a value in themselves is easy to see; it is more difficult to appreciate that they are either directly or indirectly of benefit to patients on the wards. But no one closely in touch with these activities can doubt that patients receive closer attention through teaching and better treatment through the familiarity with new methods which research engenders. Thus from the Surgical Services much has been said about various hospital activities, but very little about the actual care of the patients. This primary function of a hospital has been carried out by the Surgical Services according to the high standards established in the past.

Dr. Edward D. Churchill has taken up his duties as Tutor in Surgery after a year in Europe as Moseley Travelling Fellow, and since September has been actively occupied in organizing a laboratory and getting started in investigative work. Dr. James C. White, after completion of two years' service as Surgical Resident, is abroad on a travelling fellowship, working for the present in Leriche's Clinic in Strasbourg. He will return after a year to form part of the full-time group in surgery. The surgical laboratory has been enlarged by enclosing part of the unoccupied space on the third floor, thus providing a room for technicians, and giving Dr. Munroe A. McIver and Dr. Churchill each a laboratory.

The investigative work during the past year has been chiefly concerned with problems related to the gastro-intestinal tract. Observations have been carried out upon the blood changes following the loss of the various digestive secretions. As a part of this work Dr. McIver and Dr. White have studied the part played by changes in the intestinal circulation in deaths from intestinal obstruction, and as a result have been able to distinguish sharply two main lethal factors. The treatment of intestinal obstruction and of persistent vomiting has benefited from these researches. Dr. Churchill is carrying out experimental work on the pathological physiology of the lungs. Dr. Jacob Fine has made observations on the effect of the parathyroid extract in bone repair. Other investigations have been concerned with adrenal transplantation, and the clinical value of the sedimentation rate of the blood.

Clinical studies have been carried out on various types of surgical disease on the wards, in particular, observations of the effect of paravertebral injection of alcohol in angina pectoris by Dr. James C. White and Dr. Paul D. White, a measure which seems to promise relief of pain in these distressing cases, a statistical study of the results of surgical treatment of ulcer of the duodenum and stomach by Dr. McIver and Dr. Maurice Fremont-Smith in the Gastro-Intestinal Clinic, and a study of the effect of protein shock in circulatory disorders of the extremities by Dr. Arthur W. Allen and Dr. R. H. Smithwick, may be mentioned. A fellowship in surgery, to enable qualified individuals to give a year to investigative work after completion of their interneship would be an extremely desirable addition to the surgical services.

Fracture Service:

The Fracture Service has continued enthusiastically with its work, and has received as in the past the stimulus which comes from contact with groups in other hospitals working upon the same problem. At present this is one of the fields in which surgery is actively advancing, and the fracture group, as well as contributing to this advance, has passed it on to practitioners throughout the state. Among conditions being intensively studied by this service are the use of fascia in the repair of fractures, the treatment of fracture of the spine without paralysis, and improvement in the method of treating fractured hips.

Tumor Clinic:

The Tumor Clinic was in operation throughout the year and 2,294 visits were made by patients referred from other departments of the Hospital for consultation and treatment, an average of nearly 200 cases a month. Dr. D. Crosby Greene was absent for a part of the year on account of illness, and Dr. Leland S. McKittrick was obliged to resign on account of other duties. Dr. Edward W. Herman carried on Dr. Greene's work in the Nose and Throat Clinic. Dr. W. M. Shedden was appointed to conduct the Rectal Clinic in place of Dr. McKittrick. Dr. Francis T. Hunter was also appointed to take charge of the Medical Clinic. The treatment of practically all of the cases of breast cancer, cancer of the uterus and cancer of the mouth, tongue and lip was entrusted to the members of the Tumor Clinic Staff, and clinical data were gathered and periodic follow-up examinations were made upon these cases in preparation for later detailed reports of end-results. The close co-operation existing between the Tumor Clinic and the department of X-ray and Radium Therapy is the vital feature of this enterprise.

In co-operation with Dr. Aub and his assistants, and with the support of the Harvard Cancer Commission, assignment of four beds in the surgical research wards has been made by the Executive Committee for the investigation of the treatment of cancer by the combined use of collodial lead and X-ray.

Neuro-surgical Clinic:

As in the past, Neuro-Surgery is a special assignment. The cases of fracture of the skull and spine are handled as part of the General Surgical Services in order that the House Officers may all be familiar with this important group of cases. Non-traumatic cases are grouped as far as possible in Wards 22 and 26, are shared by the Neuro-Surgical assignment with the Neurological Department, and here these complicated cases are studied by the two departments together. The arrangement is an elastic one, as far as number of beds on each service is concerned.

One morning each week a combined visit of the Neurological Department and the assignment in Neuro-Surgery is held, which has been of great value. A weekly clinic is held in conjunction with the Neurological Department and the Eye Department of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary, and once each week patients are seen in the Out-Patient Department and in the Tumor Clinic.

These various activities, in addition to the routine care of patients and operations, have increased the efficiency of our follow-up work and have shortened the pre-operative stay of patients in the Hospital.

Thoracic Clinic:

During the year 121 patients were referred to the Thoracic Clinic from other departments of the Hospital and considered from the point of view of the internist, the surgeon and the bronchoscopist. In many instances the opinion of the combined group offered the patient more helpful advice than could have been obtained from one group alone. A correlation of physical, roentgenological, and bronchoscopic findings indicates that all these methods must be used in a selected group for the proper study of broncho-pulmonary problems. Lung mapping by lipiodol has not proved of material assistance in the diagnosis of lung abscess on account of the usual incomplete communication of the lesion with the bronchi.

There is an urgent need of a separate ward for patients with pulmonary tuberculosis in order that a larger number of selected cases may be given the benefit of extrapleural thoracoplasty.

Orthopedic Service:

Throughout the year the Orthopedic Service has continued its effort to improve the accuracy of diagnosis in the various diseases of the bones and joints.

The work established by Dr. Frank Fremont-Smith and his assistants in the Neurological Laboratory of the Hospital on the accurate study of synovial fluid has been continued, and this data is now collected as a routine hospital procedure. It has been found of great value, especially in deciding the presence of acute infectious processes within the joints. It is now felt that the estimation of sugar content in synovial fluid as compared to the plasma sugar is important in diagnosis of joint infection.

The presence in the Hospital of a competent bacteriologist has aided greatly in the accuracy of diagnosis in joint disease. In many instances it has been possible to determine the exact nature of joint infection early in the process of the disease, and in the same way it has been possible to rule out certain types of infection. These advantages joined with the accurate knowledge which can now be secured through guinea pig inoculation, serologic test, and allergic reaction have added greatly to the efficiency of diagnosis on the Orthopedic Service.

The pathologic study of tissue has also been greatly advanced by the presence of our new head of the department of pathology. The Orthopedic Service is greatly indebted to the Pathological Laboratory for its co-operation in the study of tissues removed at the time of operation from cases of arthritis.

During the year investigation has been started on the characteristic changes in the tissues which are seen in the lesions of the common types of arthritis. This work is being carried out by Drs. Nathaniel Allison and Ralph K. Ghormley, with the assistance of the DeLamar Fund of the Harvard Medical School. It is the purpose of this study to correlate the clinical evidence, the X-ray evidence, and the pathologic tissue changes seen in arthritis, so that a clearer picture will be developed of the various types of arthritis.

More funds are urgently needed for the investigative work in which the department is engaged.

Drs. Smith-Petersen and Allison are continuing their study of the re-establishment of motion in ankylosed joints. The phase of this study which requires animal experimentation has been pursued during the past year.

Most important in the improvements in the Orthopedic Service of the hospital has been the "end result" clinic which has been established by Dr. William A. Rogers. During the year this follow-up work has been carried out on one Sunday in each month. By this means it has been possible to estimate the end-results in over eighty per cent of the cases operated upon on the Service during the year 1926. It is necessary to make a very rapid turnover of patients in Ward I. Without the assistance of the Social Service Department it would not be possible for the Orthopedic Service to discharge its duty to the demands from the rapidly growing Out-Patient Department. It does not seem just to treat a patient in the Out-Patient Department until he needs hospital care, or to recognize in such a patient the demand for hospital care and not be in a position to furnish the necessary treatment. In other words, patients are now seen in the Out-Patient Department who need hospital care. Their names are placed upon a waiting list and naturally enough they seek assistance elsewhere.

The Out-Patient Department has shown a steady increase in numbers and increasing efficiency in handling the patients. This service will be more efficiently rendered in the improved quarters which are now being established.

Urological Service:

Dr. Charles E. McPartland assumed his duties as Resident Surgeon on January 1st and has served faithfully and satisfactorily. Dr. Edward L. Peirson, Jr., has been appointed as his successor for the ensuing year. Dr. Morris B. Sanders and Dr. Russell L. Splaine have been appointed to the Staff. Dr. Sanders and Dr. Oscar F. Cox have been promoted from Assistants to Assistant Urologists. Dr. Samuel Mintz has resigned from the Department in order to take up his work at the new Beth Israel Hospital Clinic. He has, however, consented to stay with us until this clinic is actually open. Two combination cystoscopy and X-ray tables for the Out-Patient Department are needed.

Roentgenological Service:

Dr. John D. Camp has resigned as Assistant Roentgenologist and has been appointed Assistant Visiting Roentgenologist. Drs. William A. Fuson and Aubrey O. Hampton have completed their term as Residents and Dr. Langdon T. Thaxter and Dr. John J. Winkler have been appointed to these positions. Mr. Francis Bishop, electrical engineer, has resigned and Mr. Oliver Merrill has been appointed to succeed him.

Many patients now report for X-ray examination before a definite diagnosis has been made. A search for the cause of the symptoms is undertaken, often requiring repeated examinations, either of the same part or of different parts. To avoid delay and unnecessary examination an attempt is being made to have the films developed and interpreted as fast as they are taken, stopping the examination when the cause for the patient's symptoms have been demonstrated or all possibilities exhausted. To carry out this plan a number of small dark rooms instead of one large one are required and fewer cases can be handled by non-medical assistants. A considerable amount of technical skill is required of the nursing, as well as of the medical staff and a large amount of teaching is necessary to insure standard work. This is especially true if the personnel is a changing one. For some time adequate arrangement has been made for the instruction of the Medical Staff, and arrangements are now being made to instruct the Nursing Staff.

Two new X-ray units have been added during the year, both of the newer type using Valve Tube Rectification instead of rotating switches. This type is easy to operate, requires little floor space and is free from noise. Two of the old examining tables have been replaced with modern tables. Two small dark rooms have been installed. Apparatus has been placed in the operating rooms of the General Hospital and of the Phillips House which is capable of doing satisfactory fluoroscopic or radiographic work, but especially designed for cases requiring pyelography. A deep therapy unit has been added to take care of the increase in the number of cases requiring irradiation with high voltage X-rays.

Investigations on the following subjects have been conducted during the year: Bone Tumors, Their Classification and Roentgen Appearance, by George W. Holmes, M.D.; A Review of Four Hundred and Fifty Roentgen-ray Examinations of the Shoulder, by George W. Holmes, M.D., and Jennings M. King, Jr.; Endothelial Myeloma (Ewing's Tumor), by Leslie K. Sycamore, B. S., and George W. Holmes, M.D.; The Roentgenological Aspects of Primary Tumors of the Lung, by Theodore L. Hyde, B.S., and George W. Holmes, M.D.

The Staff of the department conducts a weekly seminar which has been well attended and at which the clinical, operative or autopsy findings are compared with those of the X-ray.

While the amount of floor space allotted the department is sufficient, the arrangement is bad. It is impossible in the present building to remedy this to any extent. We are particularly in need of dressing rooms and additional dark room space. Other needs are more machines for portable work and the replacement of worn out apparatus.

Chemical Laboratory:

During the year a beginning was made of the study of sodium and potassium in relation to normal physiology and disease, and an electrolytic method was devised for the determination of sodium plus potassium. A series of animal experiments have been initiated to throw light on the metabolism of these substances. On account of lack of suitable methods, little work has hitherto been done in these fields.

The routine work has involved the examination of 6,737 specimens, as compared with 6,938 in 1926, the decrease being on account of the very small amount of work during the summer months. A chemical problem arising in consequence of difficulty in the preparation of a clear sodium bicarbonate solution for intravenous injection was solved. The precipitate which appeared on autoclaving was discovered to be a trace of other salts in the bicarbonate which would be harmless if in solution and which was present in even the purest samples obtainable. It precipitated on autoclaving on account of a change in pH due to loss of CO_2. The remedy was to add a buffer solution before autoclaving to prevent the change in pH.

The principal purchase of equipment was a new model Bausch and Lomb colorimeter.

Occupational Therapy:

This much appreciated department, under the direction of Miss Isabelle L. Whittier, includes two craftswomen for basketry and weaving and a needlewoman for tapestry and embroidery. A weaving machine was bought from the funds of the department and many donations especially acceptable to the children have been received.

REPORT OF THE PATHOLOGICAL LABORATORY

Sixteen months have passed since the reorganization of the Pathological Laboratory was undertaken and extensive changes have already been carried through. The technical personnel has completely changed and has been increased sufficiently to meet for the present the steadily increasing demands upon the laboratory. The chief effort during the past year has been centered upon the re-establishment of the routine work upon a thoroughly efficient basis. This requires not merely the rendering of diagnoses, but the preservation, description, and cataloguing of valuable material as a basis for future investigative work. It is hoped that very soon research will be in progress in both pathologic and bacteriologic fields, though as yet only a small start has been made. The lack of an experienced resident pathologist, of adequate cataloguing of the old autopsies and surgical material, of equipment, and of funds for experimental animals are needs which must be met, before a proper proportion of investigative work can be undertaken in the laboratory.

Dr. J. Homer Wright, former director of the laboratory, continued his connection with the Hospital throughout the year as Consulting Pathologist. The present director wishes to take this opportunity of expressing his appreciation of Dr. Wright's friendly aid and valuable counsel during this difficult period. Dr. Harry F. Hartwell has continued to supervise the surgical pathology as before. Through the assistance of the house officers, it has been possible to do more complete histologic work upon the surgical material than in previous years. The actual number of surgical specimens examined was 2,302 from the Hospital and 504 from the Phillips House, a ten per cent gain over the preceding year in each case. Histologic preparations were made in all cases, thus increasing the number of microscopic slides from 2,843 in 1926 to 4,356 in 1927.

An important step in the closer co-operation of clinical and laboratory services was signalized by the appointment on September 1, of Dr. Charles S. Kubik as Neuropathologist, thus rendering it possible for the first time to handle adequately this highly specialized type of work.

On May 1, Dr. George M. Lawson became Bacteriologist to the Hospital and the increased demands upon this branch of the laboratory work attests its value to the clinical services. This year over 5,700 cultures were reported upon, an increase of 20 per cent over 1926, and 100 per cent over 1925.

The number of autopsies performed in the Hospital during 1927 was 167 as compared with 177 in 1926. The percentage of autopsies upon cases dying in the Hospital was 33 plus compared with 35 minus in 1926. More complete histologic study of this material has resulted in the preparation of 2,300 microscopic slides in comparison with 987 in 1926. A considerable number of interesting and important gross specimens have been excellently preserved through the efforts of Dr. Harry A. Derow and should form the nucleus of a valuable teaching museum of gross pathology.

16,297 Wassermann reactions were performed upon specimens of blood, and 1692 upon spinal fluids.

The usual courses in Pathology in connection with the Harvard Medical School, and the hospital course in Medicine and Pathology given by Dr. Richard C. Cabot and Dr. Tracy B. Mallory were conducted as before. Dr. J. Homer Wright and Dr. Tracy B. Mallory conducted the fourth year course in Pathologic Histology. Dr. Harry F. Hartwell gave weekly demonstrations in pathologic anatomy to the fourth year students and continued the collection of gross surgical specimens for teaching purposes.

Respectfully submitted,

Tracy B. Mallory, M.D.

REPORT OF TREADWELL LIBRARY

STATISTICS for the year show the continuing usefulness of the Treadwell Library. The usual number of readers have consulted the reference books in the library and an increasing number have borrowed books and periodicals for outside use. There has also been a larger use of the privilege of borrowing books from other libraries.

The library has received a large number of valuable books and pamphlets from the estate of Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow. Of particular interest to the Hospital are copies of two editions of Dr. Morton's "Letheon" which have heretofore been lacking from our ether collection.

Another gift which is much appreciated is a sum of $50 which may be used for the purchase of books and pamphlets of general medical interest. This has given the opportunity to obtain some of the best of the recent medical biographies as well as older books and pamphlets of historical interest. We are much pleased at the promise of a similar gift for 1928.

We are grateful to the members of the Staff for their gifts of books and periodicals. They have been particularly generous with gifts of periodical subscriptions, which have supplied much valuable reference material.

The re-classification and other unfinished work of the library has had to be slighted because of the demands of the Record Room. The latter has been heavily handicapped by the unusual number of changes in the personnel and also by the cramped conditions under which the staff has had to work. With the change which is coming soon it has seemed necessary to make the best temporary adjustments that we could, but it has taken time and patience to complete the necessary work. We are grateful to the record borrowers for their forbearance in the unavoidable delays.

Statistics for the library and the record room follow:

REPORT OF THE WARREN LIBRARY

The Warren Library has continued its work with the patients and personnel of the Hospital as in former years. The activity of our department can not be measured in figures alone, for it is the personal service that constitutes our main effort, considering as far as possible individuals and personalities.

Our collection of books is slowly growing and becoming alive and useful. The foreign collection now includes works in eighteen languages with a total of 353 books and three daily foreign newspapers—Armenian, Italian, Yiddish. Through the generosity of members of the Ladies' Visiting Committee twenty subscriptions to popular magazines have been given to the library.

The Phillips House Circulating Library has continued to be of service to the patients, a total of 1,737 books being issued during 1927. We hope during the coming year to increase the use of the library by instituting individual bedside service to all patients who express the desire to receive books.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the Committee on Libraries, The Ladies' Visiting Committee, and friends of the Library for their numerous gifts of books, magazines, playing cards, games and puzzles.

The statistics given below is a record of books issued to patients by the librarian. It is impossible to keep an accurate account of the number of books issued to patients as the books are passed from bed to bed and in this way read many times not recorded in the daily circulation.

Statistics for the year follow:

	Increase
Number of volumes at beginning of year.....	3,656
Number of volumes added during year.....	490
Number of volumes withdrawn during year...	239
Total number of volumes at end of the year	3,907

Librarian of Warren Library.

REPORT OF THE SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

A FIVE year report of the Department (1922-26) was published and distributed this year, thus completing the publication of special reports for the twenty-one years of the Department's existence.

We have to register for the year 1927, the following activities and accomplishments:

In the Out-Patient Department we have completed eighteen months experience with a plan of rotation of the Staff members of the General Department in part-time service in the special clinics, which has relieved pressure in the Orthopedic, Neurological and the other special clinics and given the Staff workers a greater variety of experience.

This year completes two years of co-operation with the Orthopedic Service on a very satisfactory scheme of Follow-up of the Ward I patients, the method of which is described by Miss Lewis in our five years report.

For better correlation of surgical and social service we have this year arranged that social service for the Urological patients in the ward shall be carried by the Out-Patient Social Service Staff since the Urological Service is continuous out-patient and wards.

Through the generosity of the Committee of the Permanent Charity Fund, Inc., we were able in October to assign another worker to the surgical wards, thus dividing our service, East and West to correlate with the Surgical Services. This has made it possible for us to respond to the repeated urgent requests of the surgeons interested in the fracture patients, that we should help keep the fracture patients under more consistent treatments to assure good end-results. A plan of medical social co-operation has been evolved and beginning January 1st, 1928, all fractures will be followed by the Social Service as well as the Fracture Service.

An Anonymous Donor, who has made special grants in previous years, gave us $500 this year for bettering our recording. Special clerical service was secured, and Miss Wulkop evolved an improved and more orderly method of recording, which is now adopted consistently for the House Social Service records, and is a definite step in progress.

A special library for the Social Service Department has taken new impetus this year through the generosity and interest of Mrs. Fritz B. Talbot, who has contributed books, and through the purchase of books from the income of the sale of Miss Wulkop's book, "The Social Worker in the Hospital Ward."

Early in the year the office of the Chief of Social Service was moved from the basement of the Bulfinch Building to the Moseley Administration Building.

The Department has been actively participating in two community studies this year: one on "The relation of hospital social service and public health nursing" under a joint committee fostered by the Community Health Association and a group of hospital social workers; and "A Study of chronic disease" under the auspices of the Council of Social Agencies. These studies will be completed and published early in the year 1928.

The statistics concerning bulk and distribution of patients referred to the Department during 1927 are as follows:

PATIENTS REFERRED TO SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT
1927

	Total Patients referred to Dept. 1927	Cases Receiving Medical-Social Study and Treatment				Cases Receiving Social Review and Judgment before Disposition
General Department, including Medical, Surgical, Urological and Special Clinics	2,209	122	255	85	462	1,869
Children's Medical	1,978	73	90	33	196	1,855
South Medical	623	6	0	0	6	623
Orthopedic Clinic	668	59	74	10	143	584
Infantile Paralysis Clinic	238	35	22	12	69	204
Neurological Clinic	814	21	86	23	130	705
Totals, Clinics	6,530	316	527	163	1,006	5,840
Medical and Surgical Wards	1,498	68	271	62	401	1,165
Totals	8,028	384	798	225	1,407	7,005

This shows an increase of 1,381 patients over last year. There has been a decrease of 45 cases for which social records were made, the remaining 1,336 cases being carried with the day sheet record only. We are not convinced that the necessity for this type of recording, due largely to pressure and shortage of clerical service, is a good thing. The figures, however, show the increased use of the Department by the Medical Staff.

Ida M. Cannon,
Chief of Social Service.

DIETARY DEPARTMENT

The Department consists of a Main Kitchen from which approximately 1,000 people are fed per day, Special Diet Kitchen from which 87 to 100 diets are prepared, and a Metabolism Ward for research diets. There are three Assistant Dietitians. A six months post-graduate course in Hospital Dietetics is given. The teaching of nurses is done by the special Diet Assistant who has a well equipped laboratory used only for this purpose.

INCLUDED IN THE DEPARTMENT ARE

Phillips House

M. Frances Andrews, Dietitian
One assistant dietitian

North End Diet Kitchen—Out-Patient Department.

Gertrude Spitz, A.B.M.S.

Here the ambulatory patients for special diet treatment are seen and given instruction. Approximately 6,000 patients were treated this year.

ROSINA VANCE, B.S.,
Supervising Dietitian.

WARREN TRIENNIAL PRIZE
MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL

THE Warren Triennial Prize was founded by the late Dr. J. Mason Warren in memory of his father, and his will provides that the accumulated interest of the fund shall be awarded every three years to the best dissertation, considered worthy of a premium, on some subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathological Anatomy, the arbitrators being the General Executive Committee of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Theses submitted for competition for the year 1928 shall be on some special subject in Physiology, Surgery, or Pathology.

Dissertations must be in either the English, French, or German language, and MUST BE TYPEWRITTEN AND SUITABLY BOUND, so as to be easily handled. Work that has been published previously will not be considered in competition. The name of the writer must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, on which must be written a motto corresponding with one on the accompanying dissertation. The names of collaborators should appear with that of the writer in the sealed envelope.

Any clew given by the paper, or any action on the part of the writer which reveals his name before the award of the prize, will disqualify him from receiving it.

The amount of the prize for the year 1928 will be $500.

In case no dissertation is considered sufficiently meritorious, no award will be made. Essays will be received until November 15, 1928.

A high value will be placed on original work.

FREDERIC A. WASHBURN, M.D.,
Director.

DALTON SCHOLARSHIPS

THE income of this fund, amounting to $1,000 annually, is devoted to investigation in the science of medicine. The rules of the Trustees applicable to it are as follows:

ARTICLE 1. Candidates shall be nominated to the Board of Trustees by the General Executive Committee with their recommendations. They shall be either internes of the General Hospital or male graduates of a regular American Medical College.

ARTICLE 2. The nature of the work in medical investigation proposed to be prosecuted by each candidate shall be designated by the candidate.

ARTICLE 3. The Scholarship year shall begin September 15. Scholars shall work not less than ten hours per week, from the last Wednesday in September to the last Wednesday in June; and if a scholar performs a part only of this prescribed work, he shall be entitled to a proportionate part only of the income.

ARTICLE 4. The results of work of scholars shall appertain to the Hospital, and when made public the name of the scholar shall accompany the publication, but no publication shall be made unless approved by the General Executive Committee.

ARTICLE 5. When the income is insufficient, appointments for the year may be omitted.

ARTICLE 6. Any income not used shall be cumulative and not added to the principal.

ARTICLE 7. Scholars shall be eligible for renomination and reappointment.

Further information may be had by applying to the Director of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

RULES FOR ADMISSION, ETC.

THE Massachusetts General Hospital is a private institution supported solely by voluntary contributions and the receipts from those patients who pay board.

Only those unable to pay doctors' fees will be admitted.

Emergencies and recent accidents admitted at all hours.

Applications for admission of patients should be made at the Moseley Memorial Building, Fruit Street, at North Grove Street, Boston, on week days between the hours of 9 A.M. and 3 P.M.

Applications from a distance should be made in writing, accompanied by a full description of the case by the attending physician, with his reason for requesting admission; and when a free bed is needed, by a statement of the pecuniary condition of the patient. Always wait for a reply before sending the patient.

Arrangements can be made by telephone for emergency cases or recent accidents, but for these only.

Contagious cases are not admitted to the Hospital, and only such chronic cases as can be partially relieved by temporary treatment.

The regular rate of board to paying patients in all rooms is $40 per week. In the general wards the rate of board to paying patients is $22 per week. There is a surgical dressing fee of $10 to surgical paying patients, and a laboratory fee of $5 to medical paying patients. Payment should be made weekly in advance. The surgical dressing fee and the laboratory fee should be paid on admission. The lowest rate of board for patients living outside the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is $22 per week in the open wards.

Patients may be discharged between 9 A.M. and 4.30 P.M. on week days; on Sundays from 12 noon to 4 P.M.

The Out-Patient Department is for the poor only and is open from 8.30 to 10 in the morning, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The ambulance will be sent for suitable cases within a radius of twenty miles, if arrangements are made with the Admitting Physician.

Phillips House. All inquiries concerning the admission of private patients should be made to the Director, Massachusetts General Hospital.

There is a separate entrance for this department at 265 Charles Street. Telephone service is also separate. All inquiries for private patients should be made through "Haymarket 4490," and not through the regular Hospital exchange.

Ambulance service is provided.

The private ward is for the treatment of general medical and surgical diseases and obstetrical cases. Contagious diseases, cases of alcoholism and drug habit are not admitted.

Patients in the Phillips House may be attended only by members of the Staff and alumni of the Hospital.

THE ONE HUNDRED AND TENTH REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF THE McLEAN HOSPITAL

To the Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital:

The following report of the McLean Hospital for the year 1927, is respectfully submitted:

One hundred and fifteen patients were admitted, 118 were discharged and 221 (including 2 on a visit) remained in the Hospital at the end of the calendar year. The total number under treatment was 339. Of the patients discharged, 43 or 36.4 per cent, were recorded as recovered.

Of the 115 admissions, 9 were voluntary and 6 others became so by signing voluntary applications to remain under care and treatment at the expiration of the legal period of temporary care and observation. Of the 15 voluntary patients, 9 were discharged while on the voluntary basis, 2 were committed because they were no longer proper cases to remain as voluntary patients. There remained on this basis at the end of the year 12 patients, 7 men and 5 women.

During the year 64 patients were admitted for temporary care (Section 79, Chapter 123, General Laws). Of these, 8 made voluntary applications to remain at the Hospital, 1 was discharged within the ten days' period of observation, 1 was committed as a thirty-five day observation case and was discharged at the end of that period, 1 was committed as an inebriate, 51 were regularly committed to the Hospital and 2 remained on this basis at the end of the year.

Seven patients were admitted as thirty-five day observation commitments (Section 24, Chapter 123, General Laws). One was discharged within the period of observation, 1 made voluntary application to remain in the Hospital for further care and treatment, 4 were regularly committed to the Hospital and 1 remained on this basis at the end of the year.

One patient, who was received on an emergency commitment, was committed for observation of thirty-five days, at the termination of which she was regularly committed.

Of the 115 patients admitted 30 came from other hospitals in Massachusetts, including 18 from the Boston Psychopathic Hospital, and 6 from hospitals outside of this Commonwealth. The statistical tables appearing later in this report are for the year ending September 30, and are in the form suggested by the American Psychiatric Association and adopted by the Massachusetts Department of Mental Diseases. Forms 1 and 2 are not required of private hospitals and therefore are omitted.

During the year, 9,225 days' care and treatment were given patients free of charge; and in addition, 13,834 days' care and treatment were given for less than cost. The cost is figured merely on the running expenses of the Hospital.

As usual, physiotherapy has held an important place among the various forms of treatment, including as it does physical culture exercises, hydrotherapy, sun baths and exercises with the Zander machines. The number of medical baths given was 7,397 and Zander treatments numbered 7,729. A Hanovia Quartz lamp has been added to the therapeutic equipment and it is hoped that its use will prove beneficial. Metabolism work is being done on patients treated, the results of which are not yet available.

Occupational work has been continued as in the past and much has been accomplished in both the men's and women's departments. In the former, 55 different patients were employed with an average daily attendance of 21. The list of articles made by the men includes: 362 baskets, 12 tables, 9 model yachts and 500 other miscellaneous articles, including many pieces of pottery and various kinds of toys. They also framed 60 pictures, repaired 135 chairs, refinished the bowling alley, rebound 107 books and printed 150,650 miscellaneous blanks and other matter. Considerable interest was developed among the men patients in racing, on a nearby pond, some of the model yachts built by them. In the women's department, weaving, rug making, knitting, needlework, pottery and basketry have been the most interesting forms of occupation and 2,007 articles were made. There were 97 different patients employed during the year and the average daily attendance was 31.

Out-of-door recreations, such as baseball, golf, tennis, croquet, gardening, walks, rides, coasting, skating and skiing have been enjoyed by many patients in season. Other recreations have included dances, moving picture exhibitions and parties on various occasions, besides many indoor and parlor games, in which the patients are helped and encouraged by the nurses to take part.

The Sunday services, conducted by the Chaplain, Reverend George J. Prescott, have been held as usual during the year.

The library has continued to be a source of great interest and a valuable asset to the Hospital, the recorded circulation for the year being 8,314 volumes. The general library now contains 10,564 volumes, 177 having been added during the year.

The medical library now numbers 7,152 volumes. One hundred and eighty volumes were added during the year.

There were 24 books added to the Training School library, making a total of 243 volumes now in this library.

The Hospital subscribed for 63 weekly and monthly periodicals for the general library, 70 medical periodicals and 8 special periodicals for the School of Nursing.

The two cottages for single patients, the Ledge Cottage and the North Cottage, were finished in February. The North Cottage has been occupied since March and the Ledge Cottage since April.

The routine work of the Hospital has been carried on very satisfactorily and the scientific work, although making no spectacular progress, has on the whole been gratifying. The slowness of the progress, both in the Chemical and Psychological departments, is due to the fact that so many foundations have to be built before a superstructure becomes apparent. In addition to the Staff conferences, held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, weekly seminars have been held on Wednesday evenings at which scientific papers have been presented and discussed, not only on the work done at the Hospital but on various subjects covered by the field of psychiatry.

During 1926, much time was given in the Psychological laboratory to the study of constitutional psychological factors in functional psychoses and a paper relating to their significance in Manic-depressive cases was published. This year the subject has been continued with special attention to their relation to Dementia Praecox and a paper on this subject, soon to be published, has been read during the last year before the Psychological Colloquium of Harvard University and the Boston Society of Psychiatry and Neurology. In connection with this study Dr. Helge Lundholm, our Assistant in Pathological Psychiatry, has carried on experimental investigations, in the Department of Abnormal Psychology of Harvard University, concerning the nature of dissociation induced by hypnosis in normal subjects. Here, probably for the first time, a conditioned response method has been applied to this kind of work. A preliminary report of these experiments is ready for presentation under the title of "Conditioned Responses by Various Anesthesias Artifically Induced by Hypnosis." It is expected that this work will be continued during the coming year. Another piece of work recently begun and to be continued is in relation to the problem of the psychopath. A short paper already has been read, referring various features of psychopathic inferiority to the improper balance of fundamental, possibly constitutional, personality traits, particularly the traits of disposition, temper and temperament as defined by Professor William McDougall.

The work of the Psychologist is gradually adding to our knowledge and understanding of mental diseases, both with reference to diagnoses and therapeutics, and apart from his research work he is more and more giving valuable assistance to the Clinical department by his careful analytical study of special cases.

In the Chemical laboratory the carbohydrate metabolism continues to receive the principal attention. A procedure has been devised for estimating the concentration, in the blood, of a substance (or substances) of very strong reducing power. The chemical nature of this substance is not yet certain, but it appears to be related to glucose, at least physiologically if not chemically. By continuing this line of study we hope to gain a better understanding of the peculiarities of glucose metabolism frequently observed in our patients. Since one of the important de-toxicating agents in the body (glycuronic acid) is also closely related to glucose, there is some hope that the present study may throw light on the chemical factors in resistance to toxins, drugs and fatigue.

In connection with the therapeutic use of ultra-violet light, laboratory observations are being made to determine what effect, if any, this treatment may have in increasing abnormally low basal metabolic rates.

The work in the Chemical laboratory calls for much routine procedure and our inability to obtain an assistant for Dr. Whitehorn during the last year has interfered somewhat with the progress of the work. I am glad to say that recently an assistant has been found, who will begin work shortly after the new year.

Papers were presented during the year as follows:

"An Attempt to Analyze the Subjective Reality-sphere of the Schizophrenic and a Criticism of the 'Logic-tight Compartment' Theory"—Dr Helge Lundholm. (Read at the Psychological Colloquium of Harvard University, November 30, 1927, and at the meeting of the Boston Society of Psychiatry and Neurology, December 15, 1927. To be published.)

"A Report of a Case of Toxic Psychosis"—Dr. Ray L. Whitney. (Read at the meeting of the Boston Society of Psychiatry and Neurology, February 17, 1927.)

Publications for the year were as follows:

"Concerning Chloride Determinations by the Modified Volhard Titration"—Dr. John C. Whitehorn. ("The Journal of Biological Chemistry," August, 1927.)

Changes in the Hospital Staff during the year were as follows: Dr. Frank J. Fleming and Dr. Thomas H. Pargen entered the service as Junior Assistant Physicians on January 1, and Dr. Pargen left on December 31. Mr. Frank C. d'Elseaux, Student Assistant, left the service on June 18, and his place was filled, during the summer months, by Mr. J. George Dillane. Mr. Adolph W. Eckstein entered the service as Student Assistant on September 1. On December 24, Dr. James E. Mayne was appointed Junior Assistant Physician and is expected to begin his service on January 1, 1928.

The Hospital entertained the Nurses' Alumni Association on June 9, at the time of its annual meeting, when 200 members were present.

The School of Nursing, under the direction of the Superintendent of Nurses, Miss R. Helen Cleland, has had a satisfactory year, as her report, which is appended, indicates.

Besides the maintenance expenses involved in ordinary repairs, painting, refurnishing, etc., $47,586.63 was expended for new construction and for what may be called unusual expenditures. This sum includes $31,716.45 for new buildings, $2,896.23 for repairs to buildings, $235 for renewal of a water tank in the power house, $1,780 for fire-proofing that portion of the stable used as a garage, $1,565 for renewal of brass water pipes and fixtures, $2,244.44 for reinstallation of the night registering system and $7,149.51 for a new high pressure water main, necessary for proper fire protection, the total cost of which will be about $9,000.

During the coming year it will be necessary to install a new economizer in the power house, the cost of which will approximate $10,000. The two gymnasium buildings and some of the shops will have to be reshingled and this will cost about $7,700. A new electric light and telephone cable will have to be laid from the Bowditch House to the Arlington House, stable, farm, and two cottages occupied by physicians, the estimated cost of which is $2,191.50. A new heating apparatus must be installed at the farm and will cost $355. It also will be necessary to replace a considerable number of rugs, carpets and pieces of furniture, which probably will cost about $4,000. The recent increase in salaries for nurses and other employees will add about $10,000 to the pay roll the coming year.

The market values of commodities with which the farm has supplied the Hospital were: milk $17,603.91; beef and pork products, $11,093.43; vegetables, $2,068.48; fruit, $2,134.33. For these and a considerable amount of general work credited to it in the way of hauling coal, road building, etc., it has a credit balance of $5,154.88. To this should be added a credit of about $12,000 for water and $1,758.62 for work in the greenhouse and flower gardens, making a total farm credit of $18,913.50.

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the following:

The Trustees of the Sarah C. M. Lovering Fund for $1,608.74 expended as follows:

New kiln room	$227.24
Plants and bulbs	369.53
Tuning and repairing pianos	161.25
Fireworks, Fourth of July	75.00
Hanovia Quartz lamp	304.69
Books and prints	82.40
Christmas decorations	67.77
Athletic and recreational supplies	320.86

Mr. Charles T. Dorrance for $500 for the McLean Hospital Fund for Scientific Research.

The New England Trust Company, Executor of the will of Elizabeth Loring Grant, for $4,101.37 to be used at the discretion of the Trustees of the Hospital.

Miss Elizabeth L. Bond for books and music for the general library and for candy at Christmas.

Miss Eleanor Bigelow for gifts at Christmas.

Mrs. Ephraim Emerton for picture for the Wyman House.

Mr. George W. Wilson for books for the general library.

Mr. Hugh Harting for book for the general library.

Mr. George Brown for book for the the general library.

Mrs. Herbert E. Yerxa for magazines for the wards.

I wish to commend my assistants for the excellent service rendered during the period of my leave of absence and in conclusion to thank the members of the McLean Committee for their helpful advice, also to express my appreciation for the support given me by the Board of Trustees.

Frederic H. Packard,
Medical Superintendent.

FORTY-FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE McLEAN HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING

To the Medical Superintendent of McLean Hospital:

The following report of the McLean Hospital School of Nursing is respectfully submitted:

The School of Nursing, with the completion of the forty-six years of its existence, has a roll of graduates numbering 1,086 names, 698 women and 388 men. Of the 949 graduates who now are living, 306 women and 124 men are still engaged in the profession of nursing.

Few changes were made in the nursing department during the year. April 1st, Miss Amy M. Blakeney, Class of 1926, was appointed Night Supervisor of the Women's department and Miss Kathleen V. Sanford, Class of 1926, as her assistant. October 18th, Miss Hope E. Munro, Class of 1927, was appointed to fill the position when Miss Sanford resigned as Assistant Night Supervisor.

I regret to report the death of Mr. Everett E. Dowling on November 17, 1927, a graduate of the Class of 1906. He had been connected with the Hospital for several years since his graduation, rendered excellent service and was much respected.

During the year 51 students were accepted for the class of 1930, 32 women and 19 men. Thirty-two student nurses from other schools have taken our affiliated course and two nurses have taken a post-graduate course here. These students came from the schools of the following hospitals: Massachusetts General, Peter Bent Brigham, Springfield, Cooley Dickinson and St. Luke's, New Bedford.

At the end of the year there were 74 graduate nurses, 54 women and 20 men, in the service of the Hospital. Five of the women graduate nurses were on duty in the men's department. There were also 107 student nurses in the School, including 17 affiliating students, 78 women and 29 men. Of these student nurses, 24 women and 7 men were away taking their affiliated courses in general hospital schools.

Our affiliations during the year have been with the schools of the Massachusetts General Hospital and the New England Hospital for Women and Children in Boston, Springfield Hospital and Wesson Maternity Hospital in Springfield, St. Luke's Hospital in New Bedford and the Bellevue Hospital in New York City.

There is an increasing interest and appreciation of the general nurses' need of a knowledge of mental nursing. More and more general schools are seeking information as to what arrangements can be made with our School for affiliations for their students.

I am glad to say that we have been very fortunate in not having any serious illness among our nurses during the year.

The graduating exercises of the Class of 1927 were held on the evening of May 25th, in the Samuel Eliot Memorial Chapel. Twenty-six students, 21 women and 5 men, were graduated. The address was given by Dr. Samuel M. Crothers and the diplomas were presented by Mr. George Wigglesworth, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. The Wetherill Awards were presented by Dr. E. Stanley Abbot to Dorothy M. Rhodenizer and A. W. David Dowling. The exercises were followed by a reception and dance in the Administration Building. About 480 guests were present.

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the Class of 1927 for a silver tea service for the tea wagon, which it presented to the School to be used in the nurses' home.

On January 27th, the Nurses' Alumni Association held its midwinter meeting at the Hospital. After the business meeting refreshments were served, followed by a dance, which was much enjoyed. On June 9th, the Hospital entertained the Association at the time of its annual meeting. Two hundred members were present on this occasion.

The social activities during the year have been many and varied. January 29th, the Class of 1929 entertained the members of their class who were going out to affiliate. January 31st, a basket-ball game between the Massachusetts General Hospital students and the McLean Hospital students was much enjoyed. February 16th, a valentine party and dance was given by the Hospital to the nurses, 175 being present. On April 15th, the Junior Class gave a party at the Higginson House and on May 4th, the Senior Class entertained the Juniors. The Senior Class dance was held on May 6th, at the Higginson House. The Affiliating Students entertained the patients and nurses with a minstrel show on April 27th, and again on December 5th, both of which were much enjoyed. On Halloween the Senior Class gave a party in honor of the Affiliating and Preliminary Students. Many hikes and skating parties were enjoyed during the winter.

On Christmas Eve a group of thirty-five nurses visited the different buildings and sang carols for the patients, following which all the nurses gathered at the Higginson House for refreshments and a Christmas celebration. A tree, well loaded with gifts, was in charge of Santa Claus, who made the party a merry one for all.

I wish to thank the officers of the McLean Hospital, the officers of the affiliating schools, my co-workers and all others who have so faithfully helped in maintaining the high standards of our School, and for the kind care and interest in our nurses.

R. Helen Cleland, R. N.,
Superintendent of Nurses,
Principal School of Nursing.

McLEAN HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING WAVERLEY, MASS., 1882–1927

The Trustees of the Massachusetts General Hospital Corporation established a school for the instruction of nurses at the McLean Hospital in 1882. It was the first school established in this country for the training of nurses in mental nursing. Special training offered in a psychiatric hospital is becoming more and more insisted upon as a part of the equipment of every well-trained nurse.

The School gives to men and women a three years' course of training in general nursing, with special reference to the care of patients suffering from nervous and mental diseases. At the end of the junior year the women student nurses spend fourteen months of the three years' course in affiliating schools, where they receive practical experience in the nursing of medical and surgical cases, experience in the operating room, obstetrics and pediatrics, in addition to further academic instruction in these subjects. The men student nurses spend twelve months of the three years' course in affiliating schools, where they receive practical experience in the nursing of medical, surgical and genito-urinary diseases and operating room experience, in addition to further academic instruction in these subjects. On the successful completion of the course, a diploma is granted.

The School is accredited by the Massachusetts Board of Registration of Nurses and the New York State Department of Education. Graduates also are eligible for service in the United States Army and Navy and with the Red Cross.

Nursing the mentally sick is of such a character that it requires the student nurse to have a good preliminary education. It also demands a high grade of self-discipline and devotion to service. No other field offers a broader scope for real nursing skill and accomplishment in the alleviation of human suffering, and none affords better opportunities for material success and advancement.

Applicants for admission to the School may be accepted between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five. They must be of good moral character and good health, and preferably shall have had four years of high school education. Two years of high school education is necessary.

Student nurses, in addition to maintenance and laundry, are granted an allowance of $30 a month during the period of training at this Hospital. During the year spent in affiliating schools the allowance will be $15 a month and maintenance. Upon graduation a salary of $80 a month and maintenance is paid to those who remain in the service. The allowance should be viewed as a scholarship, which makes it possible for the young man or woman of limited means to prepare for a nursing career and should not be considered as compensation for service.

There is for student nurses a preliminary or probation period of four months, during which time they are not on full-time duty, but receive the regular money allowance. This period is included as a part of the three years' course of training. Upon the completion of the preliminary period student nurses are placed on regular eight-hour ward duty. Throughout the year student nurses are allowed two half days off duty each week, and are given two weeks' vacation each year. There also is an allowance of two weeks in case of sickness. Students are on night duty not longer than two consecutive months.

Women student nurses, on arrival, must be prepared to purchase three "Dix Make" plain blue chambray dresses at a cost of $4.50 each. Aprons, collars, cuffs, etc., are provided by the Hospital at cost. At the completion of the probationary period the student is allowed to wear the student nurses' uniform, which is provided by the Hospital at cost. In addition to an adequate supply of the usual undergarments, which should be marked with the name in full, the student should come provided with the following: 2 pairs of black shoes with low rubber heels, 1 small laundry bag, a napkin ring, a watch with a second hand and a fountain pen. These same requirements apply to the men students, except that they are not required to wear a special uniform, but are expected to wear a plain dark business suit. Students must also provide their own textbooks, which are furnished by the Hospital at cost.

Regular courses of instruction begin on September 15 and February 1, but applications are considered at any time. Students are admitted on January 1 and September 1. It is a distinct advantage for students to be in the Hospital for a short period before the formal opening of classes.

Application blanks for admission to the School are furnished upon request to the Superintendent of Nurses, McLean Hospital, Waverley, Massachusetts.

AFFILIATED COURSE

(For both men and women students)

The School offers a four months' course to third-year students of accredited training schools for nurses. The special training offered in a psychiatric hospital is becoming more and more insisted upon as a part of the equipment of every nurse. Whether in private work, or in the industrial, public health, or administrative fields, the nurse may at any time have to meet situations calling for particular skill in the care of nervous and mental disturbances. The object of this course is to qualify the general hospital nurse to meet such requirements. Students are given ward experience in the management of a wide range of mental cases, and courses of instruction leading to intelligent understanding of their care. The course in mental and nervous diseases consists of lectures, demonstrations and practical work in the observation and measurement of mental functions. The chief problems and methods of mental hygiene are discussed. Anatomy, physiology and pathology of the nervous system are covered in lectures and demonstrations. Demonstrations and practice are given in the use of occupational therapy, hydrotherapy and massage.

Affiliated students must conform to the rules of the School and will wear the uniform of their own school.

At the end of the course a class record is furnished the superintendent of the affiliating school. A certificate is granted upon the satisfactory completion of the four months' course.

Courses begin in October and February.

Superintendents of training schools desiring to arrange for their students to take this course should communicate with the Superintendent of Nurses, McLean Hospital, Waverley, Massachusetts.

Italics followed by figures indicate service and date of graduation from Hospital as a house officer. Initial letters followed by figures, the whole enclosed in parentheses, indicate that such alumnus is now on active service on the Hospital Staff; e.g. (E.M. 1910). Otherwise, the individual is not an M.G.H. alumnus.

Addresses are in Boston unless stated to be elsewhere; and are in Massachusetts when no State is indicated. It will be noticed that the number precedes the name of a street, but follows the name of a building.

Names of places are abbreviated as follows: Aub.=Auburndale; Brkln.=Brookline; Cmb.=Cambridge; Chsn.=Charlestown; Dor.=Dorchester; Jam. Pl.=Jamaica Plain; Medfd.=Medford; N. Y. preceded by street address=New York City; Rox.=Roxbury; Som.=Somerville; Wlthm.=Waltham.
